For Sale or Exchange.

I will sell my farm, containing between 4 and 500 acres, on the Patuxent river, between Battle and Island creeks, in Calvert county; well adapted to the staple products of Maryland; bounding in rail timber and fire wood; having an excellent orchard of choice fruits thereon. The building being commodious and convenient; fish, oysters, and wild fowl, to be had abundantly in their seasons, at the very door. I will exchange for a very small farm, in any of the upper counties on the western shore. As it is presumed that those inclined to purchase, or exchange, will view the premises, I deem needless to enter more into detail—letters on the subject will not be attended to; as I wish persons disposed to begin with me to examine my land, and form their opinions from a view thereof, and not from any representation of mine.

Coroner's Inquest.

On the 13th of April 1817, a Coroner's Inquest was held by the subscriber over the body of a man unknown, who floated ashore near the mouth of Carter's creek, Anne-Arundel county. The verdict of the jury was, that he was accidentally drowned. He was about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high; his dress a dark coloured superfine cloth coat, and waist coat, drab cloth pantaloons, flannel drawers, and coarse shoes. He appeared to have been in the water a long time, as the flesh was wanting on many parts, so much so as to render it impossible to describe his features. His pockets contained a single case gold watch, a silver spoon & fork, marked with the letters M. B. two or three small notes issued by the corporation of New-York, also a number of papers written in the French, and a manifest in the English language of a shipment on board the schooner Felicity of 19 kegs of manufactured Tobacco, 1 barrel and 6 boxes, taken at New-York on the 15th day of January 1816; in the Manifest was the name of Maxim Bergan; also an order to receive on board the ship Clifton, Capt. Davis, some cases, barrels &c. for General Camera, marked M. B. and dated Baltimore, November 16, 1816, and signed by Peter Geo. Damer.

To Travellers.

Persons travelling to Baltimore will find it much the nearest and best road by way of the "Middle Ferry," formerly Holland's ferry, which is now kept in good order, and constant attendance, by Henry Johnson and Wm. Arnold; where liquors and horse feed can be had. The road between the ferry and Baltimore has lately been straightened and improved, and is only three miles from the ferry to Mrs. Carroll's Bridge, where it intersects the Washington turnpike road.

BRILLIANT SPEECH.

To a friend we are indebted for a pamphlet containing the following interesting and eloquent speech. It was delivered on the 5th of December, at the anniversary meeting of the Bible Society at Newcastle, (Eng.) by THOMAS KNOTT, a native of Ireland, a member of the Society of Friends, and not nineteen years of age. The publisher of the speech remarks, that "the audience unequivocally testified their astonishment at the brilliancy of language, novelty of matter, and comprehensive power of so young a man."

Unaccustomed as I am to speak in a public assembly, it is, worthy chairman, with embarrassed feelings upon this important occasion that I obtrude myself on your attention. When I find myself in the presence of this numerous and respectable meeting, and see around me so many superior to myself in age, wisdom and acquirement, I am ready to shrink from this public expression of my sentiments, and silently with yours to unite my secret aspirations; but under the influence of that feeling which the proceedings of the evening have excited, I address you, and let the cause which I plead be the apology for its humble advocate. It has, my assembled friends (for all who are friends to the Bible must be friends to each other) fallen to our lot to live in an age unprecedented in the annals of the world—an age pregnant with events which no human calculation could untold, whether we recur to the political phenomena which have appeared in our own hemisphere; those remarkable revolutions which subverted kingdoms and shook empires to their centre—or to the more widely extended and prosperous efforts of modern philanthropy, which have commanded the approbation of an approving world. But, if we cannot recount the numerous offsprings of our christian charity, or number the many valuable institutions which do honor to human nature, and exalt the British character, we shall find that one, the most noble in its object, extensive in operation, beneficial in its tendency and successful in its efforts, to be the British and Foreign Bible Society, which whether watched in its infancy, followed in the rapidity of its progress, or viewed in its extent and grandeur, declares the pointed finger of that superintending Providence, whose resistless agency no circumstances can controul, and who gave it birth at the most unexpected and unlikely period. It was not when peace had hushed the tumults of the camp, and opened every port to receive the friendly messenger. No! it was when Europe was in arms, and the tocsin sounded but to summon embattled nations to the sanguinary contest—it was when our national existence was in danger, and the venerable fabric of our religion was assailed by the deadly shafts of infidelity; it was then that, in the capital of the British empire, this institution was founded, which summoned all christendom to rally round one standard—the Bible! the receptacle of our common faith, no matter under what name we have been born, no matter what may be the sentiments of our adoption! Every one who believed in the immortality of the soul, in the necessity of divine revelation, was called upon to unite, protect, and exalt the ark of the new covenant. This grand union did in effect soften that asperity of feeling which so frequently arises from a difference in sentiment, and brought into action those sympathies of our nature which Creed and Party have had the never failing tendency to extinguish.

This institution so healing in its practices, flourished under the auspices of princes, under the patronage of the senate, the pulpit, the judgment seat; it roused the dormant energies of every class of the community, from the royal inhabitant of the palace, to the inmate of the humble cottage; it took root in the British soil, and made the inhabitable world the sphere of its exertions; it knew no geographical boundaries, its limits were the circumference of the globe.—The simplicity of the design was compatible with its importance—to circulate the sacred volume without
