

PROPOSALS,
publishing in the City of Annapolis, a Periodical Work, to be entitled, RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY REPOSITORY.
to be edited by a society of Laymen members of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The leading views of the Editors are stated in the following note, by one of the persons who will be actively employed in the preparation of the matter for publication. The Religious Magazines which have heretofore been published by members of the church, are, some of them, very useful as they go. My objection to them is, they do not attempt to give us information of which the city, and indeed clergy, are in want, and which is with difficulty to be obtained. In this country the laity have a considerable participation in the affairs of the church, and it is to possess an intimate knowledge of its history, constitution and laws. As church wardens, and trustees or vestrymen, they are delegates to the convention, they are important and very solemn duties to perform, and with a knowledge of these, it ought to be the business of these magazines to furnish them. The subjects are explained and enforced by pious and useful divines, with as much ability as a knowledge of what we are to do, and do in order to be saved, may be communicated to our readers as well by sermons, as by any original matter which might be able to offer to them. From the writings of approved divines, not at all to be met with, even in possession of clergy, we shall most frequently collect that it is deemed necessary to give an opinion on doctrine and duty. The magazine is to be useful, and desires no other situation.

I am induced to hope that, besides furnishing the laity with useful information in regard to the duties which are imposed upon them, some hints, worthy of their attention, may occasionally be given to the clergy. While they act up to their ordination vows; endeavour to frame and fashion their lives according to the doctrine of Christ; to be themselves wholesome examples of a flock of Christ, and reverently obey their Bishops, following with a glad mind and will, their godly admonitions, they deserve, and there is in the laity of the church a hearty disposition to support them. If, however, at any time, any of them forget to pay due regard to their own solemn engagements, instead of loving to dwell together in unity, a design should be manifested to produce disorder and misrule into the church, to oppose its legitimate authority, to assume powers which do not belong to them, then it is not only the right, but becomes the imperative duty of the laity, to animadvert upon such conduct with unflinching severity.

Approving entirely of the forms prescribed in the doctrine agreed to by our church, it will be no part of the business of the Magazine to recommend or even to notice, any new inventions, whether in sermons, or discipline or worship.
