New York, March 30. LATEST FROM ENGLAND. By the British Packet Osborn, which arrived at this port yesterday; with the February mail, the Editors of the Mercantile Advertiser received a file of the London Morning Chronicle to the 10th Feb. inclusive, from which the following extracts are made.

London, Feb. 5.

Yesterday between 11 and 12 o'clock, dispatches were received in Downing-street from the Duke of Wellington at Paris. The contents of them were of that nature that a Cabinet Council was immediately summoned to assemble at 2 o'clock at the Foreign office; and at half past two there were present the Lord Chancellor, Earls of Liver-pool, Harrowby, Westmoreland, Mulgrave, Bathurst, and Buckinghamshire, the chancellor of the Exchequer, Viscounts Castlereagh, Sidmouth and Melville, the right hon. C. B. Bathurst and Mr. W. Pole. They continued in deliberation upwards of two hours. Perhaps in the course of this day, something further may transpire upon

Extract of a letter, dated Naples, Jan.

"Lest exaggerated accounts of the contagious disorder which has appeared at Noya, near Bari, on the coast of the Adriatic, may possibly be conveyed to you, we beg to state that there is no reason for supposing it has extended beyond that piace, and every means has been adopted for arresting its progress. Noya, we understand, has been surrounded by double ditches and pallisades, and a strong cordon of troops drawn round the whole district of Bari. The rest of the kingdom enjoys the most perfect health. This information may tranquilize the minds' of many who might feel anxious about their friends or property here."

Feb. 9. Several questions were asked yesterday in both houses of Parliament, respecting the treaties and conventions, and the negociations and transactions connected with them. In the House of Lords the Marquis of Landsdown inquired with regard to the communications that had passed between the Allied Powers, subsequent to the treaty of the 25th of March, signed at Vienna, and previous to the late military occupation of Paris, relative to the establishment of a government in France, in the event of the success of their arms. The Earl of Liverpool upon this point could not state the nature By victue of a decree of the high court of Cannery will be disposed of at Public Sale, on Friday the 12th day of April pext, if fair, if not the next fair day thereafter, on the premises, All The real estate of Nicholas Norman deceased lying in the Swamp, near Herring Creek, consisting of three Tracts or Parcels of Land, The land is well timbered A, it is presumed persons inclined to purchase would wish to view the land previous to the sale, a further description is deemed unnecessary.

Alexander the First, Emperor and Autocrat. of all the Russias, &c. hereby make known:

"As we have seen from experimence, and from the unhappy consequences that have resulted for the whole world, that the course of the political relations in Europe between the powers, has not been founded on those true principles upon the principles upon which the wisdom of God in his revelations has founded to with that Government, and as the Marquis of Landsdown observof the communications that had pasthe Marquis of Landsdown observed, that it was matter of notoriety, that the Provisional Government offered to negociate, it was to be understood that such offers was met by a refusal, to which Lord Liver-pool assented. His Royaf Highness the Duke of Sussex also asked a question respecting the boly league, as it has been termed, the treaty between Russia, Austria and Prussia, which we published a few days since, and Lord Liverpool admitted, scribers will sell at public sale, on Thursday the 11th day of April next, if fair, if not the next fair day thereafter, at the late dwelling of Sally Gaither, if fair, if not the next fair day thereafter, at the late dwelling of Sally Gaither, is not the deceased, near late of said country, deceased, near late of the deceased, consisting of horses, cattle, sheel, hogs, plantation utensils, household and latteen furnituensils, household and lat that a treaty of that nature was signed at Parls. This document was likewise alluded to in the House

It will thus be seen that volumin ous as the papers are that have been laid before parliament, the whole vase arising out of the late negociations is not brought forward; and that questions of the highest, importance remain altogether unexplain-

The nation is already aroused from one end of the kingdom to the other; on the subject of the Income Tax. The universal feeling is, that ie attempting to impose it again, Ministers break their solemn promise, and cannot again be trusted, either in this or any thing.

