

From the Charleston Courier of Nov. 10. INDIAN NEWS.

We learn by an officer of the army, who arrived in town on Sunday last, direct from Fort Hawkins, that hostilities are expected immediately to break out between our troops and the Seminole Indians.

The officer above alluded to, was despatched to the frontiers of the Florida Territory, and will return on Monday next.

St. Charles, Mo., Nov. 11. THE EMIGRATION OF BUTTERFLIES.

The woods here are this week and next week covered with yellow butterflies, migrating at the rate of five miles an hour.

The first individual of the emigration was a male butterfly, which was first seen on the 10th inst.

This phenomenon, not only excites the attention of the student, as being a possibility, and not only a possibility, but a certainty.

From the New York papers.

Extensive sales of Spanish land, in the province of Fyfe's, Ruffin's, and Herd's, are now in progress.

It is stated in a letter from New Orleans, under date of the 11th of October, that the sickness on the coast of that city, has not yet been entirely eradicated.

The Buffalo Journal of Thursday, Nov. 4, states that on Thursday evening, some person set fire to the brick door of the prison in that village.

NEW-YORK, NOV. 18.

The account of the revolution in Algiers is confirmed by the arrival at Boston, on Sunday morning of the brig Orleans, Capt. Jones, in 9 days from Gibraltar.

On the 13th of September a number of Janissaries rebelled round the palace of the Bey, called upon him to descend, as it was their intention to put him to death.

The Bey, being obliged to comply, was taken by the soldiers to the house of the Kishna Aga, where he was strangled.

Capt. Jones confirms also the account of the arrival of the American squadron at Gibraltar. They arrived on the 5th of October, and were laying at quarantine, when the Orleans sailed.

We are sorry to learn that intelligence has been received of the arrival at Fez, about the 1st, of a caravan, with merchandise direct from the interior.

The number of the sick in Algiers, according to official intelligence, have amounted to 150 a day, but the disease has subsided to about 40 deaths daily.

At Oran, and on the frontiers of the kingdom of Morocco, not the least precautions are taken against the plague—notwithstanding this disease has not yet shewn itself to the westward of Algiers.

At Oran, and on the frontiers of the kingdom of Morocco, not the least precautions are taken against the plague—notwithstanding this disease has not yet shewn itself to the westward of Algiers.

At Bona the disease is said to have subsided; at Constantia the daily number of deaths amounts to 100.

From the Philadelphia True American. VILLAINY.

The Mayor's Court of this city adjourned on Wednesday last, after a session of sixteen days.

Among other interesting cases was an indictment against Miller, for a misdemeanor, in seducing a free negro from the city, and selling him as a slave in the state of Delaware.

The object they have in view must entitle them to the sympathy & the good wishes of every friend of liberty.

The subscribers have too much respect for the constituted authorities of their country, to attain the motives or the object of the Legislature of the United States, in enacting the law under which these respectable gentlemen are now criminals.

It is sincerely hoped that the subject will attract the notice of the friends of humanity, and particularly of the Abolition Society.

Most extraordinary outrage.

To-day at noon, as the right hon. Lord Erskine, accompanied by a lady, was driving in an open carriage, into Holborn, from Fleet-street, the crowd of carriages, which at that time were passing along Holborn-bridge, occasioned a temporary stoppage of the vehicles that were proceeding through Fleet street.

Lord Erskine stretching out his whip before the cart-horses' head, and with no more force, it appears, than was proper to intimate a wish to restrain the intended irregularity, was instantly assailed by the driver with a violence and ferocity which the feelings of a man cannot bear to recite, or to repeat in terms of adequate indignation & abhorrence.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12, 1817.

From the National Intelligencer.

The proclamation of neutrality in 1793 by president Washington, was far from receiving the sanction of general approbation, in the favor of the prevailing zeal for the success of the French revolution.

There are points of resemblance in the present period to that to which we refer; and so much more exact is due to the late law of neutrality than was due to the proclamation referred to, inasmuch as the act was the act of an individual, the other of the collected interested counsels of the nation.

Not only is the policy of neutrality that which belongs to the nation under the present aspect of things, but we cannot conceive any change which will vary the opinion.—If we recognize the independence of one or more of these provinces, our position, in regard to any war in which the provinces are engaged, remains the same; for, it is presumed, an alliance in their cause against Spain, does not enter into the views of any but those who are borne away by the most unregulated passion for military renown.

There may be some of our readers who do not recollect the distinct avowal publicly made by our government, of the course it intended to pursue in regard to the contest between Spain and her colonies.

Extract of a letter from hon. James Monroe, secretary of state, to the Chevalier de Onis, on the extraordinary and ministerial proposition of his catholic majesty, dated, Department of State, January 19, 1815.

In reply to your demand, of the exclusion of the flag of the revolting provinces, I have to observe, that in consequence of the unsettled state of many countries, and repeated changes of the ruling authority in each, there being, at the same time, several competitors, and each party bearing its appropriate flag, the president thought it proper, some time past, to give orders to the collectors not to make the flag of any vessel a criterion or condition of its admission into the ports of the U. States.

