

POETS CORNER

THE BATTLE OF BAYLEN

Roll Andujar, roll thy flood, Dyed with Moorish blood;
Swell thy tide; flow with pride; Flow for ever, famed in glory.

Long and deadly was the strife, Trumpet, drum and shrilling fife, Groans and cries pierced the skies, Death's loud organ swelled the chorus.

Andujar, a winding river, which passes through the city of the same name, and near to Baylen.

Umbra, a commanding eminence near the scene of action.

The mountains called Sierra Morena.

The Rock of Gibraltar.

The following (taken from Porter's campaign in Russia) is the address of the great Kutousoff to the Russian army, immediately preceding the battle of Borodino.

The day was fast closing, when the veteran hero surrounded by his generals, passed along the line. He had previously ordered the holy picture, so enthusiastically revered, and which had been saved from the sacrilegious hands of the enemy at Smolensk, to precede him, borne by the priests of the army.

They were not tears of grief, but the tribute of that pure religious feeling, which at times, elevated with heavenly emotions, even the humblest Russian individual.

Behold before you, in these sacred representations of the holy objects of our worship, an appeal which calls aloud upon heaven to unite with man against the tyrannic trouble of the world. Not content with defacing the image of God, in the person of millions of his creatures; this universal tyrant, this arch-rebel to all laws human & divine, breaks into the sanctuary, pollutes it with blood, overthrows its altars, tramples on its rites, & exposes the very ark of the Lord (consecrated in these holy insignia of the church) to all the profanations of accident, of the elements, and of unsanctified hands.

This is the faith in which I will fight and conquer! This is the faith in which I would fight and fall, and still behold the final victory with my dying eyes. Soldiers! do your part.
Think on the burning sacrifice of your cities—think of your wives, your children locking to you for protection—think on your emperor, regarding you as the sinews of their strength; and before to-morrow's sun sets, write your faith and your fealty on the field of your country with the life's blood of the invader and his legions!

The shout which followed this address, assured the veteran that his brave troops only wanted the signal to be given to realize on the spot his most devoted wishes for Russian safety and Russian glory.

20 Dollars Reward.

Ran away on the 2d of May, a Negro Man called Ned, who, with several others, added that of Jones, and brought suit in Anne-Arundel county, by John Golder, for their right to freedom; which suit, at the last term of the court, was dismissed for the want of proof. He is a straight likely black fellow, 22 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and has under one of his eyes, a scar about an inch long and broad. No descriptive information can be given as to his cloaths; he went off with a straw hat, a country round about striped jacket and trousers, and good shoes and stockings. It is probable he may endeavour to get to Baltimore, or to the City of Washington.— I will pay a dollar a mile on the distance he may be taken, if committed to gaol, so that I get him again; fifteen dollars if taken at Annapolis and committed; ten dollars if taken in the neighbourhood, or twenty if taken in Calvert county.
I am informed that an old yellow woman resides in Calvert who calls herself Hannah Jones, and who my Negroes, who claimed their freedom, call aunt—she is wife to a miller, who attends or did attend a mill, once the property of a Mr. Smith, and purchased by Capt. David Carand.

Land for Sale.

The undersigned is extremely anxious to sell the following tracts of land in Calvert county, Maryland. One tract of woodland, containing two hundred acres, and abounding in timber suitable for building houses, and vessels of every description, within about a mile and an half of Battle Creek, which empties itself into the River Patuxent, about twenty miles from its mouth, from which land there is a good road secured by law to the Creek, which is navigable to the very landing; there are a large tobacco house, two log dwelling houses; and several out houses on this land. Also another tract of land, containing upwards of three hundred acres, and bordering on the head waters of Battle Creek, which is navigable for bateaus and crows to the landing, and which abounds in Cypress and Chestnut timber, the former suitable for plank and shingles, being impervious to worms, which destroys every other kind of timber, while they leave the Cypress untouched; the latter suitable for fence rails. There are a grist and saw mills, a framed dwelling house, three log tenants houses, a black smiths shop, a tobacco house, and several out houses, on the last mentioned land. Should these lands not be sold by next October court, they will then be offered at Public Sale. Persons disposed to buy may obtain great bargains, by speedy applications.
