PROPOSALS

For publishing in the City of Baltimore, A NEWSPAPER, TO BE ENTITLED, THE Baltimore Correspondent, AND Merchants, Manufacturers & Mechanics DAILY ADVERTISER.

BY THOMAS HOWARD HILL, PRINTER. THE proposed paper will be published daily (at noon) in order to circulate the earliest intelligence which may be received by the mails.

It is proper that the intended editor should declare his intentions in the manner in which he means to conduct the publication of "THE BALTIMORE CORRESPONDENT," he pledges himself that it shall be held abstract from all party, and be conducted upon the most impartial principles—that it shall comprise the following articles, viz: all foreign and domestic news of the day; a regular detail of naval and military events; a correct and regular journal of the proceedings of the national legislature as also those of the different states, and all documents that may be submitted to them for consideration.

The utility of such a newspaper at the present time is most certainly obvious to those acquainted with the time of the arrival of the great mail; and as it is the wish of the editor to make the contemplated paper as useful as possible, he promises to use his utmost exertions in collecting intelligence that may be useful and interesting to those who may favor him with their support.

The Baltimore Correspondent will be printed on a half sheet super royal, at five dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance—the paper for the country at three dollars in advance. Advertisements to be inserted on the usual terms unless otherwise contracted for by the year.

Arrangements are now making to anticipate news by letter. January 12, 1814.

20 Dollars Reward.

Runaway from the subscriber, on Tuesday the 4th inst. a negro man by the name of CHARLES, formerly the property of Mr. Gussaway Rawlings. He is a stout able fellow, about 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, has a wife at Mr. William Stewart's quarters, Fingall. His clothing when he went off was a round over jacket, made of green half thick, given to him this fall, a spotted awdrown under jacket, cloth worn, white furred country cloth trousers, a good deal mended, coat shoes & yarn stockings, a white hat with a broad brim; as he has other clothing he may change to suit his purpose. Charles is an old offender, in the life-time of his former master he often took these trips, and when away he got acquainted with Elk-Ridge & Baltimore; he was taken up some years ago and confined in Frederick goal; he has a brother in Georgia-Town, living with Mr. Thomas Grant. It is supposed he may endeavor to get to some of the above places, and pass as a free man. Whoever takes up the said fellow, and delivers him to me, or confines him in any goal so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward. All persons are forbid harbouring the said fellow at their peril.

AN ORATION

Delivered at a meeting of the Lexington Society of Alexandria on Tuesday 23d inst.

Nor does the patriotism of man depend on situation; the ices of times and circumstances affect it? He does not love his country only when she has and profit to repay him. He feels the ardour and sincerity love in the day of her adversity religion inspires him to promote his efforts to her need; and should require the blood of or to be shed in her defence, learned that he can do no greater love than to "lay down" for his friends. As no such considerations have been the motive of his patriotism, so neither extinguish it. He has not left country for the sake of reward; therefore if he is neglected, spised, if injustice, cruelty, oppression, are the only fetters services have obtained, he will then find abundant inducement only to prompt his forgiveness to keep alive his love.

Nor let it be supposed that the humbler sphere of duty be a him, he is not still to rest that the private citizen is exempt from the claims of patriotism. He will but shew his country by that exact obedience her laws which his principles. Though not called to act in half, his heart will not be unemployed in her cause, and in the eye religion he obeys, the will is lent to the deed; nor is he useless in such a state. He fills with zeal and faithfulness the duties of private, domestic social life, who encourages and promotes benevolence, influence and example is no contributor to the stock of happiness, and will find engagement requiring all his efforts. To his own heart and watch over own ways is his first great work, the indispensable preparation very other.
