

one hundred and of the revolution
at Keene, N. H. overtly." In the seventy of them officers designated
— [Ibid.]
SALEM, July 2.
MUSTER.
ay, the 28th ult.
d corps of Revolu-nisters mustered in take oath to their
Hon. Judge Wet-ceremonies at the passed, a detach-veterans partook of the sign of the Eas-following senti-mentation:
— "A monument to utnam, Prescott and the valour of New-

— He bled for Frenton, and he has feel as well as bleed. ry of General Wash-aim no higher order d his fellow-soldiers.
y 8th." Massachusetts every battle "the last out."
The manner in which the slavers carry on the this: they sail from the U. S. to some port in Cuba; with a of blue and white cottons, l checks, nankin, powder, mustobacco, &c. where they make sham sale of the vessel for the pose of procuring a set of Spa-papers, and the officers make that the cargo, entitled to de-ture, has been landed, and prothe requisite certificates, when very article remains untouched board. They then take on board Spaniard, who passes for the tain, but perhaps his first voya-ce, hoist the Spanish flag and ceed to the coast of Africa, as of the line, keeping three leagues two in Spanish, one true and other false, and one in English arrival the supercargo lands the goods, under cover of the of the vessel, on the beach, in-erected for the purpose, and in-circulars to all the neighbourings, acquaints them of his ar-and that he has a handsome assment of goods which he wishes dispute of for slaves in a given ber of days. They immediately to his depot with their slaves, they exchange for goods; at the of suit rate of 100 bars per head the mean time the vessel is pre-ing rice, wood and water, and the slaves are collected, they all embarked in one day, and same night the vessel puts to and if not captured during the night, generally succeeds in off. Their next plan is to ar-the log book to be produced in ba, which mshew that the were shipped south of the line the vessel with her cargo is admitted to entry. When over-ed by the English or Patriot teers, exhibit American pa-and when by the Americans, nish papers, by which many capture and condemnation.

When Capt. Trenchard let the coast the rains had set in, and half the Cyane's crew were with the African fever, few of died—but since her arrival they have recovered in a wonder-degree, having but one man mentally ill in the hospital, and the healthiness at this place.

A Patriot privateer, under command of Capt. Moon, entered the harbour of Bonavista, on the 10th of this month, and carschr. belonging to a club of unfortunate Spanish slave dealers, had lost by capture and condemnation their several vessels, and they went to the coast, and to-had united themselves into a purchased by disposing of all clothes and rigging effects. All them when captured, the schoat a prize sale, at Sierra Leone came over to Bonavista with a of procuring credit for a cargo return to the coast, and to be vessel with slaves; but their left penniless, and many their friends before they another attempt in the approaching execution a with a dagger in his inspired justice imperiously such a character that all the

of a man which served as defects the character of the found to disarm justice of her ty, and that a legal execution far from preventing, is such fosters both robbery and murder.

