We are confident, however, that it is only necessary of the civil power of the state for the proper authorities to be made acquainted with the circumstances in order to effect a total discontinuance of such disgraceful and criminal prattices. .

While on this subject we find it our duty to call the attention of the Post Master General to the irregularity of the mails between Baltimore and Bedford. The experience Mail and nine passengers left of many persons who have visited the Bedford Springs this season, authorises us to say that scarcely a letter or paper in the week is delivered at the proper time from the Bedford office. CONFLAGRATION. We have an account of the destruction by fire of upwards of one hundred houses and stores, at St. John's, Newfoundland. Capt. Halett, from Halifax, is the hearer of a Halifax paper, containing the news of this distressing calamity. -NY. Gaz.

ST. John's, NF. July, 24. Extensive and distressing Fire!

Between 1 and 2 o'clock on Monday morning last, a vacant house recently occupied by Mr. George Garland, near Mr. Thomas Williams', was discovered to be on fire; and although the alarm was immediately given, and attended with the utmost alacrity, bef re any number of people had collected on the spot, the whole house was in a blaze. The wind was a point or two to the southward of west, and blew a genstes Mail. The answer was the breeze, which carried the flames should pass until they were of the lane. Bishop's house were with considerable difficulty preserved.

The inhabitants of that part of the town which is destroyed, perceiving at the commencement what little probability there was of preserving the buildings began at an early hour to remove their property, but the short time allowed them for that purpose, enabled very few to save one half of their effects, as the whole work of devastation was concluded in the short space of three or four hours.

By this calamity upwards of one hundred houses, with many very extensive stores, have been destroyed; and the number of innabitants obliged to seek a new shelter in consequence, re thought to amount to from 12 to 1500. The loss of pro pirty has not yet been correctly as certained, but it is said to be at least 150 0001.

Among the buildings destroyed, were the house occupied by Mr. Duggan, the houses and stores of T. Williams & Co. T. Meagher, Sons & Co. James Watson & Co Patrick Dovle, Attwood & Haynes, (recently occupied by and belonging to J. Dunscomb & Co.) Benjamin Bowring, J. Bayly, James Cody, S. Kough, William Culten & Co. Geo. Douglas, Richard Pendergast, Mark Coxon, John Shelgrove, Mrs. Matthews, Dr.

Coleman, John O'Donnel, &c. There is no certainty how the fire originated; but there being an ash heap against the back of the house, it is generally thought that some hot ashes have been carelessly thrown against the dry clapboards, which catching fire has occasioned the mischief.

Bastadt, July 15.

A private letter dated Tunis, June 8, states that the revolt which broke outramong the Arabs on the confines of Tripoli, has been suppressed. The plague having appeared in the Tunisian camp, the Bey pressed the general to hasten his return; the latter entered into negotiations offered on the part of the rebels, and upon receiving considerable contributions in cattle, withdrew his troops and arrived in Tunis yesterday."

London, July 25.

A Common Hall, we understand, is to be held to morrow, for the pur pose of returning the thanks of the Livery to the Lord Mayor, for his efforts to preserve the peace of the city on Wednesday last. Mr. Hunt is expected to be present. He will, no doubt, endeavour to elicit an exposition of the 'horrible plot,' for burning the metropolis, and murdering its peaceable inhabitants. A 'glorious row' may be anticipated.

2 o'clock, PM.

Three days later from London. By the ship Elizabeth, which arrived just as we were ready to go to press, we have received London papers to the 25th of July inclusive. Even. Post.

There had been no meetings of the disaffected since that held at Smith field, and all was quiet in the neighbourhood of London.

It is said to be finally settled, that Mr. Elliston is to have Drury-lane theatre, his offer being the highest. Kean, it is supposed, will come to America.

On the 22d of July the second payment of the loan was made of ten per cent.

Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Daily Advertiser, dated Port Spain, (Trinidad,) July 20.

On Sunday morning, the 18th inst. Mr. Doxey, master, and Mr. Parrot, a midshipman belonging to the U. States ship John Adams, arrived here in her long boat, with 14 men. They reported that they were despatched by Com. 8 days, when they arrived here, and had when they left her but 3 days provisions. They would have fared extremely bad, had it not been for the hospitality of the planters on the south of the island, who gave them provisions! I saw Mr. Doxey and Mr. Parrot, they speak to high terms of the hospitality of the Trinidad planters: I hope they may have reason to speak so of the Go vernment. They arrived here destitute of provisions and money, and with only the suit of clothes they had on their backs. They have been aupplied with both, and are refitting the boat, and will sail for Angostura to morrow morning, where they expect to meet with the

If the siego is persisted in for a few weeks longer, it must inevitably fall, however strongly fortified it may be. The successes of the Independents are glorious and important in this quarter. The establishment, of a good and salutary form of government is; what is requisite at pr sent. But how can so small a number of men, form, in the midst of disorder, confusion and troubles, a substantial government. It is absolutely necessary that they should be counter nanced by some foreign nation-It is essential that their flag should be acknowledged by a friendly power. On viewing the history of the American revolution, can any one assert that that glorious revolution would'have terminated so fortunateiy and so quickly, had they not received the generous aid of France and Spain? Certainly, there can of no doubt, but that the people of the United States; even had they been unassisted by the generosity of foreign nations, would have ultimately succeeded; but the struggle would have been long and bloody. The United States possessed many advantages over the unfortunate people of the South. They knew the meaning and value of libertythey were in the ample enjoyment of that pure liberty of conscience and independence of property, which were bequeathed to them by their forefathers.

These unfortunate provinces, on the contrary, do not possess any advantage --- doomed by tyrantic Spain to wallow in the mire of ignorance, superstition and intellectual darkness for more than three centuries-they were always unatquainted with liberty, although the revolution commenced in some degree fortunately, yet anarchy, division and murder was soon the order of the day-their atruggle has been long and bloody.

The Bill that is now under discussion in Parliament ('Foreign En-'listment Eili') if carried will materially affect the patriotic cause .-They have just begun to be successful -they have just begun to have a: knowledge of the importance of discipline and order-to be in fact, free and independent. At this imporrant crisis the English government is desirous to withdraw heraid, or at Igast her neutrality.
