LINES
By one of the Editors.
'Twas in that merry time of year,
When every bard attunes his powers;
When the full mind flows free & clear,
And fancy like the season flowers.
A female object caught my view,
A form more fair is seldom seen.
Her roving eyes were large and blue,
Her robes were of a pleasant green.
And when I gaz'd her truant eyes,
Wandered at large o'er grove & hill;
Now sought the earth, now read the skies,
And was not for a moment still.
Say mortal, with that sullen brow,
She cried, why dost thou pine and mope?
I come to cheer thy spirits now,
Know'st thou not me—my name is HOPE.
A rose-bush in her hand she bore,
With buds & verdant foliage crown'd
But she had pluck'd it long before
Flora had spread her honours round.
Thrice did she wave it high in air,
She cried, O mortal see my power!
I look'd and not a bud was there,
The bush was all in sudden flower.
Take this she cries, and straight she trips
A rose, the darling of my eyes;
I caught it—pressed it to my lips,
Then in my bosom wore the prize.
She spoke, and in a moment fled,
And vanish'd like the passing smoke;
I look'd and all the leaves were dead,
And with a sigh of sorrow woke.

From the Am. Daily Advertiser.
Give me neither poverty, nor riches,
lest I be full and deny thee; or lest
I be poor and steal."
Prov. xxx. 8th & 9th verses.

Well would it be for mankind, if they would attend to the holy breathings of that book, well called the Bible, or THE BOOK, in preference to all books—it has taught us that God is the God of Peace, and that he delighteth not in carnage, blood and murder.

After a dark night of restrictions and war, we now have peace. The world is at peace!—the ruthless arm of war, no longer overturns the palace, or sweeps away the cottage with fire and sword. But my readers, it becomes us to avoid extremes; it behoves us to act with prudence. Before the dark shades, which, with heavy gloom covered the American nation, we, as neutrals, extended our commerce over every sea, to almost every port—Europe, convulsed to its very centre, had not the means of trade: America, then neutral, rose fast, and wealth poured in upon us. Let not the return of peace induce us, either as individuals or a nation, to expect the same glittering scene—but, with Agur, let us say, "Remove far from us, Vanity and Lies—give us neither poverty nor riches, lest we be full and deny thee, and say who is the Lord; or lest we be poor and steal, and take the name of our God in vain."

Mediocrity is the best for both national and individual happiness. The fact is, we now cannot with reason, count on any thing else—the nations of Europe released from the fangs of despotism and the havoc of war, will turn their attention to commerce, and pursue such measures as will best comport with their several interests. Trade, like water, will find its own level, and he who foolishly ventures into the tempestuous ocean of commerce, without having prudence for his compass, and mediocrity for his pole star, will most probably be wrecked on the breakers of disappointment, founder in the gulph of intemperance, or fall a victim to the evil which the preacher prays against, become "poor and steal."

Nothing is more natural to the heart of man, than pride or false ambition; it is displayed in infant years, and in manhood ripens into fruit, bitter to the taste; or like the apples of ashes, on the lake where Sodom once stood, appearance without reality, it vanishes with a touch—it crumbles into dust, and the haughty heart which cherished it, breaks to mend no more. Let us seriously reflect now, it may be too late at a future day.

We must not, we cannot expect to indulge ourselves or our families, in former foolish extravagance. My readers, you must believe in a superintending Providence—you have lately tasted the miseries of war, but thank the God of mercies, that you have not been obliged as Europe, to drink the bitter cup to the last dregs. What was the procuring cause of the late war? You may blame this government or that government, but sin and unthankfulness, and luxury, wretched luxury was the cause: The tide of prosperity rolled in upon your shores, and you abused the blessing to your own cost! The manna of Heaven rained upon you; you eat it, and was unthankful; it was the manna of civil and religious freedom, given you not to abuse but to cultivate. You became full and rebelled against the giver, your hearts were fat and you forgot God; and may I not ask you whether you did not so far forget him, as to send men to represent you in your solemn assemblies as legislators, lawmakers and executors, who were loose in their morals—men who regarded not either God or man, further than would gratify their inordinate ambition—men who, in ale houses and taverns have been the great advocates, (pretendedly so) of your liberties, and whose private examples you cannot admire—men who have laughed at, and ridiculed the very religion you profess. It makes no difference what party such men belonged to, if such was their character, such their conduct, Heaven must and will frown upon you while you support them. The very jubilee of America the anniversary of our independence, has been abused by scenes of riot and confusion.—We have walked in the way of our own lusts, and have been punished by war. In this war you have obtained much glory in arms, (if glory can be attached to blood shedding.) You are elevated in spirit; you are proud of your prowess! take care—be not too much elevated, humility becomes us; and in all your affairs, with prudence govern your concerns. Remember with Agur that there is "A generation whose teeth are as swords and their jaw teeth as knives to devour the poor from off the earth and the needy from among men."

