Mr. Goldsborough offered for consideration the following resolution:

Resolved, That in addition to the harbors and waters to be surveyed by a resolution of the 18th instant, for the purpose that two suitable locations may be selected for the establishment of arsenal ports, the President of the United States be and he is hereby requested, for the purpose aforesaid, to cause surveys to be made of the harbour of Annapolis, and the adjacent water of the Severn. Adopted.

FOREIGN.
London, Feb. 5.
Paris papers to the 3d inst. have been received. One of their foreign articles is highly interesting to British feeling, but we are glad to perceive that the relation in question ends with an expression of doubt as to the accuracy of the bombastic and exaggerated account of the detail of more outrages at Algiers, contained in a letter from Genl. de la 15th of January, purporting to be related by the vice-consul from the Sardinian Court to Algiers, who had fled from the scene of horror. It is stated that the vice-consul of Sardinia, at Algiers, had arrived at Genoa, who relates the following facts: A Sardinian brig had been captured and carried into Algiers and under the pretence that her persons were not regular. The vice-consul protested against the capture, and proceeded to the palace of the Dey, with his colleagues and other consuls. The Dey returned them sword in hand, surrounded by his guards. The English vice-consul presented himself at the palace to complain of acts of violence which had been committed against his person and his two nieces. They had been stopped in the street by a young man had been thrown into a dungeon, and the two ladies had been conveyed to the seraglio. Exchequers to the House of Commons, the preceding day, relative to the financial state of the country, in which he states that there was an actual diminution of National Debt during the last year to the amount of 7,000,000, or thereabouts. There was an increase of funded debt of about 12,000,000, and the whole amount about 57,000,000; the diminution was on the debt, about 19,000,000. The Chancellor concluded by moving a grant of 24,000,000, to pay off the paper bills under the act of session, now outstanding and provided for.

The Editors of the Mercantile Advertiser have been favoured with a loan of a London paper of the 1st of February, brought by the nervous Smyth. It contains the report made by the Chancellor of the Exchequers to the House of Commons, the preceding day, relative to the financial state of the country, in which he states that there was an actual diminution of National Debt during the last year to the amount of 7,000,000, or thereabouts. There was an increase of funded debt of about 12,000,000, and the whole amount about 57,000,000; the diminution was on the debt, about 19,000,000. The Chancellor concluded by moving a grant of 24,000,000, to pay off the paper bills under the act of session, now outstanding and provided for.

The details of the terrible atrocity stated in the French papers, on the authority of letters from Genl. de la 15th of January, are not confirmed by the accounts in the Dutch and Hamburg papers, which have subsequently been received. The Hamburg paper, however, repeats a part of the dreadful intelligence. According to the information thus derived, the murder of the British vice-consul's son was not perpetrated but threatened. The former accounts from Algiers alleged the forcible consignment of the British vice-consul's daughter to the harem of the reigning despot, and the murder of his son, before his eyes, by the same barbarous authority, and in the presence of the assembled ministers of the European powers. The Hamburg papers mention only the niece of the Sardinian consul as being so insulted. Thus, however, from various sources of intelligence, we learn, that a great outrage has been committed, but, as truths of painful nature are seldom lessened in the repetition, we may conclude that the latter account is the only one which should be fully credited. Of the insufficiency of treaties with such chiefs as to those of Moorish Africa, to restrain their people from the barbarities which have become habitual with them, this affair is another proof. When will the jarring and jealous ambition of the European powers allow them to take the only proper mode of establishing a civilized power on the coasts of Moorish Africa? It is stated in these papers on the authority of letters from Constantinople, that the deys of Tunis and Algiers have concluded a treaty of peace under the guarantee of the grand signior, and at the same time, in conjunction with the dey of Tripoli, have entered into an offensive and defensive alliance with the emperor of Morocco. If this intelligence be true, it will in some degree, account for the arrogance of the present dey of Algiers. The king of Sardinia is stated to have issued orders, in consequence of the above outrage, to fit out a squadron for the purpose of demanding satisfaction.

The Congress of Sovereigns, it is now said, is to be held at Aix-la-Chapelle.
By the articles from Sweden, we find that Prince Oscar, the son of Bernadotte, is authorised to exercise the powers of sovereignty in Sweden, whenever the King and his father shall be both ill, or both absent. The anticipation of such events, not mentioned as likely at present was probably meant only to call out an indirect confirmation & acknowledgment of Oscar's rights; an acknowledgment, which could not be directly required, without implying some doubt as to their original sufficiency.
Prince Frederick Joseph Louis, of Hesse Homburg, is in his 49th year, being born in July, 1767. He distinguished the Austrian hussars with distinguished gallantry; and we learn from officers that served with him, that he is an officer of great military merit. His union with our amiable Princess Elizabeth fixed; his serene highness will be introduced at the prince's levee on Thursday next. The marriage will take place at Easter. The princess Elizabeth will have a marriage portion of 40,000, and her annual income is 15,000, a year. Her intended consort is hereditary prince, and the reigning Duke is in his 71st year.
