THE BIBLE

AY MONTGOMERY. What is the world! a wildering maze, Where sin bath tracked ten thousand WAYS.

Her victims to enspare; All broad and winding, and aslope, All tempting with pertidious hope, All ending in despair.

Millions of pilgrims through these Bearing their baubles, on their loads,

Down to eternal night; One humble path that never bends, Narrow, and rough and steep, as cends.

From darkness into light,

There is a guide to show that path; The Bible.—He alone who hath The Bible, need not stray; But he who hath and will not give That Heavenly Guide to all that live, Himself shall lose the way.

. From the Federal Republican.

A very insidious attempt has been made to injure Mr. Charles Goldsborough in the opinion of his fellow citizens contiguous to the District of Columbia, by denouncing him as hostile to the District, and therefore unfit to be supported by them as the Governor of the state. This calumny is of domestic originought to be strictly scrutinized and it will be found as malicious as it is cunning, and as false as it was designing.

His votes have been arraighed whilst member of Congress on the subject of removal of the seat of government and rebuilding the public uildings at Washington in the year 1815. One or two prefatory remarks may be useful on this sub-

Upor the subject of rebuilding the public buildings in the city of Washington after the conflagration in allusion to the views of the members of Congress of that time, the true and 'air statement is this-viz: There were many members who were decidedly opposed to the con tinuation of Congress at Washington, and they were from all parts of the United States, but the whole of this number was inconsiderable in comparison to the whole number of this body. A great difference of opinion existed among the friends of the District of Columbia, as to the location of the public buildings "whether it should be where they stood before they were burnt down.' wheth r they should be concentrated on Capitol hill." or "near the President's house," or in some other situation. On the different votes upon these different points, many persons who were disposed to be friendly to the District were united with those who were opposed to the Distric, and so their names are re corded upon the aves and noes just as they might harmonize or not in opinion about the location of the public buildings. But it is not fair, or just, or true to say, that those whose names are recorded with the opponents of the District, upon local questions, all confined to the limits o the District, are for that reason opponents themselves to the D strict. It is true also, and ought to be stated, that there was another class of men in Congress who did who did not feel ic, who often it conversation expressed themselves indifferent; who, when they came to vote, had no idea or intention of removing the seat of government from the District of Columbia, but who had very different opinions from others, as well as among themselves, as to the most eligible situation for the public buildings. This explains the different sects of members in regard to these subjects. Now let us revert to the recorded

The first thing upon this subject Is Mr. Fisk's "Bill for the tempora-ry removal of the seat of govern ment"-when read, Mr. Rhea of Tennessee, moved to reject the bill -Mr. Stockton moved to adjourna motion for adjournme t having preference of all others, the question was taken & lost, Mr. C. Goidsborough voting against adjournings of the House of Representa.

tives, Oct. 1814,

Pige 70 .- Question was put on Mr. Fisk's bill—'shall the bill be rejected," question lost; but Mr. G. Goldsborough voted to reject

Page 72 .- Question taken, shall the bill be engross dand read a third time, (meaning:Mr. Fisk's bill for the femporary, removal of the seat of government) is was determined

In the pentities, which has would to rejections for C. Goldsboroogicots ed against its being engroused, and read, third lines. In all these votes, Dr. Rens of Prince Gange's, vat. ed with Mr. C. Goldsborough, and Dr. Kent knows this fact. Thus, then, the question of removal of the seat of government from Wathington was presented in its most invit ing, most insidious form, yet under every aspect, Mr. C. Goldsborough not only meets the question, but opposes the removal, an is recorded upon the aves and noes.

Pages 623, 624 of votes and proceedings of House of Representa-tives, February, 1815. The first vote only goes to the location of the public offices, whether near the Capitol or where they formerly stood. -Page 625-Mr. Sanford's motion was for the concentration of the public buildings, on which many or the warmest friends to the District being the s at of government, did differ, and well might differ. When the question was then taken upon the third reading of the bill, the triends of concentrating the public huildings opposed it, upon the ground that the inconvenience had been already experienced of separating these buildings, and as they had now an opportunity to repair that inconvenience by concentration, they voted against the third reading in order to have a new bill. Ayes and noes not taken upon Mr. San'ord's motion, but there can be no doubt, & it is believed, that they were the same as are the bills going to a third reading.

Page 631 .- Mr. Webster's mo tion to make a temporary appropria tion, and to strike out the half million of dollars, was for the purpose of taking time to act upon this subject, thinking that at the next ses sion they would be more dispassion ate, and a better chance afforded to concentrate the public buildings. All the votes that were taken after the rejection of Mr. Fisk's vill, wergiven almost exclusively with a view to the location of the public buildrings in different parts of the district. To draw in interence from his, of Mr. Charles Goldsborough's hostili ty to the district, is unfair and unjust. No man is authorised with truth to say, that he wishes the removal of the seat of government or that he is not equally willing with nthers to give to the district of Columbia every just and proper aid. The records of congress prove this.
