SALE OF A WIFE. Much indignation has been excited against a man in the Western States who sold his wife for $25 dollars. Under favour, this is no bad specimen of the state of the market for that article in this country. In the last prices varied in England from sixpence to two guineas; they may be either scarce or of a better quality in the new world.

REVIVAL OF RELIGION. By a letter from an acquaintance residing in the city of Richmond, we have satisfied our information of a considerable revival of religion amongst the Methodists of that city. About three weeks since they had just eighty members, and the present number of their extension was very noticeable. This favoured by the Lord, it became then to consider the deep darkness which covered many of the poor in all our populous cities. Accordingly they made a successful attempt to organize a Sunday school in the Methodist Church. And we are much pleased to be able to add that the Presbyterian and Protestant brethren, emboldened by the success in this labor, are of love proceeded forthwith in like manner to organize similar schools in each of their churches.

Christian Messenger.

From English Papers. Committed to Wilton Gaol.—An American sailor, who had lost his right arm, and the fingers of his right, charged with robbing a young woman named Laver, of Curry, Ravell, on Tuesday, of a bundle of clothes, and her pocket containing some silver and other articles. Having clasped her neck with the stump of his left arm, he took a knife from his pocket with his only hand; opened it between his teeth, and threatened to murder her, if she made the least noise.

A private letter from Paris, draws a curious picture of the state of the public mind in some of the French Departments. A sudden change of sentiment has been effected on religious subjects, it appears, by the well-meanting, but perhaps over-zealous exertions of a mere handful of Catholic Missionaries. They have, it seems, selected for their experiments the districts which 20 years ago, were most infected with the maniacal principles of the Revolution. Around Nantz and Bordeaux nothing now attracts so much the attention of the traveler as the daily pilgrimages of repentant and converted Atheists to crosses erected by themselves to expiate their former crimes against Religion. The exertions of these Missionaries are certainly praiseworthy, and we have no doubt will contribute towards that reformation in morals, which we trust is gradually spreading among the French people.

Mrs. Eades, of Weyhill, has now a hive of bees, which she became possessed of in the following singular manner. During the late swarming time, as she was passing along the road near the church, she observed a swarm of bees in the air, which she followed until they got to a considerable distance from any trees or hedges.—They then stopped suddenly and alighted on Mrs. Eades, who immediately returned home, literally covered with them. In the garden, Mrs. E. took off a part of her clothes, and having placed a hive over the bees, they took to it, and are now doing well. Mrs. E. escaped without receiving a single sting.

They write from Poland, that a forester having heard that a reward of 500 crowns was offered to any person who would kill a wolf which was the terror of the neighbourhood, he resolved to obtain it. This furious animal, accustomed during the late campaigns, to live upon the dead bodies of soldiers, would not attack the flocks, but used to fly upon the shepherds and devour them. The forester took his child, only about two years old, and fastened it to a tree near his cottage, with a view to attract the animal, while he remained upon the watch with a musket. The wolf came, and was justly killed; the infant sustained no injury, and the man claimed the reward.

Mallison's Life Preserver.—The Commander in Chief having lately learned, through the official returns, that out of 5511 men embarked for foreign service, 1702 or nearly one third, perished through the transports being wrecked, in the course of 2 years & a half, ordered that experiment of Mallison's Life Preserver should be made in order to ascertain the service which the introduction of the invention into the British army might produce. A series of experiments was accordingly made at Woolwich on Tuesday last, with the happiest effect, in the presence of upwards of fifty officers. Among the rest, a man was selected who could not swim, carried into deep water and left to himself. In a few minutes after, obtaining confidence, he swam across the piece of water, about 90 yards and back, nearly as well as the best swimmer; thus decidedly proving the impossibility of being drowned, when equipped with this simple invention.

Durability of the Cypress tree.—The unperishable cypresses which contain the Egyptian mummies, were of the gates of St. Peter's Church at Rome, which lasted from the time of Constantine to the Pope Eugene the Fourth, and to the year 1720, when they were destroyed, and had in that time suffered no decay. According to the records, the Athenians buried the bodies of their heroes in coffins of cypress, as being not subject to decay. A similar durability has also been ascribed to cedar.

LATEST NEWS. Captain Skiddy, of the Maria Theresa, brings French papers to the 15th of September. They are in the hands of a Translator.

To Captain Benedict, of the fast sailing schooner Weymouth (who has performed a voyage in 72 days) the editors of the Gazette are indebted for London papers of the 15th and Liverpool of the 17th of last month. As they received the papers at late hour last night, the following sketch, given in haste, will be acceptable.

The prices of bread-stuff continued to fall. The fine of the greater, says the Liverpool paper, of the 17th, for some time past, has caused almost universal stagnation in trade. Fine wheats were sold yesterday at a further reduction of 1s to 1s 6d per bushel; and American flour 3 to 4s per barrel, which is 4s to 4s 6d.

Wheat, at the Corn Exchange, on the 15th, had declined in price eight billings a quarter since the preceding week.