By virtue of an order from the orphans court of Anne Arundel county, the subscriber will sell at public sale on Tuesday the 9th May, on the premises, the personal estate of William Tillard, late of said county, deceased. Consisting of Negroes, Horses, Cattle, Hogs, Household and Kitchen Furniture, plantation utensils, &c. Terms of sale—for all sums over twenty dollars, a credit of six months, the purchaser giving bond, with good and sufficient security; under that sum the cash to be paid. Henry Jones, Admr April 20.

50 Dollars Reward.

Went off about the 21st of March last, a bright mulatto woman, aged about 29, named KITTIE. She lived last year with Mr. Isaac Parker, in Annapolis. She was seen in that place a few days after she went off. I have reason to believe she has a pass, or a certificate of freedom. I will give Thirty Dollars for the pass, or certificate, if it can be proved from whom she obtained it, and Twenty Dollars for the woman, to be lodged in any goal so that I get her again. Henry Waring. Sw. April 20.

NOTICE.

The subscriber having obtained letters of administration on the personal estate of William Tillard, late of Anne Arundel county, deceased, requests all persons having claims against said estate to bring them in, legally authenticated, and those indebted to make immediate payment. Henry Jones, Admr. Sw. April 20.

Public Sale.

By virtue of an order from the orphans court of Anne Arundel county, the subscriber will expose to public sale, on Friday the 5th day of May next, if fair, if not, the first fair day thereafter, at the late residence of David Simmons, deceased, near Mount Pleasant Ferry. All the personal estate of said David Simmons, consisting of Household and Kitchen Furniture, some articles of Merchandise, and Horses, Cattle and Sheep. Terms of sale are, for all sums over twenty dollars, a credit of six months will be given, the purchaser giving bond, with security, with interest from the day of sale; all under that sum the cash to be paid. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock A. M. Aaron Welsh, sen. extr. Sw. April 20.

Property for Sale.

The subscriber will sell at private sale the plantation whereon she at present resides, in Anne Arundel county, five miles below M'Coys's tavern, on the road leading to Annapolis, and sixteen miles from Baltimore. The tract contains 342 acres of good quality, and produces well Indian corn, tobacco, small grain, particularly rye; its distance from the market of Baltimore makes it valuable to any person inclined to go into that line of cultivation. The soil is adapted to early growth of vegetables of all kinds; nearly one half of the tract is in wood, of young thriving timber. The improvements are comfortable and in good repair, the dwelling house roomy and sufficient for a large family; every convenient out house, for stock and poultry; an excellent garden newly built, rich, and well set with herbs of almost every kind; a pump of good water in the yard, and ruit of every kind. There is some meadow and more can be made with little labour. Any person inclined to purchase, may know the terms by applying to Mr. Richard Gambrell, in Anne Arundel county, or Mr. Eli Hewitt in the city of Baltimore. If the above property is not sold at private sale by the 20th day of June next, it will on that day be exposed to public sale, on the premises, to the highest bidder. Rachel Warfield. Sw. March 16, 1815.

50 Dollars Reward.

Ran away from the subscriber on the 2d of October, 1814, a negro man named DICK: he is a short, yellowish complected fellow, about 35 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, and very polite when spoken to. He took with him a pair of cotton country cloth trousers, with a broad blue stripe, & a round white country cloth jacket and waistcoat. He is a rough shoemaker and took away with him his tools. Whoever brings home the said negro or secures him so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward with all reasonable charges. Benjamin Harwood, of R. A. A. County, South River Neck, near Annapolis: N. B. It is supposed the above negro man may have gone to Montgomery county, where his mother lives with a Mrs Murray, near Montgomery Court House, and may have a pass. B. II. December 1.

