AN ODE TO NAPOLEON BUONAPARTE

By Lord Byron

'Tis done—but yesterday a king! And arm'd with kings to strive— And now thou art a nameless thing— So subject—yet alive!

Thanks for that lesson—it will teach To avaricious warriors more Than high philosophy can preach, And vainly preach'd before!

The triumph, and the vanity, The rapture of the strife, The earthquake voice of victory, To thee the breath of life!

The desolator desolate! The victor overthrown! The arbiter of others' fate A suppliant for his own!

He who of old would rend the oak, Dreamed not of the rebound; Chained by the trunk he vainly broke Alone—how looked he round?

The Roman, when his burning heart Was staked with blood of Rome, Threw down the dagger—dared depart In savage grandeur home.

The Spaniard, when the lust of sway Had lost its quickening spell, Cast crowns for rosaries away, An empire for a cell.

But thou—from thy reluctant hand The thunderbolt is wrung— Too late thou hearest the high command To which thy weakness clung!

The earth hath spilt her blood for him Who thus can hoard his own! And monarchs bowed the trembling limb.

Thine evil deeds are writ in gore, No written thus in vain— The triumphs tell of fame no more, Or deepen every stain.

Weighed in the balance, here dust Is vile as vulgar clay— Thy scales, mortality, are just To all that pass away!

Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth.

And she proud Austria's mortal flower, Thy still imperial brow; How beats her breast the torturing hour?

Then haste thee to thy sullen life, And gaze upon the sea; That element may meet thy smile, If he'er was ruddy by thee!

Or like the thief of fire from heaven Will thou withstand the shock? And share with him, the unforgiven, His culture and his rock!

Or like the thief of fire from heaven Will thou withstand the shock? And share with him, the unforgiven, His culture and his rock!

The victor overthrown! The arbiter of others' fate A suppliant for his own! Is it some yet imperial hope That with such change can calmly cope?

He who of old would rend the oak, Dreamed not of the rebound; Chained by the trunk he vainly broke Alone—how looked he round?

The Roman, when his burning heart Was staked with blood of Rome, Threw down the dagger—dared depart In savage grandeur home.

The Spaniard, when the lust of sway Had lost its quickening spell, Cast crowns for rosaries away, An empire for a cell.

But thou—from thy reluctant hand The thunderbolt is wrung— Too late thou hearest the high command To which thy weakness clung!

The earth hath spilt her blood for him Who thus can hoard his own! And monarchs bowed the trembling limb.

Thine evil deeds are writ in gore, No written thus in vain— The triumphs tell of fame no more, Or deepen every stain.

Weighed in the balance, here dust Is vile as vulgar clay— Thy scales, mortality, are just To all that pass away!

Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth, Of these the conquerors of the earth.

April 7

By His Excellency LEVIN WINDER, Esquire, Governor of Maryland.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas by an inquisition held on the body of a certain negro man, a slave, the property of a certain John Cover, on the fifth of July last, it was found that the said negro came to his death from the unmerciful beating, and other ill treatment received from his said master, John Cover; and it has been represented to me, that the said John Cover has fled from justice, and it being of the greatest importance to society that the perpetrator of such a crime should be brought to condign punishment, I have therefore thought proper to issue this my proclamation, and do, by and with the advice and consent of the council, offer a reward of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS to any person who shall apprehend and deliver the said John Cover to the sheriff of Frederick county.

Given in council, at the city of Annapolis, under the great seal of the state of Maryland, this first day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fourteen.

LEVIN WINDER, NINIAN PINKNEY, Clerk of the Council.

Land for Sale.

The undersigned is extremely anxious to sell the following tracts of land in Calvert county, Maryland. One tract of woodland, containing two hundred acres, and abounding in timber suitable for building houses, and vessels of every description, within about a mile and an half of Battle Creek, which empties itself into the River Patuxent, about twenty miles from its mouth, from which land there is a good road secured by law to the Creek, which is navigable to the very landing; there are a large tobacco house, two log dwelling houses, and several out houses on this land. Also another tract of land, containing upwards of three hundred acres, and bordering on the head waters of Battle Creek, which is favorable for batteau and logs to the landing, and which abounds in Cypress and Chestnut timber; the former suitable for plank and shingles, being impervious to worms, which destroys every other kind of timber, while they leave the Cypress untouched; the latter suitable for fence rails. There are a grist and saw mills, a framed dwelling house, three log batteau houses, a black smith's shop, a tobacco house, and several out houses, on the last mentioned land. Should these lands not be sold by next October court, they will then be offered at Public Sale. Persons disposed to buy may obtain great bargains by speedy applications. JNO. JAS. BROOKS.
