REPORT Of the Committee appointed to inquire into the causes and extent of the late commotions in Baltimore.

My dear Sir— I have nothing but bad news to give you from this quarter as to our plan. John H. Thomas I have seen, and he expresses much regret at being obliged to go to Virginia to-morrow or next day with his wife, who he says is very sick.

I consider myself to have been engaged to incur risk in the battle only, and nothing beyond this. I consider you to be acting with the same purpose, and therefore hope you will take the advice of Harper, and of those men in whom you most confide.

With respect, &c. &c. Your obedient servant, A TANEY. Frederick-Town, July 24.

Frederick-Town, July 24, 1812. Sir—It was my intention to have done myself the pleasure of calling on you a few days since at the Court House, but was deprived by indisposition.

With respect, &c. &c. OTHO H. W. LUCKETT. A. C. Hanson, Esq. Montgomery Court House, Md.

(NO DATE.) George-Town, Thursday Morning. Dear Sir—The day before yesterday I sent you a rough sketch of part of the observations for the first paper.

Dear Sir—The day before yesterday I sent you a rough sketch of part of the observations for the first paper. Having no letter from Mr. Allison, and none of the apparatus having arrived, I wrote to him to send on the people and come himself.

however, flattered that this repugnance is no more than a species of delicacy which will yield as soon as the paper is set a going. We shall soon reduce this to the test of experience.

So much idle conversation has been had respecting the power and the inclination of the navy yard to imitate the example of Baltimore, and the injury the establishment of the paper will occasion to the interests of the town, that we could not have a choice of houses which are to be let.

Very respectfully and sincerely yours, J. WAGNER.

George-town, July 23, 1812. Dear Sir—With the assistance of Colonel Marbury, I have surmounted all the difficulties mentioned in my letter by express.

By these presents I assign and let over to A. C. Hanson, Esq. in consideration of one dollar, to me in hand paid, all my right, title and interest, of, in and to the dwelling-house in S. Charles-street which I leased from Mrs. White, in Baltimore, with all the rights, privileges and appurtenances.

Witness my hand and seal, this 23d day of July, 1812. JACOB WAGNER. Witness Benj. B. Mackall.

George-town, July 25, 1812. Dear Sir—The bearer carries you the paper which he will deliver you by day break. God send you success and glory in case of an attack.

Alexandria, July 20th, 1812. Dear Sir—The short distance between the place of your asylum and this town, invites me, my mind always anxious to meet you (especially since the late disgraceful and, to you destructive scene in Baltimore) to mount my horse for Montgomery, but circumstances interfere which frustrate my wishes.

Beside as soon as I hear from Richmond, expected every day, I must go to Baltimore where I ought to have been on the 16th, but where I cannot go until I am prepared.

You mean to return and re-establish your press; this decision, I presume, comports with your interest and is called for by due respect to yourself, your friends, and to your country.

Select a house for your business capable of defence—place your family under the same roof, and collect a few resolute friends, some of whom shall always be in the house throughout the day and all throughout the night.

Appropriate to every story a proportion of your friends, assigning to each story a leader—let them not be crowded, or you not only unnecessarily risk their lives but you injure your ability to defend.

Appoint a chief to direct the whole, and inculcate not only profound silence throughout the house, but let every order be given in a low voice, this compels your own men to be silent and attentive and withholds from the assailant knowledge useful to him.

The defenders of the house must be posted on each side of every window, all of which except in the lower story must be hoisted to prevent wounds from the hovering of the glais by the balls; those below ought also to be opened if the ground admits it.

Should the iniquity of the mob render it proper for you to adopt my advice remember that you ought not to provoke their action, that you ought to require in time the aid of civil authority, and that you having begun defence must never even think of concession.

A. C. Hanson, Esq. Rockville, Montgomery county, Md. This letter has no signature, but it is supposed to have been written by general Lee.

COPY OF ORDERS.

As the mob will always be on the alert, a correspondent activity is expected from those who united to resist its depredations. A slate with the names of all the defenders of the house will be placed in the front room second story; and whoever wishes to leave the house, must rub out his name and replace it when he returns, but no person is to consider himself at liberty to depart if there are fewer than ten names on the slate.

The gentlemen who pass to and fro during the day are expected to bring in all the information they can obtain. At six every evening the roll will be called, and no person will be permitted to absent himself after that hour.

By the Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a disposition has unhappily manifested itself on the part of some of our misguided citizens to disturb the peace of our city, by a disregard of, and open opposition to its laws; and whereas it is believed that the promoters of this disorderly conduct are few in number that if not countenanced by the appearance of others who are in fact only spectators, they would desist from such misconduct—Now therefore I am induced to issue this my Proclamation, calling upon all peaceable well disposed citizens, who are not in the employ of the civil or military authorities, to remain within their respective houses after the hour of eight o'clock in each evening during the present state of the public mind; and particularly to retain at home all their apprentices, servants and children.

disperse all assemblages of the people, and summarily to punish the riotous and illdisposed—those who are in the streets only as spectators, will subject themselves to the danger of suffering with the guilty.

EDWARD JOHNSON. August 5, 1812.

The Mayor and City Council to the People of Baltimore.

Fellow-Citizens—We feel ourselves bound to address you on the subject of the late unhappy disturbances. These are briefly detailed in the report which has been made out by a committee of our own body, assisted by ten other respectable citizens of all political parties, and unanimously concurred in.

The authors of these events, the actors in those scenes, which have insulted the dignity, spoiled with the happiness, subverted the peace, and disgraced the character of our city, will be brought to justice.

Citizens of Baltimore—public tranquillity is again restored; and we exhort you to maintain it. Let no man's curiosity carry him to a tumultuous meeting left the innocent may be confounded with the guilty!

If such meeting should unfortunately occur we entreat all good men to remain quiet at home, unless called upon to support the civil authority.

The laws must and shall rule. Measures have been adopted to suppress every species of disorder. And at a concerted signal thousands will rush forth to maintain the majesty of the laws. Civil and political liberty can only be maintained by an obedience to the laws, and respect of the civil authority.

ADAM FONERDEN, Pres't. 1st Branch of the City Council. JAMES CALHOUN, Pres't. 2d Branch of the City Council.
