

POETRY

From the Boston Evening Gazette.

HYMN TO SLEEP

The two first stanzas of the following Hymn to Sleep, were translated from the German, by the late HANS GRAM, Esq. a gentleman and scholar, who died in this town, a few years ago.

"Which nor gold, nor gems can buy; Rich are they who thee possessing, Poor are they whom thou dost fly."

From the New-York Columbian.

The following is old, but possesses peculiar beauties both as to matter and manner. At least, I am so charmed with it myself that I wish copies of it may be multiplied through the medium of the Columbian.

AGRICOLA.

Ye farmers on your lands abide Nor cease the shining share to guide To plough the inconstant western main.

Where changing evils ever reign. On the Ocean, Constant motion, Low and high, Wet and dry, Lingering calms, Sea sick qualms, Raging waves, Gaping Graves, Sleepless nights, Fearful sights, Tempest tost, Compass lost, Canvass rent, Water spent, Wormy bread, Winds ahead, With many more than I could name.

THE REPORT.

The committee to whom has been referred the bill for the protection of the commerce of the U. States against the Algerine cruisers, with instructions to enquire and report in detail the facts upon which the measure contemplated by the bill is predicated.

REPORT.

That in the month of July, 1812, the Dey of Algiers, taking offence, or pretending to take offence, at the quality and quantity of a shipment of military stores made by the U. States in pursuance of the stipulations in the Treaty of 1795, and refusing to receive the stores, extorted from the American Consul General at Algiers, by threats of personal imprisonment, &c. of reducing to slavery all Americans in his power, a sum of money claimed as the arrears of Treaty stipulations, and denied by the United States to be due, and then compelled the Consul and all citizens of the U. States at Algiers abruptly to quit the dominions.

By an Algerine corsair, and carried into Algiers aboard. The commander of the brig, Captain George Campbell Smith, and the crew, ten in number, have ever since been detained in captivity, with the exception of two of them whose release has been effected under circumstances not indicating any change of hostile temper on the part of the Dey.

It also appears, that a vessel, sailing under the Spanish flag has been condemned in Algiers as laying a false claim to that flag, and concealing her true American character. In this vessel was taken a Mr. Pollard, who claims to be an American citizen, and is believed to be of Norfolk, Virginia, and who as an American citizen is kept in captivity. The government, justly solicitous to relieve these unfortunate captives, caused an agent (whose connection with the government was not disclosed) to be sent to Algiers, with the means and with instructions to effect their ransom, if it could be done at a price not exceeding three thousand dollars per man.

The committee are all of opinion upon the evidence which has been laid before them, that the Dey of Algiers considers his treaty with the United States as at an end, and is waging war against them. The evidence upon which this opinion is founded, and from which are extracted the facts above stated, accompanies this report, and with it is respectfully submitted.
