Ran away from the subscriber, on the 20th ult. without the least cause, a negro, named CHARLES, 18 or 19 years of age, about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, a tolerable stout limbed fellow, and well made, but not active. He is a dark mulatto, with thick lips, rather flat nose, and round face, and when spoken to indicates cunning from his artful and insinuating manner. Charles had on when he absconded a grey close bodied coat with several holes in the sleeves, kersey pantaloons, coarse stockings, and an old fur hat much worn.—Charles will probably endeavour to get to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where I purchased him, or to Charles county, where he has recently been. I will give, if he is taken out of the state of Maryland, $200, if taken in Baltimore or Annapolis $30, and if in Prince George's $20, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. Charles has been accustomed to wait on me as a body servant, and is very artful.

HEROICALS
For publication in the City of Annapolis, a Periodical Work, to be entitled,
THE RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY REPOSITORY.
To be edited by a society of Laymen members of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The leading views of the Editors are stated in the following note, by one of the persons, who will be actively employed in the selection of the matter for publication.
The Religious Magazines which have been heretofore published by members of the church, are, some of them, very useful as far as they go. My objection to them is, that they do not attempt to give us information, of which the laity, and indeed clergy, stand in much need, and which is with great difficulty to be obtained. In this country the laity have a considerable participation in the affairs of the church, and ought to possess an intimate knowledge of its history, constitution and laws. As church wardens, and trustees or vestrymen, as well as delegates to the convention, they have important and very solemn duties to perform, and with a knowledge of these duties, it ought to be the business of these magazines to furnish them. The subjects usually discussed in them have already been explained and enforced by pious and learned divines, with as much ability as could be expected from more modern writers, and a knowledge of what we are to believe and do in order to be saved, may be communicated to our readers as well by selections, as by any original matter which we might be able to offer to them. From the writings of approved divines, not always to be met with, even in possession of the clergy, we shall most frequently collect what is deemed necessary to give on christian doctrine and duty. The magazine will aim to be useful, and desires no other reputation.

I am induced to hope that, besides furnishing the laity with useful information in regard to the duties which are imposed upon them, some hints, worthy of their attention, may occasionally be given to the clergy. While they act up to their ordination vows, endeavour to frame an opinion their lives according to the doctrine of Christ, to make themselves wholesome examples of the flock of Christ, and reverently obey their Bishops, following with a glad mind and will, their godly admonitions, they deserve, and there is in the laity of the church of Maryland generally, every disposition to honour and support them. It however, at any time, any of them forget to pay due regard to their own solemn engagements, and instead of loving to dwell together in unity, a design is manifested to introduce disorder and misrule into the church, to oppose its legitimate authority, or to assume powers which do not belong to them, then it is not only the right, but it becomes the imperative duty of the laity, to animadvert upon such conduct with unsparing severity.

Approving entirely of the forms prescribed, and of the doctrines agreed to by our Church, it will be no part of the business of the Magazine to recommend or even to connive at, any new intentions, whether in tenets, or discipline or worship.
TERMS.
The Repository shall be published twice a month, each number to contain sixteen pages royal 8vo.—Price two dollars per annum, one half payable in advance, and the other half upon the delivery of the 12th number.

APPEAL
The People of Maryland on the subject of the proceedings of the House of Delegates on the contested election of CALVERT COUNTY.
Concluded.
Thomas Mitchell, one of the voters who had been adjudged by the court, without a hearing, to be an illegal voter for want of age, was called to the bar, and upon the issue being put, for whom did he vote at the late Calvert election, he was objected, that he was not qualified to answer. (Vide Votes and Proceedings Jan 26.) The house determined that he voted for Weems, Wilkinson, Beckwith, Kent, one federalist & three republicans. He was then asked if he was twenty one years of age; to which he replied in the affirmative, saying that his mother had sworn to his age previous to the election. The majority, upon this took the witness's very testimony upon the issue, and they voted to oust the sitting members, would, on the contrary, establish the right of the petitioner, to make payment to the voters, at the same time confirm the votes of the members returned to the court, objected to the testimony, and determined that no question should be asked the witnesses. (Vide Votes and Proceedings January 26.) The effect of this decision was to compel the witnesses to give evidence to suit the purposes of the majority, & to criminate themselves to exclude all testimony which calculated to defeat the views of the majority, or to exculpate themselves. It then became manifest, with what view the special and extraordinary oath had been got up, and the purpose of the majority, to know for whom the witnesses voted, but it did not suit them to have their testimony calculated to establish the truth or maintain the just views of the voters.
The majority had decided that any one question should be asked the witnesses, the minority were denied the right of interrogating the witnesses, and the witnesses denied the privilege of testifying to anything that went to establish their innocence, and were compelled to testify to one point, and one point only, that is, for whom they voted. In other words, they were compelled to testify to an act, the hour of which they had already decided to be illegal, and deciding that they were illegal voters.
Another witness, James Sly, was produced, who had been decided to be an illegal voter for want of age; who had, as appears from the testimony taken by the committee in elections, offered at the polls extracted from the family record of age, to prove that he was entitled to vote, which he had sworn to do, and the supplements thereto, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to the said petition; and the court being fully satisfied that the said Alpha J. Thomas Mitchell, one of the voters who had been adjudged by the court, without a hearing, to be an illegal voter for want of age, was called to the bar, and upon the issue being put, for whom did he vote at the late Calvert election, he was objected, that he was not qualified to answer. (Vide Votes and Proceedings Jan 26.) The house determined that he voted for Weems, Wilkinson, Beckwith, Kent, one federalist & three republicans. He was then asked if he was twenty one years of age; to which he replied in the affirmative, saying that his mother had sworn to his age previous to the election. The majority, upon this took the witness's very testimony upon the issue, and they voted to oust the sitting members, would, on the contrary, establish the right of the petitioner, to make payment to the voters, at the same time confirm the votes of the members returned to the court, objected to the testimony, and determined that no question should be asked the witnesses. (Vide Votes and Proceedings January 26.) The effect of this decision was to compel the witnesses to give evidence to suit the purposes of the majority, & to criminate themselves to exclude all testimony which calculated to defeat the views of the majority, or to exculpate themselves. It then became manifest, with what view the special and extraordinary oath had been got up, and the purpose of the majority, to know for whom the witnesses voted, but it did not suit them to have their testimony calculated to establish the truth or maintain the just views of the voters.
