CONGRESS

HOUSE OF REPRESENTAL TIVES.

Tuesday, Dec. 1. The following gentlemen were announced to day as the ommittee of inquiry into the conduct of the Bank of the United States; Medirs. Spanger, Lowndes, M'Lane, Bryan and Taylor.

Mr. Linn, of New-Jersey, offered the following resolution. "Resolved, That the committee ppointed on so much of the mesage of the president of the United. States as relates to the unlawful in troduction of sizves into 'the, United States, be instructed to inquire into the expediency of passing a law prohibiting the migration or transportation of slaves or servants of colour from any state to any uther part of the United States in cases where, by the laws of such state, such transportation is prohibited; and that they have leave to report it by bill or otherwise."

Mr. Linn said, in introducing his resolution, that it related to a subject of much interest in his part of the country, and, as the resolution only proposed an inquiry, he hoped it would not be objected to.

Mr Poindexter, of Mississippi. objected to it. Any man, he said had a right to remove his property from one state to another, & slaves as well as any other progerty, if not prohibited from doing so by the state laws. With those laws whatever they were, the United States, e said, had no right to interfere. The idea was a perfectly novel one, that there should be a double set o penal statutes on the same subject. one set by the states and one by the United States; and that the military force of the United States should be employed to carry into effect the penal statute of any state. How were the United States to interfere on this subject? What judicial tribunal would they resort to. to effect the object contemplateu? Any penal statute they could pass on the subject, Mr. P. said, would be entirely nugatory, as it could not be carried into effect; and he was therefore, opposed even to an in quiry into the subject. Mr. Colstono! Virginia, in addition to what had fallen from Mr Poindexter, in opposition to the te solution, suggested that it was per fectly within the power of the state sovereignties to execute any law they might enact on this subject more effectually than they could do y the aid of the authority of the United States.

The question on the passage of the resolve was then taken, and d cided in the negative-ayes 60noes 63.

The question on the passage of the bill was finally decided in the affirmative without division; and it was sent to the senate for concurrence.

Beaumarchais' claim occupied the remainder of the sitting. Adjourned.

CLAIM OF BEAUMARCHAIS.

The house then again resolved tself into a comattee of the who e, Mr. Smith of Md. in the chair, on the bill reported by the select committee for the relief of the hens of Caron de Beaumarchais.

Mr. Talimadge resumed the dean hour in apposition to the claim and the bill. He was followed by

Mr. Bassett, in a speech of about the same le gth, in support of the claim, and in defence of the report of the committee thereon. Mr. Balawin added some remarks on the same side, and in ripiy to gentiemen who had opposed the claim; after which Tre committee rose and reported the bill without amendment to the

So the bili was rejected. Mr. Smith of M . from the comnotter of ways and means, reported a bill making a partial appropriation for the military service of the year 1819, and to make good a deficit in the appropriations for holding tr. as with the Indians-which was wice read and comm tted:
