TAVERN AND BOARDING-HOUSE
 The subscriber is happy to inform his friends and the public, that he has opened a Tavern and Boarding-House at the stand lately occupied by Joseph Daley, next door to Mr. Williamson's Hotel, where Travellers and Boarders will be accommodated by the day, week, month or year, on the most reasonable terms. He has laid in, and will constantly keep on hand, the best assortment of Liquors Parties and Quarters, can be served on the shortest notice, with ducks, oysters and terrapins, and, in the next place if this surplus did all the mischief it is thought to do by the wise men of the world, its cheapness and plenty would rather lessen than increase its avidity with which it is at present sought for. Again, human life, subject to such manifold wretchedness, that all nations have invented a soothing liquid or solid to produce a brief oblivion. Poppies, opium, grasses, sugar, pepper, and a hundred other things have been used, pressed, pounded, & put to produce this temporary happiness. Noblemen, and members of Parliament, have large cellars full of bottled bottles, to enable them to endure the wretchedness of life. The poor man seeks the same end by spending three half pence in gin; but no moralist can endure the idea of gin.