TO THE CULTIVATORS OF THE SOIL.
THE AMERICAN FARMER.
The first number of the AMERICAN FARMER was issued on the 2d of April, 1819. It may now be announced as an established National Work, adapted to all the varieties of our climate, since many of the most eminent citizens in all the States, contribute by their patronage and their pens to its circulation and its usefulness. To make known all discoveries in the science and all improvements in the practice of Agriculture and Domestic Economy, and to develop the means and designate plans of eternal improvements generally, constitute the chief objects to which the AMERICAN FARMER is devoted. It takes no concern of interest party politics, nor in the transient occurrences of the day. The Farmer is published weekly on a sheet the size of a large newspaper, and folded so as to make eight pages, and to admit of being conveniently bound up and preserved in volumes. Each volume will consist of fifty-two numbers, a title page and an index; and numerous engravings to represent new implements and approved systems of husbandry. Each number gives a true and accurate statement of the then selling prices of country produce, live stock, and all the principal articles brought for sale in the Baltimore market. Terms of subscription $4 per annum, to be paid in advance. But for the sum of five dollars, the actual receipt of every number is guaranteed. That is, when numbers fail to come to hand, duplicates shall be sent until every number shall have been received. As the editor takes the risk and cost of the mail, should subscription money miscarry, he holds himself, nevertheless, bound to furnish the paper. To those who may think the price of subscription too high, it may be remembered, that on a comparison of their actual contents, one volume of the American Farmer, will be found to contain as much as four vols. of the "Memoirs of the Agricultural Society of Philadelphia," and the four volumes of that patriotic and exceedingly valuable work sell for $12. To show that the American Farmer is conducted in a manner to answer the great national purposes for which it was established, and that it is not undeserving the encouragement of the agriculturists of the United States, the following testimonials are respectfully submitted; others equally conclusive might be offered:
Extract of a letter from Governor LLOYD, who is acknowledged to be one of the most wealthy, well informed and best managing farmers in the United States. "The Farmer so far, is my best Agricultural compilation, in my humble opinion, that I have ever seen, and deserves the patronage of the public."
From the President of the Agricultural Society, Eastern Shore of Maryland. "I am anxious to preserve the whole of the work, and wish it was in the hands of every farmer in the United States. It is by the diffusion of knowledge only, that we can expect our country to improve in Agriculture, which thy paper is admirably calculated to impart, to all who will take the pains to be improved by reading." Respectfully thy friend, ROB. MOORE.
From an address delivered by THOMAS LAW, Esq. President of the Agricultural Society of Prince George's county. "Before I conclude, let me recommend to you the American Farmer, a paper which collects and focuses all the rays of light on husbandry, which are emanated from every quarter of the globe. I have requested Mr. Skinner to give an annual index, which will make it equal to a Library for a farmer."
The following notice was addressed at their own expense, through the public papers of that State, by the board of managers of the Agricultural Society.
To the Planters of South-Carolina. The "American Farmer," which is as appears from its title, devoted principally to subjects relating to agriculture, contains a great variety of matter, the result of actual and well digested experiments, embracing the whole range of domestic and rural economy, such as cannot fail, if duly observed, to be highly beneficial to your interests. The great object of this society is, to promote agriculture, and thereby advance the prosperity not themselves individually, but of their fellow-citizens generally. They believe they cannot do more effectually, in this early stage of their organization, promote their object, than by recommending this paper to your perusal. They therefore take the liberty to recommend the American Farmer as highly worthy of your attention. By order of the Board of Managers, J. J. CHAPPELL, Vice President presiding.
Extract from the proceedings of the Agricultural Society of Albemarle, Virginia, at their last meeting, May 8, 1820. "In order more generally to disseminate the Agricultural Intelligence and improve the minds of the United States, the Society resolve to present each of its members with the first volume of the American Farmer, edited at Baltimore, by John S. Skinner, Esq."
"P. MINOR, Sec'y."

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

Annapolis, Thursday, July 20.
Federal Republican Nominations.
For Calvert County.
Thomas Blake,
Gustavus Weems,
Joseph W. Reynolds,
Samuel Turner.
For Frederick.
Alexander Warfield,
Ignatius Davis,
Robert G. M'Pherson,
Lewis Motter.
For Prince George's.
Col. Francis M. Hall,
Thomas T. Somerville,
George Semmes,
Captain Josiah Jones.
For Allegany.
William Hilleary,
Thomas Blair,
William Reid,
John Scott.
For Dorchester.
Benjamin W. Lecompte,
Edward Griffith,
Michael Lucas,
Dr. William Jackson.

From the Baltimore Morning Chronicle, of July 13.
It is customary, whenever an unhappy criminal receives the sentence of the law, to publish a memoir of his life, in which he is represented perfectly resigned to his destiny, and that he meets his fate with exultation. A boldness of panegyric is often adopted, totally unbecoming both the character and the time of this awful event. It is as much possibly can be said of an apostle example, of one whose life has been devoted to the service of his Redeemer, that he dies without a thought of eternal salvation on his mind—that he quits the world with triumph and goes to the mansions of glory. It is true indeed, while contemplating an approaching death, it is proper that he be ready to depart; that the time of his departure was near, and that henceforth there was laid up for him a crown of glory. But it does not become us to hold the confident words of apostles. It is enough for us to know that we are all miserably sinners and dying men, whose hope of salvation is in the memory of our Redeemer. There is too much pagantry employed by biographers, about death, and especially when the subjects concern their lives to the insulted honour of their country. Such high praises, when so employed, are either preserved a faithful copy of the original, should not be given to the public, because it disarms of its salutary terrors. The of a public execution, is by drawing examples, to deter others from the perpetration of the crime that the unhappy man is called to undergo; but this very is entirely defeated when burlesque is introduced, and compensation for the executioners.
When the executioners are drawn from whence do the deaths of men, who are called upon to

approaching execution a
with a dagger in his
inspired justice imperiously
such a character that all the
of a man which served as
defects the character of the
found to disarm justice of her
ty, and that a legal execution
far from preventing, is such
fosters both robbery and murder.

