From the Calcutta Times, Sept. 12.

The Nautilus sailed from Bonavista Roads on the 29th of June, bearing dispatches for the Supreme Government.—Previous to her departure, intelligence of Ratification of Peace by the President of the United States, had been received at Batavia.

On the 30 of June, the American ship of war Peacock, Capt. Warrington, carrying 22 guns, and manned with 230 choice seamen, was cruising off Anjier in the Straits of Sunda. In the afternoon of that day, the Master Attendant at Anjier went on board the American ship and informed her commander, that peace had been ratified between Great Britain and the United States. This information he affected not to believe, and detained the Master Attendant as a prisoner of war. Half an hour after this occurrence, the H. M. cruiser Nautilus fell in with the Peacock. Capt. Warrington hoisted English colours, and Lieut. Boyce, the commander of the Nautilus, sent a boat, with his master, and a military officer, a passenger, on board the Peacock. The American confined them as prisoners of war, and disregarding the information they gave of peace, ranged alongside the Nautilus and hoisted the colours of the United States.

Lt. Boyce, hailed, and demanded to know whether he was coming as a friend or an enemy. The answer returned was—an enemy! Lieut. B. then told him that peace had been ratified between G. Britain and the U. States, and that he had the documents on board. Capt. Warrington then said, "if peace has taken place haul down your colours instantly!" Lt. Boyce refusing to comply with this insolent demand, the American fired into the Nautilus which she returned with a broadside. Lt. Boyce was wounded in the hip by the first fire, and shortly after, his knee was shattered by a 32lb. shot. Mr. Mayson, the 1st lieutenant, also severely wounded; and no officer remaining to fight the ship, he was compelled to surrender, after a gallant defence in close action which lasted a quarter of an hour.

Our readers have already seen the list of the killed and wounded on board the Nautilus. The American loss was 4 killed and 6 wounded.

On the following morning, Mr. Warrington permitted the master attendant to return to Anjier for the purpose of bringing American papers. On the production of these, he expressed himself satisfied that peace had taken place, restored the Nautilus, and wrote officially to the master attendant, that he should desist from farther hostilities.

We regret to add that Lieut. Boyce has suffered the amputation of his leg.

The Nautilus being much shattered in her hull, has been sent to Samarang for repairs. The wounded men left at Anjier, were in a state of recovery.

SPANISH AMERICA AGAIN.

From the Aurora.

TO MR. CLAY,

Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

An expectation was indulged, that your instrumentality would have been exercised in having certain papers, referred to in the Aurora some time past, made public. In one of them, a reference to a certain communication which passed "immediately antecedent" to the signature of the treaty made at Ghent, was had. The paper is certainly an important one, more particularly as our southern brethren are much interested in the event.

Why not have it?
