A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, it appeareth unto me by an Inquisition taken before John Anquith, Esquire, one of the Coronors of Baltimore county, that a most atrocious murder was committed on the person of a certain William Henry McElbain, a citizen of the city of Baltimore, by some unknown person, on or about the twenty second day of October last, which Inquisition hath been returned to me accompanied by a memorial of sundry respectable persons, inhabitants of the city of Baltimore, praying the interposition of Government: And whereas the quiet and security of the State depend on the vigilance of the constituted authorities in causing the laws against such enormities to be duly executed: I have therefore thought proper to issue this my Proclamation, and do by and with the advice and consent of the Council, offer a reward of Five Hundred Dollars to any person who shall discover the author or perpetrator of the aforesaid murder, provided he be brought to justice: Given under my hand and the seal of the State of Maryland this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventeen.