Hutton was dressed in a shroud of flowing white, descending to his feet; his arms were pinioned behind, and the fatal cord, adjusted to his neck, and wound like a sash about his body. Hull was dressed in a dark coat & brown pantaloons, with a striped yellow vest. Scarcely were the criminals seated, each beside the attending clergyman in the chair, before their attending friends standing in a range on the steps of the scaffold, and in front of the spectators, commenced the service by singing an appropriate hymn to the throne of Divine grace. During this solemnity a profound silence was observed, which seemed to prepare the minds of the spectators for the still further solemnities of the day. The throne of grace was then addressed by the Rev. Mr. Osborne, the criminals kneeling, & apparently absorbed in attention. Another hymn was then sung, which was succeeded by a prayer from the Church service, by the Rev. Dr.
Wyatt. After a short, but anxious pause, Hull addressed the surrounding spectators. He declared, that he stood an awful example of the fatal consequences of associating with bad company in early youth.— To the younger part of his audience, he addressed himself with peculiar emphasis, and implored them to take warning by the spectacle. He described himself as descended from pious parents, who laboured assiduously to bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. But he added that the society of wicked and profligate young men, was a temptation that led him on to the perpetration of a crime, at which he now shuddered, and of the punishment of which he acknowledged the justice. But even in this depth of misery, he humbly trusted that he had found consolation. He was enabled to look with humble resignation on death, through the merits of his Redeemer. He earnestly exhorted his young friends, to seek religion while in the flower of youth, and not to put off the hour of reformation until a more distant period. With regard to the particular crime for which he was about to suffer, he declared in the presence of the heart searching and rein trying God, that the statement which he had heretofore given to the world, importing that he was seduced to the perpetration of this crime, was correct. Lifting up his hands, as far as the bandage would allow, and casting his eyes to heaven, he exclaimed, Lord Jesus receive my spirit. All this was uttered in a clear, strong, and deliberate accent, with a countenance solemn, but composed and serene. Hutton's fortitude seemed to be of another kind, it was guarded and collected, and full of tranquil firmness. After the conclusion of Hull's exhortation, the throne of divine grace was addressed in a prayer by the Rev. Mr.
Osborne. Then followed the impressive ceremony of taking leave, after which the doors were adjusted and the criminals launched into eternity.

We have been thus particular in the enumeration of facts that passed under our personal observation, from the unusual degree of public sensitivity excited by the fate of these two men. Hull from the respectability of his connections, and from the almost unprecedented exertions made in his favor, as well as from his youth, (as he had not reached the age of twenty-one) and Hutton from his recent baptism, all the connected with the enormous character of the robbery and murder, tended to produce a compound sensation of pity and of vengeance.— Hull was gazing around with a calm and collected eye on the crowd of spectators; Hutton's face was fixed in one position—Hull would examine the rope and adjust the cord more closely to his neck—Hutton calm, and patiently awaited the orders of the officers. Hull addressed the spectators—Hutton was silent and calm.

We have not wished to excite any thing like unequal sympathy.— Let us remember that these men were justly condemned, that they acknowledged themselves guilty, that the murders they committed was

LANDS FOR SALE
OF GOOD QUALITY,
In the neighbourhood of Annapolis, consisting of the

RISING SUN FARM,

Formerly a Tavern—the land adjoining formerly held by Edward Baldwin and also adjoining it a body of Woodlands, known by the name of Baldwin Hills, containing together upwards of 500 acres. These lands have nearly all been enclosed by a good fence; and much improved by plaster and clover, which operates with very great effect.
The soil is generally of a red loam, and is susceptible of great fertility by clover cultivation—best of tobacco is made in the neighbourhood, especially on lands of this quality. There have been many improvements added to the houses and many other conveniences erected, since it has been in the hands of the present possessors.

