200 Dollars Reward.

Ran away from the subscriber, on the 20th ult. without the least cause, a negro, named CHARLES, 18 or 19 years of age, about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, a tolerable stout limbed fellow, and well made, but not active. He is a dark mulatto, with thick lips, rather flat nose, and round face, and when spoken to indicates cunning from his craft and insinuating manner. Charles had on when he absconded a grey close bodied coat with several holes in the sleeves, kersey pantaloons, coarse stockings, and an old fur hat much worn. Charles will probably endeavour to get to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where I purchased him, or to Charles county, where he has recently been. I will give, if he is taken out of the state of Maryland, $200. If taken in Baltimore $100, if in the city of Washington or Annapolis $50, and in Prince George's $20, provided he is secured in jail so that I see him again. Charles has been accustomed to wait on me as a body servant, and is very crafty.

100 Dollars Reward.

Ran away from the subscriber, on the 27th November, 1819, living on the head of South River in Anne Arundel county, State of Maryland, a young Negro Man by the name of STEPHEN. He is about 22 or 23 years of age, of a dark complexion, about 5 feet 1 or 2 inches high, has a scar under one of his eyes just above the cheek bone, and on one of his legs, I believe the right, a hole the size of a plug, occasioned by a plough. His clothing is unknown, as it appears he has been in the habit of borrowing of the neighbouring negroes. The night he went off there was a horse taken out of the stable of Edward Hopkin, and found at Mr. Linticum's, on the road to the lower ferry. I have no doubt but he rode the horse, and turned him loose as soon as he got to the ferry, and went over into Baltimore. There were two negroes from the state of Ohio lurking in the neighbourhood, and it is suspected that they were here in order to persuade all that they could have any influence with, to go to the state of Ohio, where they would be free, and get 14 or 15 dollars per month; one of those negroes is Moses Queen, a free man of colour, that has been presented for harboring runaway negroes, and he went to the state of Ohio and returned here last fall about the first of November, and since his return has been taken with a stout wit. The other fellow is negro Ben, formerly the property of Mrs. Rachel Hall, near the Governor's Bridge, in my neighbourhood, he was sold to a Kentuckian, for horse stealing, five or six years ago, and says that he was sold to a citizen of Kentucky, and made his escape, got over the river, and into the state of Ohio, to a man by the name of James Keys, who purchased him of the Kentuckian; and since 1817 has been to the state of Maryland twice, and no doubt for the purpose of getting hands to go to the state of Ohio. Ben says his errand here was to persuade the free ones to go; he has a letter from James Keys, stating how he came by the fellow Ben; when he was freed about two years ago, there were slaves disappeared, and have never been heard of since. I have no doubt they have had some talk with my fellow, as he went off for to fault, and they have provided some way for him to Cincinnati, changing his name, and going for a free boy, to Mr. Keys. I will give one hundred dollars if taken out of the state, and fifty dollars if taken in the state, and secured so that I get him again, all reasonable charges paid if brought home to

PROPOSALS,

For publishing, in the City of Annapolis, A Periodical Work, to be entitled,

THE RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY REPOSITORY.

To be edited by a society of Laymen members of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The leading views of the Editors are stated in the following note, by one of the persons, who will be actually employed in the selection of the matter for publication.
The Religious Magazines which have been heretofore published by members of the Church, are, some of them, very useful as far as they go. My objection to them is, that they do not attempt to give us information of which the laity, and indeed clergymen in much need, and which is with great difficulty to be obtained. In this country the laity have a considerable participation in the affairs of the church, and ought to possess an intimate knowledge of its history, constitution and laws. As church wardens, and trustees or vestrymen, as well as delegates to the convention, they have important and very solemn duties to perform, and with a knowledge of these duties, it ought to be the business of these magazines to furnish them. The subjects usually discussed in them have already been explained and enforced by pious and learned divines, with as much ability as could be expected from more modern writers, and a knowledge of what we are to believe and do in order to be saved, will be communicated to our readers as well by sermons, as by any original matter which we might be able to offer to them. From the writings of approved divines, not always to be met with, even in possession of the clergy, we shall most frequently collect what it is deemed necessary to give on Christian doctrine and duty. The magazine will aim to be useful, and desires no other reputation.
I am induced to hope that, besides furnishing the laity with useful information in regard to the duties which are imposed upon them, some hints, worthy of their attention, may occasionally be given to the clergy. While they act up to their education; endeavour to frame and fashion their lives according to the doctrine of Christ; to make themselves wholesome examples of the flock of Christ; and reverently obey their bishops, following with a glad mind and will, their pious admonitions, they deserve, and there is in the laity of the church of Maryland generally, every disposition to honor and support them. If, however, at any time, any of them forget to pay due regard to their own solemn engagements, and instead of loving to dwell together in unity, a cooling should be manifested to introduce disorder and dissension into the church, to oppose its legitimate authority, or to assume powers which do not belong to them, then it is not only the right, but it becomes the imperative duty of the laity, to admonish upon such conduct with unsparring severity.
Approving entirely of the forms prescribed, and of the doctrines agreed to by our Church, it will be no part of the business of the Magazine to recommend or even to censure, any new intention, whether in tenets, or discipline or worship.

TERMS.
The Repository shall be published twice a month, each number to contain sixteen pages royal 8vo.—Price two dollars per annum, one half payable in advance, and the other half upon the delivery of the 12th number.

The first number shall appear on the third Saturday in January next, should a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained to justify the expense.
Subscriptions received at the office of the Maryland Gazette and at George Shaw's Store.

