

PORT CORNER

From the United States Gazette. The following beautiful lines written by a gentleman in England, have already decorated the columns of the Gazette. But the present state of our relations, both intrinsic and extrinsic, abstracted from their internal merit, render their republication, at this season, peculiarly proper.

SONS of Columbia sheath the sword! And Britain stay thy vengeful hand! What profit can dire war afford! Why thus with hostile banners stand! Let passion's swelling wave subside, And reason rule instead of pride.

Ah think if War spread wide his flame, What thousands in the strife must die, How few behind them leave a name, Yet tears for each fill some fond eye; Think of the widow's mewing sighs, And the poor orphan's melting cries.

But should not these soft sorrows move, And headlong anger cry "to arms!" And fierce defiance long to prove, His might amidst the field's alarms, And hate and ire inflame each host, And cannon thunder round the coast.

Yet will not interest's voice prevail! Reflect how commerce must decline, The loom stand still, and wait awhile, The many that must starve pine; And burdens weigh each nation down, And wild despair with fury frown.

Ye brothers are, both freedom prize, And in one language worship heav'n; Why then religion's voice despise, By hellish hatred madly driv'n, Let reason and religion reign, And war's grim dog, once more enchain.

Encroach not on each other's right, Let justice lift aloft her scale, Ye both are brave, both proud in fight, Oppressive wrong cannot prevail; Then throw those gleaming arms aside In peace the plough and shuttle guide.

THE NEW YEAR.

At this season, venerable custom demands, that we should salute our friends with the comprehensive wish of "A happy New Year," and the time has been when independently of the fun and frolic, the mirth and merriment, which the occasion inspired, the enjoyment of Peace and Plenty gave to the wish the confidence of expectation. We then could look back to the departed year, and trace recollections which warmed the heart with gratitude to the Great Disposer of all things; and as we have bid adieu! our regret was at least softened, if not subdued, by the anticipation of joys which were spread in prospect before us. In the actual enjoyment of all the blessings of civil and religious liberty, commerce and agriculture pouring abundance on our land, national and individual prosperity taught us to believe that we were the favourites of heaven! What nation, what people, on the wide surface of this globe could then challenge a comparison with this nation and this people? Our rulers were wise and virtuous, exalted far above all the littleness of local attachment, exalted above the reach of ambition itself; we were united at home—we were respected abroad!

"What could I have done to the Vineyard which I have not done unto it." But we have been ungrateful for the mercies bestowed upon us. We have forfeited the favour of Heaven by our wickedness, and we are now experiencing, and we fear we are long to experience the severest retribution for our misdeeds.

War, with all its train of horrid evils, the destruction of life, the deprivation of morals.

Taxes, oppressive and burthenome.

National debt, hourly accumulating.

Wrang and contempt from foreign nations.

Disunion and discontent at home. Commerce annihilated. Agriculture beginning to languish. The necessities of life converted into luxuries, and the poor man forbidden to taste of them.

Liberty in danger, not merely by the encroachments of military power, but by the desperate endeavours of our rulers, to support by violence, what they have introduced by fraud and delusion.

The constitution, the palladium of our rights, wounded on every side and fainting to death!

Gracious God! who can look back on what we have been, and consider what we are, without horror and amazement! Who can look forward to what we are likely to be, and not SHUDDER! May the wrath of the glorified Majesty of Heaven yet be averted! and when we again hail a New Year, may penitents for past offences have rescued us from the punishment which they merit; and returning wisdom have conducted us to the path of glory and of virtue from which we have been led astray.

There is one description of persons who may most cordially greet each other with "A happy New Year." We mean the collectors, &c. of Stamp Tax, Carriage Tax, Tax on retailers, Tax on Still and Boilers, Tax on Auctioneers, Tax on Sugar Refiners, Tax on real Estate, and the long list of army contractors, retainers, and dependants, who hold profitable or sinecure places as a reward for slandering General Washington and other fine deeds which shall have put their friends in power and keep them there.

These gentlemen may well say to each other "A happy New Year" and many returns of it." [Ibid.]

PROPOSALS

For publishing in the City of Baltimore,

A NEWSPAPER, TO BE ENTITLED, THE Baltimore Correspondent, AND Merchants, Manufacturers & Mechanics DAILY ADVERTISER.

BY THOMAS HOWARD HILL, PRINTER. The proposed paper will be published daily (at noon) in order to circulate the earliest intelligence which may be received by the mails.

It is proper that the intended editor should declare his intentions as to the manner in which he means to conduct the publication of "The Baltimore Correspondent." He pledges himself that it shall be held abstract from all party, and be conducted upon the most impartial principles—that it shall comprise the following articles, viz: a foreign and domestic news of the day; a regular detail of naval and military events; a correct and regular journal of the proceedings of the national legislature as also those of the different states, and all documents that may be submitted to them for consideration. And in the absence of the above general named intelligence, he will insert useful notices of the progress of commerce, (internal and external,) of manufactures, and of mechanics, as indeed it is solely devoted to their advancement. A price current (corrected weekly) will be inserted upon the most convenient day.

The utility of such a newspaper at the present time is most certainly obvious to those acquainted with the time of the arrival of the great mail; and as it is the wish of the editor to make the contemplated paper as useful as possible, he promises to use his utmost exertions in collecting of intelligence that may be useful and interesting to those who may favor him with their support.

TERMS. "The Baltimore Correspondent" will be printed on a half sheet super royal, at five dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance—the paper for the country at three dollars in advance. Advertisements to be inserted on the usual terms unless otherwise contracted for by the year.

Arrangements are now making to anticipate news by letter.

January 12, 1814.

20 Dollars Reward.

Runaway from the subscriber, on Tuesday the 4th inst. a negro man by the name of CHARLES, formerly the property of Mr. Gassaway Bawlings. He is a stout able fellow, about 50 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, stutters very much when talking, he has a wife at Mr. William Stewart's quarter, Fingall. His cloathing when he went off was a round over jacket, made of green half thick, given to him this fall, a spotted swandown under jacket much worn, while felled country cloth trousers a good deal mended, coarse shoes & yarn stockings, a white hat with a broad brim; as he has other cloathing he may change to suit his purpose. Charles is an old offender; in the life time of his former master he often took these trips, and when away he got acquainted on Elk Ridge & Baltimore; he was taken up some years ago and confined in Frederick goal; he has a brother in George-Town, living with Mr. Thomas Gaith. It is supposed he may endeavor to get to some of the above places, and pass as a free man. Whoever takes up the said fellow, and delivers him to me, or confines him in any goal so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward. All persons are forbid harbouring the said fellow at their peril.