Marshal Soult, it is said, has received an invitation to enter into the Russian service, and many other Frenchmen, distinguished by their talents for command, or for military administration, have been pressed by the Emperor Alexander to settle in his empire. Several persons who have cultivated the sciences with distinction, have also been invited, under very encouraging circumstances, to settle in Russia. Lacapede, the naturalist, and Chaptal, the chemist, and Ex-Minister of the Interior, have declined the invitation, and are preparing to set out for the United States of America. Several other literati mean, it is said. to pursue the same destination. Such are the results of that narrow policy, which is war. ring against every thing and every person, that is dist nguished for iiberality in France. London, Feb. 10 ... Some further discussion took place last night in the house of commons respecting the treaty signed in Jan. 1815, against Russia, to which it is now openly stated that Great Britain was a party. Lord Castlereagh endeavoured to get rid of the subject by asserting that it was a mere historical fact. It is a fact, however, of too much curiosity and importance to be passed over with that indifference which his Lordship chooses to affect.

We have consequently, in conjunction with their majesties the emperor of Austria, Francis the first, and the king of Prussia, Frederick William, proceeded to form an alliance between us, (to which the other Christian Powers are invited to accede) in which we reciprocally engage, both between ourselves, and in respect to our subjects, to adopt as the sole means to attain this end, the principle drawn from the words and doctrine of our Sa-

Their majestica, the emperor of Austria, the king of Prussia and the emperor of Russia, in consequence of the great events which have distinguished, in Europe, the course of the three last years, and especially of the blessings which it has pleased Divine Providence to sh-d upour these states, whose governments have placed their confidence and their hope in it alone, having acquired the thorough conviction, that it is necessary for insuring their continuance, that the sev ral pow. ers, in their murual retations, an pt the sublime truths which are poped out to us by the eternal Tail.

of the Saviour God: Declare solemnly, That the pr sent act has no other object, man snew in the face of the univers their unwavering determination to adopt for the only rule of their conduct, both in the administration of their respective states, and in their political relation with every other government, the precepts or justice, of charity and of prace, which, far from being solely applicable to private life, ought on the contrary, directly to influence the resolutions of princes, and to guide all their undertakings, as being the only means of giving stability to human institutions, and of remedying their imperiections.

Their majesties have therefore agreed on the following articles-Art. I. In conformity with the words of the Holy Scriptures, which command all men to regard one another as brethren, the three contracking monarchs will remain united by the bonds of a true and indissoluble fraternity; and considering each other as co-patriots, they will lend one another on every occasion. and in every place, assistance, and and support; and regarding ther subjects and armies, as the fathers of their families, they will govern them in a spirit of fractivity with which they are animated, for the protection of religion, peace and jus-

Art. II. Therefore the only governing principle between the above mentioned governments and their subjects, shall be that of rendering reciprocal services; of testifying by an unalterable beniffeence, the metual affection with which they ought to be animated; of considering all as only the members of one christian nation, the three allied princes looking upon themselves as delegated by Providence to govern three ranches of the same fathirty, to wit -Austria, Prussia and Russia; confessing likewise, that the Christian nation of which they and their people form a part, have really horother sovereign than Him, to whom alone power belongs of right, because in Him alone are found all the treasures of love, of science, and of wisdom; that is to say, God, our Divine Saviour Jesus Christ, the Word of the Most High, the Word of Life. Their majesties therefore, recommend, with the most tender solicitude, to their people, as the only means of enjoying that peace which springs from a good tonscience, and which alone is durable, to fortify themselves every day more and more in the principles and exercise of the duties which the Divine Saviour has pointed out to us.

Art. III. All powers, which wish solemnly to profess the sacred principles which have dictated this act. and who shall acknowledge how important it is to the happiness of nations, too long disturbed, that these truths shall honceforth exercise upon human destinics, all the influence which belong to them, shall be received with as much readiness as affection, into this holy alliance.