The Undersigned

Respectfully represent to the citizens of Annapolis and of Anne Arundel county, that they suffer much inconvenience from the want of a good collection of English Books which might be put into the hands of the youth committed to their care. The Library of the College consists almost exclusively of the Latin and Greek Classics, the writings of the ancient fathers, and some ponderous tomes of Scholastic Theology and Canon Law. The best of these works can be of no use, except to the Professors themselves. They therefore take the liberty of soliciting, from the alumni and other friends of the College, donations of such useful books as can be conveniently spared. Almost any thing will be acceptable. Books of travels, biography and history; treatises of logic, metaphysics and ethics; systems of natural philosophy, or dissertations on any subordinate branch; elementary works on international and municipal law and political economy, and any publication of the numerous Societies of Literati in Europe or America will be gratefully received.
Mr. Boyle, Dr. Ridgely, Mr. Magruder, and Mr. G. Shaw will take charge of any Books which may be sent to their respective offices. The donors are requested to inscribe their names on the covers or the blank leaves, in order that the undersigned may know the individuals, to whose kindness they are indebted, and to whom they owe a public acknowledgment of the obligation.

MAIL ROBBERS.

Confessions of Hutton and Hull, and particular. The reference which appears in the confession is, that Hull avows land, immediately preceding the oath by said act prescribed for delivering up his property, I do hereby order and adjudge that the said Abraham G. Hammond be discharged from confinement, and that he give notice to his creditors, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed in the city of Annapolis, once a week for three months, before the third Monday in April next, to be and appear before the said court, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause if any they have, why the said Abraham G. Hammond should not have the benefit of the said act and supplements as prayed. Given under my hand this 9th day of October, 1819.

Confession of the Mail Robbers.

The following statement embracing the full confession of one of the Mail Robbers recently apprehended at Baltimore, has been obligingly procured as a witness against an examination and confession by Hutton, taken before the Chief Judge of the District Court in and for the Maryland District, this 28th day of March, 1820, this eighteen hundred and twenty year, after being cautioned that his confessions, admissions and acknowledgments, and confessions, should be free & voluntary, without hope or fear, saith, that in his 28th year, is a native of Maryland, and was raised in Maryland; that he has been heretofore employed as a stage driver between Baltimore and Annapolis, and in the same employment where before that time; that in about the month of December he went to Philadelphia; that he returned to Baltimore, and from there returned to Annapolis, and thence to Richmond, on the 17th December last; thence to Hampton, thence to Norfolk, thence to Petersburg, thence to the city of New York, and from there to a Mr. Gholston's, an owner of stages, for the purpose of obtaining employment; thence to Peafear, thence to New York, in a schooner Phoenix; where he met Morris N. B. Hull alias Norcross, and became there first acquainted with him; he was introduced by the name of Hull, and represented himself as a Druggist, who wished to come to the southward to seek employment; where he saw a flat piece of lead in his pocket; Hull and Hutton, left Philadelphia together, in the steam boat, Wilmington, and arrived there thence to Newport; where Hutton, left an order for his trunk to go to New Castle, there to wait until further order, and from there to Baltimore, and from there to the trunk which was brought accordingly. When they left New Castle, Hutton permitted Hull to put his clothes into his trunk, and when the trunk arrived in Baltimore, he said that Hull had a key which fitted Hull's trunk lock; on the trunk from New York, Hull proposed to Hutton to stop and rob the trunk, wherever it might be most convenient; that he had arms and ammunition, and thought it could be done without any danger; but that time, no plan or arrangement was digested or made, and it was occasionally talked of until they arrived at Baltimore. This day forth they arrived in Baltimore, and commenced boarding at Kecks, when the following plan was digested: it was agreed that, as Hutton was a man of a stout make, made of an old soft leather cap—no other person to be concerned or let into the secret; & nothing further should be done than to rob the mail of the money found therein; that Hull should also wear a mask, which was also made of an old cap, one side of which was hairy; that they had a common screw barrel pocket pistol, with the guard broke off from behind the cock. Hull had a stout knife, the blade of which was about three or four inches long, commonly called a Spanish knife; Hutton had a common two bladed penknife; they had each a stout walking stick; but they had no other arms of any description. Thus equipped, Hull and Hutton left the city of Baltimore

more early in the afternoon

Saturday after they arrived in the city of Philadelphia, an intention to stop at the post office, and for that purpose themselves in the first of the new bridge on the Gunpowder, and when they passed, there being a horse in it with the driver, they attempted; they were turned, and reached a little after day light.

On Friday last, after about 8 o'clock, they were again left Baltimore, out as before on the road, with the design of robbing the mail, and respects equipped for the first going out, a or nine miles from the side of Buck's tavern, their stand in the street, threw into one brazen two or three bushes, waited the arrival of neither of them were they are now, or when, from the clothes having been distance from town, were left on the first mail wagon came saw them by the side of the road, "what does this ton said, "It is not hurt; we only want the mail." Hutton bad thing, it was done, and that certainly lead to Hull said it was otherwise, as he sure to have their sizes, if then mounted off towards the main road, and the woods this run; thence the city, and bre Kecks, where Saturday evening out together a in Gay street.

They looked

the afternoon, they counted it, make any entry, or any other amount, but got about twenty thousand dollars, and Hull, ring Run, they in, brought to Hutton three Falls from a stone tied to the side of the Falls. Hutton does not know them; Hutton sufficiently distinguished; Hull came back from the same gain desired he Hull returned to when Hutton was off, he heard the immediately Hull the driver had killed was untying him shot him. (The returned to the asking if he was was actually dead again, saying regularly, and the dead.
