COUNCIL CHAMBER, Annapolis, Feb. 15, 1818.
GENTLEMEN,
I have the satisfaction to communicate to the honorable general assembly, that the payment of the claim of the state of Maryland for the expenses of the militia, has been assumed by the general government. The enclosed is from the agent, a Washington, contains an assurance also, that the claim will be settled with promptitude and liberality. The statement of this claim, as soon as it is the most satisfactory evidence of intrinsic justice, while the documents before communicated, illustrate the distinguished ability and zeal with which it has been conducted by the agent of the state.
The finances of the state, restored by the payment of the claim, the injuries and destruction occasioned by the deprivations of the enemy being repaired, and the citizens of the state in general, entering with increased ardor, and unwonted harmony on the prosecution of the peaceful pursuits of civil life, I cannot forbear, in the moment of our separation, congratulating the honorable the general assembly on the prosperity of Maryland. Her speedy restoration to a situation of unprecedented peace and calmity, to one of vigorous prosperity, affords the best proof of the wisdom which has guided her councils, and the firm patriotism of her people: while from it we may draw a fresh practical illustration, that a people true to themselves and their country, have nothing to fear from domestic calamity, or the assaults of foreign hostility.
I have the honor to be, with great respect, your most obedient servant,
C. RIDGELY, of Hampton, Speaker of the house of delegates, Washington, Feb. 14th, 1818.

...NINIAN PINKNEY, Clerk of the House of Delegates.
...Which was read.
On motion of Mr. Jenifer the following resolution was introduced and assented to.
Resolved, That the governor and council be and they are hereby authorized to invest the amount of the sum assumed by the general government due to this state, in such manner as they may deem most expedient.
The house adjourned on the first Monday in December next.

REFLECTIONS FOR SATURDAY FEBRUARY 16.
He that is without sin, let him first cast a stone at the Saviour.
This said the Saviour of the world, to certain scribes and pharisees, who raised their voices against a miserable man who had broken one of the commandments of God. How penetrating is the eye of God in his operations upon the hearts of men! How self-condemning is the light of his truth upon the consciences of all who are in his presence!

...ANOTHER BATCH OF BANKS.
A bill has passed the House of Representatives of Kentucky establishing thirty-three independent banks, with a joint capital of six millions four hundred and seventy thousand dollars, and it is said the bill will probably pass the Senate.
The evils this extraordinary bank infatuation will create to the community, must be felt for half a century. A new idea appears to have sprung up, that the only way to destroy the monopoly of banking, is to make it universal.—This is a novel method of restoring the health of the body politic by extending the disease to the whole system. The legislature of this state has acted, in some measure, under the influence of the same ignis fatuus. We believe they have chartered eight new banks during the present session. The only certain result of these measures must be, to bring eventual distress upon all classes of the community. If it is the object of our politicians to restore equality to the system, they will undoubtedly succeed; but it will be an equality of wretchedness, which our children's children will not cease to bewail.—Cincinnati Gazette.

...Nashville, Jan. 31.
TENNESSEE TROOPS.
This is the day appointed by Gen. Jackson, for the concentration of the troops at Fayetteville. Part of the troops from this county assembled and marched from here two days since—and yesterday about one hundred fine looking men passed through this place on their way to Fayetteville, under the command of Major Cook, from Robertson county.
KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS.
A company of volunteers, from Russellville, commanded by captain R. Chittenden, and handsomely equipped, passed through this place a few days since on their way to join Gen. Jackson.
The annexed order has been printed by authority of Gen. Jackson, for the purpose of being distributed among the troops after their organization.
GENERAL ORDER.
Volunteers of West Tennessee—Once more, after a repose of three years, you are summoned to the field. Your country having again need for your services, has appealed to your patriotism, and you have met it promptly. The cheerfulness with which you have appeared to encounter the hardships and perils of a winter's campaign, affords the highest evidence of what may be expected of you in the hour of conflict & trial. The savages on your border unwilling to be at peace, have once more raised the tomahawk to shed the blood of our citizens, and already they are assembled in considerable force to carry their murderous schemes into execution. Not contented with the liberal policy that has from time to time been shewn them; but yielding themselves victims to foreign seducers, they vainly think to assail and conquer the country that protects them. Stupid mortals!—They have forgotten too, soon the streams of blood their ill-fated policy heretofore cost them. They have forgotten too that but a short time since conquered & almost destroyed, they were only preserved by the mildness and humanity of that country which they now oppose. They must now be taught, that however benignant & humane that country in the yet has sacred rights to protect, and with impunity will not permit the butchery of her peaceable and unoffending citizens.
BRAVE VOLUNTEERS—The enemy you are going to contend with, you have heretofore met and fought. You have since done it and can again conquer them! You go not to fight but to be victorious; remember, then, that the way to prove successful, is not to follow, inattentive to the life of a soldier,

