OF THE ARABS.

BY ARCHIBALD ROBINS.

THE narratives and journals of Travellers, Adventurers, the Shipwrecked and Prisoners, are often told with exaggerations, and not unfrequently condemned as deceiving, rather that informing the world .-The author of the proposed JOURNAL is a citizen of Connecticut, and one of the suffering crew of Caplain RILEY. He has seen life in a sphere uncommon to his countrymen-he has endured miseries uncommon to human nature. By the blessings of a merciful Providence he has sur vived to detail his sufferings to the world. If truth will excite astonishment, and even occasion incredality, he cannot help it: but he is resolved to tell a plain unvarnished tale of extreme suffering -of the manners, customs and habits of the extraordinary people among whom he andured it. He-will, submit it tothe world, hoping that the liberali-ty of the public will, in a small degree, compensate him for his suffering, by reading the tale of it.

TERMS.
