THE CHRISTIAN.

WHEN we contemplate the prevalence of vice and depravity, we are oftentimes in-duced to believe the offenders to be undeferving of compassion, and scatted: worthy of a thought in the minds of their more pious neighbours. Without reflecting that we also are born in fin, and that all have not had an are do opportunity per taps, of learning what is good, we are thocked at the light of guilt, and discard from our bosoms every feeling of pity and mercy, for our fallen fellow creature. This arifes, in a great measure, from the high opinion we entertain of ourfelves; we magnify our own good qualities, while we view the imperfections of our neighbour with hor-ror and difgust. "Indeed to vain a creature is man, that there is scarcely any quality, however infignificant, that will not help to raife him in his own conceit; while there are scarcely any virtues so transcendant and estimable, that will secure his neighbour from becoming the object of his halty censures." We should imprels upon our minds this ferious and important truth, that the want of pious parents; the neglect of religious inillruction in the early periods of life, and the force of bad example, are more usual causes of deprayity than innate dispusition to vice

When we witness the failings of our species, we should recall to our minds the many examples of our bieffed Lord, who in his intercourfe and convertation among men, was more remarkable for the most indulgent charity, to those who had fallen, than perhaps, for any one quality whatever.

He commands us to judge not that we may not be judged, for it belongs only to the Son of God to sit upon the judgment seat and dispense judgment. It is not for man, frail manto condemn his brother, for Cunist died for a And a repentant finner gives more joy Heaven than ninety and nine

It Christian charity was mixed with all our actions, it would foften the affairs of life and sweeten our intercourse with the world. It would encircle its possessor with the rays of mercy and goodness, and make the human heart the residence of peace and good will towards men. What can be more delightful to a juft man than the fatisfaction which he feel in discovering the virtues of bis neighbour, and what more acceptable to his God than his ardent hope that his vices are not incurable !- Such a disposition will feel a cheerfulness which the uncharitable can never enjoy, and fuch a man will have a moni tor within him, that will speak to his soul in the sweetest accents, that he is treading in that path which was shown him by our Lord felves above thise to whom these things may yet be hidden, unless we are conscious of some real improvement in our lives, corres ponding to the faith which we have attained On the contrary, let us rather confess, with Lumillation, how little influence our faith has upon our lives; and instead of being ready to condemn thate who differ in belief from ourselves, let us rather fear, that, at the great day of reckoning, we may be found to have believed more and yet to have per-

On the Petition of Henry Hodges.

In Chancery,

October 3, 1811. THE object of the petition filed in the 1 cause is to have a decree for a sale of the real estate of Joshua Powell, the personal estate being insufficient to pay his debts. The bill states, that the said Joshua Powell is dead, leaving no known heirs or devisees capable in law of taking said estate. It is thereupon adjudged and or-dered, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette three weeks before the first day of December next, give notice of the object of this petition, that any person interested may appear in this court in person or by a solicitor of this court, or or before the first Monday of March, 1812, to shew cause, (if any there be,) why a decree should not pass as prayed.

PAUL'S DOMESTIC INFALLIBLE COLUMBIAN OIL.

THE inventor of this highly esteemed medicine is a native of America, and the composition I is a native of America, and the composition is the preduction of American soil, consequently it is in every sense of the word domestic, it is not pulled up with a numerous train of pompous foreign certificates of persons from whom by the great distance that separates us it is impossible to obtain information, therefore the public has better security for their money as there cannot be the least shadow of deception to cover his medicine, for he simply appears before the community er security for their money 23 there Cannot et eleast shadow of deception to over his medicine, for he simply appears before the community with his invention and an experimental detail of the various cases in which it really is solwonderfully efficacious, and in which he is supported by the following certificates of respectable charafters, whose names are not only subscribed, but their persons may be also consulted, being residents within the circle of our own neighbourhood. The following are the complaints in which the Columbian Oil has been found so efficacious and rarely ever fails of effecting a cure, viz: Rheumatism, Consumption, Pains in any parts of the body, but perticularly in the back and breast, Colds and Coughs, Toothach, Pleurisies, Cholic, Cramps, External and Internal Bruises. Sprains and Flesh Wounds, Scalds and Burns, Whooping Cough & Mumps, and Dysentary or Bloody Flux, Croup and the summer complaint in children, and in a weak stomach that is caused by indigestion, a constant sinking and loss of appetite, it will add as a powerful bracer to the relaxed fibre and restore it to its proper tone.

it to its proper tone.

It seems also as if nature had ranked it the firs It seems also as if nature had ranked it the first of the class of all perforais and expectorals for the relief of the breast and lungs, as it scarce ever fails of removing obstractions in either, particularly those who are trocked with lithistick or Asthmatic complaints who in the aft of walking fast, stooping or lying down, are almost subocated, half a tea-positio of the Colambian O.I will render some relief instantaneously, and if continued agreeable to the directions in such cases, will prove a radical cure by producing the full power of inflation to the lungs and free expansion to the breast.

CERTIFICATES OF ITS EFFICACY. No. 1.

I do certify, that I have been alling heady two years with a heche cough and violent impression at the breast—I applied to the most eminent phy sicians and could get no relief from my low state of health, until I got Paul's Columbian Oil, and found immediate relief. I take this method of in found immediate relief, it also this method of in forming the public of the efficacy of this valuable nedicine, from the cures which I have experienced—I think It att incumbent duty to effer the same to the public.