A credit of one, two and three years, will be given to the purchasers, on paying one fourth of the purchase money down, and annual interest on the unpaid portions.
Also for sale the Land formerly held by Henry H. Brown, called "Prospect Plains," containing about 270 acres, on which Mr. Welch now resides, under certain covenants. This land is very advantageously situated on the banks of the Severn, with a most convenient landing on Plum Creek, is adapted to Plaster, and yields Tobacco of superior quality. This tract will be sold on the same terms of payment as the preceding ones—and if the whole be not sold by private contract before the first Monday in October next, they will on that day, at 10 o'clock, be sold by public Vendue at the Rising Sun stand—Apply for particulars to Mr. James Pollard, on the premises, to Mr. Joseph Sands in Annapolis, or to the Subscribers in Baltimore.

BODKIN NECK,
on the river Patapsco and the Bay, containing upwards of 1100 acres.— This land is held by tenants under certain covenants, yielding $700 a year.
A part of it has commodious dwellings on it, and is in a high state of improvement—The supply of manure by depositions from the Bay, is beyond the wants of the land. There is an abundance of deer and wild turkey on the land, and a great portion of it is in wood of second and original growth. Its vicinity to Baltimore, its fisheries, and other circumstances independent of its value as a farm, give it great advantages.

I will also sell all the lands that are known by the name of "The Connexion and Howard's Fancy," lately held by Major T. Dorsey and Mr. Yealldhall, adjoining the Blackhorse tavern, nine miles from Annapolis. They contain together, about 600 acres, and constitute one of the first positions for a farm of any location in that section of the country.
The quality of the soil is a red loam, similar to the best lands on West River.
Plaster and clover will in one year produce great fertility, and wheat may be raised on it, yielding a great crop, as may be seen by the crops within the neighbourhood on lands of similar quality. There are the best natural meadows on this farm, of any in the neighbourhood. A long credit will be given to the purchaser for the greatest part of the money. Apply to Mr. Joseph Sands in Annapolis, or the subscribers in Baltimore.
Richard Caton,
James Nelson.

July 20.
Sheriff's Sales.
By virtue of a writ of fieri facias from Anne Arundel county, and to me directed, will be exposed to public sale, on Saturday the 19th day of August next, at the house of Samuel Ward, one negro woman named Betty, one negro woman named Hannah, Seized and taken as the property of Samuel Ward, and will be sold to satisfy a debt due Zachariah McConey, for the use of Joseph Owens. Sale to commence at 12 o'clock, for cash BENJ. GAITHER, sh.
A. C. S.
July 20.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias from Anne Arundel county, and to me directed, will be exposed to public sale, on Thursday the 20th inst. on the premises, 18 head cattle, pair of oxen, one wagon, Seized and taken as the property of Ambrose Updegraff, and will be sold to satisfy a debt due Samuel Horton, Jonathan Elliott, and others, class of John Elliott. Sale to commence at 12 o'clock, for cash.
BENJ. GAITHER sh.
A. A. C. S.
July 20.

All gentlemen who feel an interest in the circulation of a Journal devoted to these objects and connected on this plan, here described, are requested to transmit the name of subscribers—but in all cases the money must be remitted before the paper can be sent.
It will however, be returned in any case, where the subscriber, on a view of the paper, not being satisfied, may think proper to return it to the editor within three weeks.
An allowance often proved will be made when a single copy of the paper is sent for and remitted to the editor.
A few of the first volumes, either in sheets or well bound, with a copious index, may be had from July 20.

From the Baltimore Morning Chronicle, of July 15.
We have already taken occasion to state, that we do not think death a fit subject for descriptive pageantry—and, we shall endeavour to present a calm and unostentatious statement of facts. Yesterday, between the hours of 11 and 12, A. M. the two mail robbers, HUTTON and HULL, suffered the penalty of the law. On entering the jail-yard where the scaffold was erected, an hour before the time of execution, the sounds of devotional hymns were heard echoing from the gloomy vault where the prisoners were confined.
After waiting for some time, in a state of solemn anticipation of the

approaching execution a
with a dagger in his
inspired justice imperiously
such a character that all the
of a man which served as
defects the character of the
found to disarm justice of her
ty, and that a legal execution
far from preventing, is such
fosters both robbery and murder.