NOTICE.

Mr. Isaac Parker having assigned to the subscriber all the debts due him on his books, which have accrued since his establishment in the Union Tavern, all those indebted on said books, are notified to make payment to the subscriber only. Indulgence cannot be given, and no discrimination can be made in the mode of collection. James Shaw. March 2.

State of Maryland, sc.

Anne Arundel county, Orphans Court April 11, 1815. On application by petition of Thomas Norris, of Ths. executor of the last will and testament of Mary Harrison, late of Anne Arundel county deceased, it is ordered that he give the notice required by law for creditors to exhibit their claims against the said deceased, and that the same be published once in each week, for the space of six successive weeks, in the Maryland Gazette and Political Intelligencer. John Gasaway, Reg. Will, A. A. County.

This is to give notice,

That the subscriber of Baltimore county hath obtained from the orphans court of Anne Arundel county in Maryland, letters testamentary on the personal estate of Mary Harrison, late of Anne Arundel county, deceased. All persons having claims against the said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at or before the thirteenth day of June next, they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of the said estate. Given under my hand this 11th day of April, 1815. Thomas Norris, of Thos. Executor. Sw. April 13.

City Tavern & Hotel

The subscriber having taken the known establishment in this city, occupied by Mr. Isaac Parker, and generally by Mr. George Mann, he announces to the public, and more especially to those who may be disposed to patronize and encourage him, that his fixed determination is to render equal to any establishment in the city, its conveniences perhaps are unequalled, and the opportunities offered by its proximity to the bay; of furnishing a table with wild fowl and oysters, to enable him to supply those who favour him with their custom with dishes in their proper season. He assures those who have been in the habit of patronizing this establishment, that they may calculate hereafter on meeting with accommodations at least equal to any which have been afforded by their predecessors; and so far as to their own personal attendance, together with that of those in his employ, can contribute to the comfort and satisfaction of his guests, he pledges himself no attention shall be wanting. He has a supply of liquors, and for the convenience of the stranger, and the travelling he has provided a Coffee Room, furnished with newspapers from every principal seaport in the United States. Private rooms are always ready, for private or public suppers can be had on the shortest notice. N. B. Boarders taken by the week, month or year, and horses taken at livery. W. CATOX

A Bar-keeper & Cook

Are wanted immediately at the City Tavern. Annapolis March 23.

Three Farms For Sale

THE above Farms are situated in Anne Arundel County, and were the property of David Steuart, Esq, late of that county, deceased. One Farm, called "Part of Observation," lying between Rawling's Tavern and the town of Queen Anne, containing about 450 acres of land, a large proportion of which is heavily timbered, and the balance consisting of improved meadows and arable land, highly cultivated with clover and bluegrass. This estate is inclosed with good fences, and the farm and tobacco houses in excellent condition. Also, two other Farms on Anne Arundel Manor, adjoining to the lands of Daniel Murray, Esq. and the Manors of Halls—one containing about 300 acres and the other 200 acres of highly improved land, and having every necessary improvement of farm and kitchen houses. These two Farms will be either separately or together, in suitable parcels, to purchasers. The whole property has been cultivated for many years past, in the most approved and improving modes of agriculture, and is as productive as the lands in the county in tobacco and crops. If not sold at private sale before the 8th of May, the above property will then be exposed to public sale at the tavern lately kept by Richard Miles, called Rawling's Tavern, in the neighbourhood of the Farms. Persons wishing to view the lands will apply upon Wm. Steuart, near South River, George C. Steuart of Doden; or Henry Urquhart, manager of the land on Anne Arundel Manor. Purchasers wishing to know the terms, will apply to said William Steuart, Frisby T. Steuart, Esq. near Hagerstown, Dr. J. Steuart, Baltimore, or G. H. Street.

FUEL WANTED.

