

POET'S CORNER

PEACE OF MIND—Br. Cowzen. When all within is peace, How nature seems to smile!

TRUE POLITENESS. Politeness, comprehensively understood, certainly respects the motions of the mind, and sentiments of the heart.

OBSERVATION. The mental and moral brightening: ignorance is the scourge of the faculties, and vice the canker of the soul.

COMPARISON. Agriculture may, with propriety, be styled the nearest neighbor philosophy. Its principles Varro, are the same which F makes to be the principles of nature—earth, water, air, and fire.

APPLICATION. Those who apply themselves much to little things, commonly become incapable of great ones, things are impracticable in themselves, and it is for want of attention, rather than of means, men fail of success.

THE PLANTING OF THE VINE. When Noah planted the vine and retired, Satan approached and said, "I will nurture you, my young plant!"

Postponement of Sale. By virtue of a decree of the court of Maryland, the subscriber, by way of advertising terms, will be sold.

To be Sold. At public sale, on Tuesday the 16th September next, at James Hunter's Tavern, in Annapolis, for cash.

ADJOURNED. The Commissioners of the Tax for Anne-Arundel county have adjourned the court until the second Monday of September next, for the purpose of appeals.

Land for Sale. The subscriber will sell a tract of land, containing about 400 acres, situated in Anne-Arundel county, 9 miles from the city of Annapolis.

Very late and high NEWS FROM FRANCE. We have conversed with several gentlemen from Halifax, 23d inst. from whom following:

From the Albany Register. Extract of a letter from an intelligent gentleman, to his friend in this city, dated

"Sackett's Harbor, Sept. 25, 1814. Dear Sir—Agreeably to expectation, the army under the command of Gen. Izard have embarked, with the exception of a part of the 13th and 45th, and proceeded up the Lake. They made a short but necessary stop at this place, the weather having been, until the day of their departure, extremely opposed to their progress or operations.

"We were alarmed yesterday by the appearance of the fleet off the Harbor, it being sometime before we ascertained it to be ours. The Lady of the Lake came in yesterday and reports the following proceedings: On Wednesday they weighed anchor at this place, and ran up to the Genesee river with a favorable breeze—On Thursday, disembarked the troops, and on Saturday morning came to an anchor under the lee of Stoney Island. It being the old anchorage of the enemy, and too far distant to distinguish them clearly caused us a momentary alarm, which however soon subsided. It was my belief that they would land as high up as the 40 mile creek or Burlington Heights, particularly after Brown's late success, as it is evident that the enemy propose to retreat, and it will be in their power to throw so many obstructions in the way of our army that it will be difficult for them to pursue with much prospect of success.

"A very considerable force is collecting at Kingston, and they are moving up all their gun-boats and small-craft from Lake St. Francis way and the St. Lawrence. I think it not at all unlikely, that their object is the destruction of this place. Intercepted letters from officers of high standing in their army and navy, have expressed that intention some time past, in confidence, and they do not hesitate to declare it publicly. Their plan of attack is contemplated with a co-operation of the fleet and army, and by regular advances. Their real object, however, cannot be known, and all that is said by us on the subject, is mere conjecture. There is no doubt of its being an object of the first importance to them, and that they will attempt it, if they have the least prospect of success. The Harbor is in a good state of defence, and there is no doubt but that the troops which are here will do honor to themselves, and justice to their country; but they are not sufficient in number to oppose a powerful army. Our country is new, and there could not be more than three or four thousand militia called out in season to be of service, after an actual alarm. It is said that the new ship will bend her sails on the 28th, when they will soon take the Lake, and our fleet haul in. If they should have the temerity to attack our fleet at their moorings, I have every confidence to believe that our commodore will teach them a lesson similar to that of Lake Champlain. Their extremities have lately met a check, and I hope we shall at least do our duty in the centre."

MARYLAND GAZETTE. ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1814. GLORIOUS TRIUMPH. It is with the liveliest emotions we announce to our distant readers the complete regeneration of this County. After having slumbered for fourteen years in the arms of Democracy, the citizens of Anne-Arundel county have awakened; they have become sensible of their wanderings; they have returned to the right path; they have embraced the true faith; they have broken down their idols; they have renounced their idolatry. It is the strongest evidence that the good people of the county have only to be convinced to ensure the prevalence of correct opinion. The change has been radical, we confidently trust it will be permanent.

The Election has resulted in the choice of John C. Herbert, esq. for Congress, and Brice J. Worthington, Col. Thos. Hood, Dr. Richard Hopkins, and Thomas B. Dorsey, for the Assembly—the four first named are true disciples of the Washington school. In our paper of last week we published an account of the proceedings of a committee, of which Mr. Augustine Gambrell was said to have been the chairman, and Mr. Thomas Furlong the secretary. We had every reason to believe that we were sanctioned in the proceeding by the consent and approbation of the chairman and secretary. We had no hope that Augustine Gambrell's name could have given much weight to the recommendation of the committee, and therefore the political objects to be attained by an imposture of the kind, could certainly not be so very important as to silence the moral repugnance which every man who has a respect for his character must feel, to the deliberate propagation of a falsehood. It was at the request, and on the authority, of gentlemen of character, that the publication was made; and it was with much surprise that we read in the next number of the Maryland Republican a direct contradiction, by Mr. Gambrell, of the whole proceeding. Our readers will find by the subjoined certificates, that prevarication and falsehood have been practised somewhere. Of Mr. Gambrell's political and moral principles we have at this time nothing to say; our object is to exculpate this Journal from any participation in an imposition on the public, whether that imposition has been practised by Gambrell or others.

October 1st, 1814. I certify, that I handed to Mr. Green the notice of Augustine Gambrell, as published in his paper of last Thursday, and that the same was done by his (Gambrell's) approbation and consent, and he agreed his name should appear as Chairman of a Committee at a meeting held at Gambrell's Tavern on the day mentioned, though he was not present; and that I have understood him he would vote for Dr. Dorsey and Dr. Hopkins.

mond and Dr. M. Hammond, that he (Gambrell) wished to hold a political meeting at the Indian Landing; that he wished to be considered as great a man as Harry Woodward, who appeared in a hand-bill as Chairman; and that he wanted to get into a great office likewise, and would vote a whole Federal Ticket.

Richard Wheeler. October 1st, 1814. MR. GREEN, When I gave a certificate on Saturday last, I omitted to mention, when the conversation took place between Augustine Gambrell & myself, that it was considered in a jocular way, & conceiving myself authorised to band to the press, nothing was intended or designed like political fraud—Mr. Gambrell and myself understand it in that manner now. We are neighbors and friends, and mutual assurances have passed that there was no intention to implicate the veracity of each other.
