The house then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Robertson in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims unfavorable to the petition of John Cowan.

Mr. Cowan prays the allowance of 460 dollars for shoeing, at their own expense, the horses of a company of cavalry in the service of the United States...

This motion gave rise to debate; being supported by Mr. Jones and opposed by Mr. Williams, of N. C. and Mr. Rich, of Va.

Among the petitions presented this morning were the following, of a general nature: By Mr. Mosely, the petition of the Chamber of Commerce of New Haven, remonstrating against the proposed increase of duties on imported goods.

By Mr. Lowndes, a petition with the same object, from the Meeting of Delegates of Merchants & others from various parts of the U. States, recently assembled at Philadelphia.

On motion of Mr. Smith, of N. C. the House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Ross, of Ohio, being called to the chair...

A few other remarks. This House and the Senate, he said, were not he begged gentlemen to remember, the late resort of this question...

Mr. Overstreet, of S. C. moved to amend the following clause, by striking out the words therein which are printed in Italic.

The Electors, when convened, at the time and place prescribed by law for the purpose of voting for President and Vice President of the United States, shall have power, in case any of them shall fail to attend, to choose an Elector, or Electors, in place of him, or them, so failing to attend.

The object of Mr. O. was, that there should be a certain uniformity on this point, as well as in others embraced by the proposed amendment to the constitution.

After a few words in reply from Mr. Smith, the question was put on Mr. O's motion, and decided in the negative.

The committee then rose, and without further debate, reported the resolution without amendment. Mr. Reid, of Georgia, then moved, with a view to allow further time for reflection on the table, to lay the resolve on the table; which motion was decided in the affirmative, by a vote of 67 to 64.

The resolve was laid on the table. The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Edwards of North Carolina, in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims unfavorable to the petition of the Levy Court of Calvert county, Maryland...

Mr. Neale, of Maryland, moved to reverse the report, so as to declare that the petition is reasonable and ought to be granted—and supported his motion with much earnestness. He was seconded by Mr. Smith, of Maryland, and opposed by Mr. Williams, the chairman of the committee of Claims.

The motion to amend was negatived, 61 votes to 49, and the original report concurred in by the same majority. And the House adjourned.