...by bearing and standing with the orders of officers, and being constantly mindful of the obligations you are under, the four county and for yourself. Subordination and attention to discipline are all important and indispensable, without them, nothing like a system can be preserved, and this being wanted, nothing favourable can result. But in you, every confidence is reposed. Your General will not believe that brave men, who have so promptly come forth at the call of their country, will withhold their assent to regulations which can assure them safety and success. Hardships and dangers are incident to war, but brave men will bear them without murmuring or complaining.—Knowing you to be such, no fears are entertained but that every duty imposed on you, will be met with promptness and cheerfulness.
Your general goes before you to open the way and prepare for your reception. Confiding in your diligence and exertions, he will expect your arrival at your destined point, without unnecessary delay—led by Col. Arthur P. Hayne, an officer in whom he has every confidence.—This being effected, he will place himself at your head, and with you share the dangers and hardships of the campaign.
ANDREW JACKSON.

...ATHENS, (Ga.) Feb. 5.
We are informed general Jackson and suite lodged about 16 miles below this place the last Saturday night, on his way to assume the command just assigned him by the Secretary of War.
DEFEAT OF THE PATRIOTS IN MEXICO.
Translated from the Havana Diary of January 25, received at the office of the Baltimore Patriot.
Dispatch from Col. Joaquin Marquez y Donallo, to the Viceroy of Mexico.
GLORY TO THE GOD OF ARMS!
Fort of Coporo, 1st Dec. 1817, half past 7, P. M.
MOST EXCELLENT SIR,—Last night I advanced my batteries with in pistol shot of the enemy's fort, and there I erected another battery opposite the principal gate with two pieces of artillery. At 5 o'clock in the morning, the fire began through all the line, to which the enemy answered as they had done before. This last battery did, them a great deal of injury, opened a large breach, and dismounted one cannonade. When I perceived this, I disposed myself to the assault, and for this effect, at dark, I united the three companies of grenadiers of Ordenes and Alobera, and marched with them to the breach, having learned by some deserters that the enemy wanted to escape on account of the great injury he suffered from our artillery. After having filled up the trenches, I placed myself at the head of the column with my adjutants, Capt. Martinez and Guerrero, and Lt. Marquez, having ordered before the captain of the regiment of Mexico, Don Ramon de la Madrid, to assault on the left, with 40 men of the battalion of St. Louis. This was so promptly executed, that an enemy's gunner was surprised with the match in his hand; he had no time to fire a gun, which was loaded with grape. The enemy began to throw themselves through a narrow pass, called Las Cuevas de Pastrana, for which reason I ordered Lt. Col. Barradas, assisted by Capt. Rayon, as his guide, to follow them, by which movement we took 95 rebels, with their arms, and a great number of women. Amongst the prisoners are Col. Pedro Rodriguez, Major Ignacio Balis, and the adjutant of the chief Bravo.—We have found in the fort 6 pieces of artillery, munitions, arms, and several other effects. A number of our enemies were laying, some wounded and some dead.
God preserve your excellency many years.
JOAQUIN MARQUEZ DONALLO. [Extraordinary Gazette of the Government of Mexico.
The Havana papers of the 27th and 28th ult. are filled with particulars of this capture, which, as we present the despatch containing the decision of the affair, we consider unnecessary to publish. Col. Donallo confesses, that in all the military operations in which he has been an actor, in both hemispheres, he never has experienced so severe privations, his army having been several days without sleeping, & destitute of but a very small share of provisions. Yet from his own account he did not lose a man! He