TO THE CULTIVATORS OF THE SOIL.
THE AMERICAN FARMER.

The first number of the AMERICAN FARMER was issued on the 2d of April, 1819. It may now be announced as an established National Work, adapted to all the varieties of our climate, since many of the most eminent citizens in all the States, contribute by their patronage and their pens to its circulation and its usefulness. To make known all discoveries in the science and all improvements in the practice of Agriculture and Domestic Economy, and to develop the means and designate plans of eternal improvements generally, constitute the chief objects to which the AMERICAN FARMER is devoted. It takes no concern of interest party politics, nor in the transient occurrences of the day.

The Farmer is published weekly on a sheet the size of a large newspaper, and folded so as to make eight pages, and to admit of being conveniently bound up and preserved in volumes. Each volume will consist of fifty-two numbers, a title page and an index; and numerous engravings to represent new implements and approved systems of husbandry. Each number gives a true and accurate statement of the then selling prices of country produce, live stock, and all the principal articles brought for sale in the Baltimore market. Terms of subscription $4 per annum, to be paid in advance. But for the sum of five dollars, the actual receipt of every number is guaranteed. That is, when numbers fail to come to hand, duplicates shall be sent until every number shall have been received.

As the editor takes the risk and cost of the mail, should subscription money miscarry, he holds himself, nevertheless, bound to furnish the paper. To those who may think the price of subscription too high, it may be remembered, that on a comparison of their actual contents, one volume of the American Farmer, will be found to contain as much as four vols. of the "Memoirs of the Agricultural Society of Philadelphia," and the four volumes of that patriotic and exceedingly valuable work sell for $12.

To show that the American Farmer is conducted in a manner to answer the great national purposes for which it was established, and that it is not undeserving the encouragement of the agriculturists of the United States, the following testimonials are respectfully submitted; others equally conclusive might be offered:

Extract of a letter from Governor LLOYD, who is acknowledged to be one of the most wealthy, well informed and best managing farmers in the United States. "The Farmer so far, is my best Agricultural compilation, in my humble opinion, that I have ever seen, and deserves the patronage of the public."

From the President of the Agricultural Society, Eastern Shore of Maryland. "I am anxious to preserve the whole of the work, and wish it was in the hands of every farmer in the United States. It is by the diffusion of knowledge only, that we can expect our country to improve in Agriculture, which thy paper is admirably calculated to impart, to all who will take the pains to be improved by reading." Respectfully thy friend, ROB. MOORE.

From an address delivered by THOMAS LAW, Esq. President of the Agricultural Society of Prince George's county. "Before I conclude, let me recommend to you the American Farmer, a paper which collects and focuses all the rays of light on husbandry, which are emanated from every quarter of the globe. I have requested Mr. Skinner to give an annual index, which will make it equal to a Library for a farmer."

The following notice was addressed at their own expense, through the public papers of that State, by the board of managers of the Agricultural Society.
To the Planters of South-Carolina. The "American Farmer," which is as appears from its title, devoted principally to subjects relating to agriculture, contains a great variety of matter, the result of actual and well digested experiments, embracing the whole range of domestic and rural economy, such as cannot fail, if duly observed, to be highly beneficial to your interests. The great object of this society is, to promote agriculture, and thereby advance the prosperity not themselves individually, but of their fellow-citizens generally. They believe they cannot do more effectually, in this early stage of their organization, promote their object, than by recommending this paper to your perusal. They therefore take the liberty to recommend the American Farmer as highly worthy of your attention. By order of the Board of Managers, J. J. CHAPPELL, Vice President presiding.

Extract from the proceedings of the Agricultural Society of Albemarle, Virginia, at their last meeting, May 8, 1820. "In order more generally to disseminate the Agricultural Intelligence and improve the minds of the United States, the Society resolve to present each of its members with the first volume of the American Farmer, edited at Baltimore, by John S. Skinner, Esq."
"P. MINOR, Sec'y."