In the differences which have subsisted between Spain and her colonies, the United States have observed all proper respect to their friendly relations with Spain.

What will be the final result of the civil war, which prevails between Spain and her Spanish provinces in America, is beyond the reach of human foresight.

At Bona the disease is said to have subsided; at Constantia the daily number of deaths amounts to 100.

The trial pending in Baltimore county court since Friday morning, was an action brought by the Rev. GEORGE DASHFIELD against CHAS. WORTHINGTON and WIFE, for certain words alleged to have been spoken of the plaintiff, tending to injure him in his professional character as a minister of the gospel.

The pleadings of the counsel were concluded about half past two o'clock; and the jury, after retiring about ten minutes, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The above brief notice continued. The above brief notice has been suggested, for the purpose of rendering unnecessary any other publication on the subject.—Gaz.

From the N. Y. Gazette. ANOTHER DUEL.

On Thursday, a Mr. ***** and Mr. ***** in compliance with the proclamation of his Excellency the Governor, went to the sacred ground of Hoboken, to make their offerings at the shrine of the gods of duelling.

In perfect good nature they fired two rounds; on the third, ***** fell. The ball entered his right side, lodged in his left. His life was at first despaired of; but there is now said to be a prospect of his recovery, and of his being able to stand more blood in so noble a cause!

The origin of the dispute is said to have been as trivial as usual. In short, every part of the affair was conducted in a style truly worthy of "men of honour." They now receive the meed of their heroic action—public notice—notice as men of unquestioned and unquestionable honour! The heart of an amiable partner is indeed agonized at the sight of her husband's living martyrdom to this barbarous custom.

But he bids her rememver the blood she sees flowing washes away every vestige of dishonour; and to his son, who witnesses the scene, he says in prospect of what may await him, "I leave you an invaluable legacy, a father's reputation, spotless in the eyes of the world." The boy asks, "is it honorable in the sight of God?"

To present arguments against duelling to a sober minded man, would be to insult both his understanding and his heart; and can there be no chain forged, to bind those madmen who practice it; is the reputation of these foul blots on the human character attributable to the defect of the law, or its execution?—If the existing laws are not adequate to the prevention of this practice, in mercy to society, let there be a law enacted, which shall hang every man that shall, in any way be accessory to a duel. P.

From the Norfolk Herald, Nov. 17. DREADFUL HURRICANE IN THE WEST INDIES.

From captain Williams, of the brig Louisa, from Antigua, we learn that a dreadful hurricane arose on the 21st ult. in the West Indies, the violence of which was particularly felt at St. Lucie, Barbadoes, Martinique, and St. Vincent, where considerable damage was sustained by the shipping and estates generally.

At St. Lucie, the gale was more particularly severe. All the vessels in that port were entirely lost; the government house was blown down, and all within its walls, comprising the governor, his lady, and his staff, secretaries, servants, amounting in all to about 50 persons, were buried in its ruins. Not one survived the dreadful catastrophe. And still more horrible relate, the officers and soldiers' barracks, were, by the same pitiless gust, demolished, and all within them at the time, about two hundred souls, were precipitated into eternity. All the estates of the island nearly desolated, and not learn that any vessels were lost.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

At St. Vincent, the gale was equally destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Dominica, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French. At Martinique, the gale was also very destructive. The fortifications were all lost. Captain Williams certainly recaptured some of the vessels which were taken by the French.

MARYLAND GAZETTE. Annapolis, Thursday, Nov. 27.

The trial pending in Baltimore county court since Friday morning, was an action brought by the Rev. GEORGE DASHFIELD against CHAS. WORTHINGTON and WIFE, for certain words alleged to have been spoken of the plaintiff, tending to injure him in his professional character as a minister of the gospel.

The pleadings of the counsel were concluded about half past two o'clock; and the jury, after retiring about ten minutes, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The above brief notice continued. The above brief notice has been suggested, for the purpose of rendering unnecessary any other publication on the subject.—Gaz.

From the N. Y. Gazette. ANOTHER DUEL.

On Thursday, a Mr. ***** and Mr. ***** in compliance with the proclamation of his Excellency the Governor, went to the sacred ground of Hoboken, to make their offerings at the shrine of the gods of duelling.

In perfect good nature they fired two rounds; on the third, ***** fell. The ball entered his right side, lodged in his left. His life was at first despaired of; but there is now said to be a prospect of his recovery, and of his being able to stand more blood in so noble a cause!

The origin of the dispute is said to have been as trivial as usual. In short, every part of the affair was conducted in a style truly worthy of "men of honour." They now receive the meed of their heroic action—public notice—notice as men of unquestioned and unquestionable honour! The heart of an amiable partner is indeed agonized at the sight of her husband's living martyrdom to this barbarous custom.

But he bids her rememver the blood she sees flowing washes away every vestige of dishonour; and to his son, who witnesses the scene, he says in prospect of what may await him, "I leave you an invaluable legacy, a father's reputation, spotless in the eyes of the world." The boy asks, "is it honorable in the sight of God?"

To present arguments against duelling to a sober minded man, would be to insult both his understanding and his heart; and can there be no chain forged, to bind those madmen who practice it; is the reputation of these foul blots on the human