PROPOSALS will be received writing until the 1st day of June next for supplying the next stated session Congress, with 150 Cords of good fire-wood; eighty cords of which to be hickory, or hickory and ash, the residue the various kinds of oak. All to be delivered, saved (in two parts) and measured at the expense of the contractor, in vaults or wood sheds provided by the government, at the present Capitol of the U. S. in the city of Washington. One third of the wood on or before the 1st of September, one other third, on or before the 1st of October, and the residue on or before the 20th of November. Proposals must be accompanied with the names of the security or securities offered to secure a faithful execution of the contract. The proposer, with terms and securities are accepted, must be advised of such acceptance by the 1st of October, and upon executing the proper conditions, one third of the money will be advanced. Thos. Douglas. April 6.

Robert Welch, of B.

Offers himself a candidate for the office of Sheriff at the next election, and respectfully petitions the voters and inhabitants of his following precincts.

which Maj. Gen. Henry Dearbore (was president) convened at U. S. in the State of New-York, on the 3d day of Jan. 1815; and continued, at Troy, by adjournments, the 21st day of March, 1815.
Maj. Gen. James Wilkinson was tried on the following charges and specifications, viz.
CHARGE I.
Neglect of duty and unofficer-like conduct.
Specification 1. In unnecessarily delaying and retarding the movement of the troops under his command from Fort George from that post to Anderson's Bay, or Sackett's Harbor, during the months of September and October, 1813, to the detriment of the service; and in not making, or causing to be made, proper preparations for the embarkation; and particularly in not ordering the said troops or a sufficient number of them to embark on board of Fort George, to render the same under fictitious names, for the safety of that post.
Specification 2. In not accounting, as his duty required him to do, for the movement of the said troops from Fort George to Henderson's Bay, or Sackett's Harbour during the months of September and October, 1813, and in omitting to render their progress agreeable to the order and the plan of the Government.
Specification 3. In losing the troops very unnecessarily, and to the injury of the service, during the month of October, 1813, at Henderson's Harbour, and in not ordering the troops under his command from that post, to Grenada, and particularly in causing the said troops or a part thereof to be embarked, or ordered for embarkation, on Henderson's Island with their stores, provisions, &c. to wit: on the 4th day of October, 1813, to disembark at the said Henderson's Harbour, or at their stores, artillery, provisions, &c. on pretence of making arrangements, thereby losing the said troops, and causing a great delay, embarrassment, public loss, and also, in not ordering the said troops to be embarked, or ordered for embarkation, on Henderson's Island, between the 4th and the 12th of October, and during the expedition of the said troops down the St. Lawrence under his command, to wit: that the officers of the said expedition, commanding in boats, having provisions and public stores, should be charged therewith, and made no part of the expedition, or kept safe there, or returned to make it the duty of the officers to attend to the said boats, although advised by the said officers, that they were being neglected; and including the names of the officers commanding a disregard of the provisions of the public law, to the great damage of the service.
Specification 4. In calling for the names of the officers of the said expedition, and submitting the same to the provisions of the public law, which had been previously disregarded by the said officers, to the great injury of the service.
Specification 5. In not ordering the movement of the said troops from Henderson's Harbour, and particularly in not ordering the said troops to be embarked, or ordered for embarkation, on Henderson's Island, between the 4th and the 12th of October, and during the expedition of the said troops down the St. Lawrence under his command, to wit: that the officers of the said expedition, commanding in boats, having provisions and public stores, should be charged therewith, and made no part of the expedition, or kept safe there, or returned to make it the duty of the officers to attend to the said boats, although advised by the said officers, that they were being neglected; and including the names of the officers commanding a disregard of the provisions of the public law, to the great damage of the service.
Specification 6. In not ordering the movement of the said troops from Henderson's Harbour, and particularly in not ordering the said troops to be embarked, or ordered for embarkation, on Henderson's Island, between the 4th and the 12th of October, and during the expedition of the said troops down the St. Lawrence under his command, to wit: that the officers of the said expedition, commanding in boats, having provisions and public stores, should be charged therewith, and made no part of the expedition, or kept safe there, or returned to make it the duty of the officers to attend to the said boats, although advised by the said officers, that they were being neglected; and including the names of the officers commanding a disregard of the provisions of the public law, to the great damage of the service.
