TO THE PUBLIC.

The subscriber will issue, in the course of a few days, the first number of a weekly publication, to be printed on a single sheet, the size of a common newspaper.

As from the plan of the proposed publication, and the nature of its contents, it ought to become a work of permanent utility, it will be printed in the quarto form, so as to be more conveniently preserved, in volumes. A principal portion of each number, will be reserved for essays on AGRICULTURE, GRAZING, the best principles of BREEDING LIVE STOCK—and, in short, for observations on all the various branches of RURAL and DOMESTIC ECONOMY.—The next portion for original and selected articles on miscellaneous subjects, and a brief chronicle of passing events.—And finally, the country subscriber may rely upon finding in each number a correct account of the prices of country produce and of the principal articles in the common market.

This brief exposition will enable the reader to comprehend clearly the scope of the intended publication; which, taking its name from its most prominent feature, will bear the title of 'THE AMERICAN FARMER,' and addressing itself to the interests of all classes, it will not in any way interfere, in mere party contentions. There appears now, happily, to be a growing fondness throughout our country, for agricultural research and experiment; and there can be no doubt that a publication of this nature which should communicate the efforts making, and the lights already acquired by experience, in other states and countries, would excite a feeling of emulation, and give an impulse to public spirit in Maryland, from which the best consequences might be expected to result. 'THE AMERICAN FARMER' will open a new ground, and is not intended, or in its nature, calculated to interfere with any established publication.

For the manner in which his undertaking will be executed, the subscriber can offer only the pledge of some little experience, and an ardent predilection for agricultural pursuits. Besides a valuable collection already made, he has taken measures to be supplied with the new publications of our own country and of Europe, and he expects to be aided by the correspondence of intelligent landholders. With these explanations, offered in sincerity & truth, he informs those who may feel disposed to subscribe, that 'The American Farmer' will be published for $4 per annum, payable half yearly in advance. Seven hundred subscribers are already obtained, and some extra numbers will be stricken off to give complete files to those who may make early application. Subscriptions will be received by me, at No 8 Calvert street. J. S. SKINNER.

P. S. All Editors who will give this address one or two insertions, will lay the Editor under an obligation to reciprocate the favour in any way in his power. J. S. S.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

The Visitors and Governors of St. John's College, have the pleasure of announcing to the Public, that the College has recently been revived under the direction of the Rev. Henry L. Davis, and the Rev. William Rufferty. The former of these gentlemen graduated at Carlisle College during the Presidency of the late celebrated Doctbr Nesbit; and few inhabitants of Maryland, accustomed to mingle in the literary world, will require any recommendation of his learning and ability, or of his experience in the important business of education. Mr Rufferty was educated at Glasgow in Scotland, where he obtained the degree of Master of Arts; and the greater portion of his time, since his departure from that renowned seat of Learning has been devoted to the instruction of youth, both in Europe and America. He produces from gentlemen of high standing both in that country and this, to whom he was well known, the strongest testimonials with regard to character and qualifications. With these gentlemen the Visitors entertain hopes of being soon enabled to associate a Professor of Chemistry; and as the number of pupils, and the funds of the institution increase, additional Professorships will be established.

The regulations of St. John's College have lately been revised and remodelled by the Visitors, who confidently recommend it as possessing advantages equal to any Seminary in America, both in point of discipline, & as a nursery for the attainment of classical Learning, and those branches of science usually taught in Colleges.

Annapolis has long been distinguished for the beauty of its situation, and the salubrity of its air; and being the seat of Government, where the Legislature and Supreme Courts hold their sessions, an opportunity is thereby afforded to the students of hearing the principal orators and lawyers of the state, which cannot but prove highly useful to those, who may be designed for the learned Professions. The students can be accommodated with board for two hundred dollars per annum, & the price of tuition is Forty Dollars per annum; payable quarterly in advance.

It is only intended at this time to submit a brief outline of the course of studies designated by the Board; a more detailed account of this, as well as of the discipline of the College, will be given hereafter.

An extensive selection of the Latin & Greek Classics; the various branches of the Mathematics, viz Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Surveying, Navigation, Conic Sections and Fluxions, Geography with the use of the Globes; Natural Philosophy; Astronomy; Moral Philosophy; Rhetoric; Logic; Field's Essays; Dugald Stewart's Philosophy of the Mind; His tory, and Political Economy. While prosecuting their other studies, particular care will be taken to instruct the students in the nature and evidences of the Christian Religion. Attention will also be paid by the Professors to teach them to read their own language with propriety and elegance; or which purpose they will hear then recite lessons from Walker's Lectures on Elocution, and such English Authors as they may think best adapted to their capacity, & calculated to be most useful to them.

It may be proper to observe, that altho' there is no French Teacher attached to the College, there is a Gentleman in Annapolis who teaches that language, so that the students will have an opportunity of learning it during the hours which are not occupied by Collegiate exercises.

Annapolis, March 30, 1819. The Editors of the Federal Gazette and American, Baltimore, Relf's Gazette, Philadelphia, and National Intelligencer, Washington, will publish the above notice for three weeks, and forward their accounts to this office.