Sir John McMahon had died at 4 o'clock.

Accounts from Ireland state, that the typhus fever had begun to subside.

The Prince Regent was landed at Brighton on the 15th, having been absent four days and three nights, during which time he visited the east of France.

The papers speak of the universal revival of trade in all parts of the kingdom, and particularly of the rise of cotton and linen goods.

Lord Wellington had been notified in his prosecution of the printer of the Ghent Journal, and addressed to pay the cost. It is said the Duke had appealed from this decision.

Mrs. Gabbit and 6 children, are passengers in the Aurora, mentioned below, for New-York.

The typhus fever in Ireland was subsiding. No new political speculations appear in the London papers. They are filled with thankful ejaculations to Providence for a bountiful harvest, and for the renewal of business among the manufacturers.

The British manufacturers were going on with spirit; cotton & linen goods were advancing in price.

A dreadful fire broke out on the 5th at Beaugouane, six leagues from Amiens, in France; 45 houses were destroyed.

A solemn mass has been celebrated at Vienna, and throughout Austria, in gratitude to Heaven for the abundant harvest of this year.

The Duke de Fernan Numez is appointed ambassador from Spain to the Court of France.

Every thing proves that the Porte is more than ever disposed to maintain with Austria the relations of amity. The news of military preparation in Turkey is denied.

Papers from Boston, and New-York papers to the 22d of August, had reached London.

EVANS & IGLEHART Having just received a choice and full supply of 100 Dollars Reward. Ranaway from the country residence of the late Francis P. Clements, near the city of Annapolis.

NEGRO JACOB, About 22 years old. Jacob looks sulky and grim, is very noisy & unruly when drunk; has curly hair, large black eyebrows, full eyes, and wide mouth; an olive complexion, is well made, rather sturdily and spare built, active, and about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high. He absconded some time about the first of September last, and was seen in Upper Marlborough, Prince George's County, where he would have been apprehended but for his saying that he was on his way to Col. Joseph Green's in Charles county, who is one of the executors of the late P. F. Clements' will. This negro man has a father and mother (who were sold by Mr. Clements in his lifetime to Mr. Boone, of Prince George's county) now living near Alexandria, Ferry, having been set free by their master, and it is highly probable he is skulking in their neighborhood, concealed by his father, who is an artful fellow. Jacob had on when he went away common summer clothing. Who ever takes up this fellow, and brings him home to the subscriber, living in Annapolis, shall receive the above reward, and all reasonable expenses paid Sarah Clements, One of the Exrs. of P. F. Clements. Oct. 30.

JAMES F. BRICE. Attorney at Law, has just published A Familiar Explanation of the Laws of Wills and Codicils, and of the Laws of Executors and Administrators, and the Rules whereby Estates both real and personal descend, and are to be distributed, in case no will be made, with instructions to every man to make his own will, the necessary form for that purpose, and the forms of other instruments relative to the estates of deceased persons. The whole written as much as possible without the use of law words or terms.

The original work, whence this compilation is derived, was, as this also is, chiefly intended for the benefit of those who are unacquainted either with the doctrines or the forms of law, & who wish to be instructed how to act, without subjecting themselves to the necessity of communicating the knowledge of their private concerns to any other person. This, among other considerations, has induced the author to compile this treatise, so that a book may be always at hand, to which immediate application may be had in those cases of emergency, when every moment is precious; and by means whereof many now daily committed may be avoided, now daily prevented, and the peace of families thereby secured. The compiler has in connexion with the original work, and in order to render the present system the more complete, incorporated therein that portion of the law of this state which is applicable to the estates of deceased persons, and sub joined thereto a digest of the testamentary laws.

This work may be had at this office, at Mr. George Shaw's book store in this city, and at the book store of Mr. Corie, Baltimore.

The editors of the American & Federal Gazette are requested to insert the above in their respective papers once a week for the space of six weeks. Annapolis, Oct. 16.

District of Maryland, to wit: Be it remembered that on the thirtieth day of September in the forty second year of the Independence of the United States of America, James F. Brice of the said District, hath deposited in this office the Title of a Book, the right whereof he claims as Author, in the words following to wit:

"A Familiar Explanation of the Laws of Wills and Codicils, and of the Laws of Executors and Administrators, and also the Rules whereby Estates, both real and personal descend, and are to be distributed in case no will be made, with instructions to every man to make his own will—the necessary forms for that purpose—and the forms of other instruments relative to the estates of deceased persons. The whole written as much as possible without the use of law words or terms. To which is added a Digest of the Testamentary System, by JAMES F. BRICE, Attorney at Law. Nullum. Numen abest, si sit prudentia. In conformity to An Act of the Congress of the United States, entitled, 'An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of Maps, Charts and Books, to the Authors and Proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned,' and also to the act, entitled, 'An act supplementary to the act, entitled, 'An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of Maps, Charts and Books, to the Authors and Proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned, and extending the benefits thereof to the arts of designing, engraving and etching historical and other Prints.'
