

QUEBEC, Dec. 17.
Unfortunate Shipwreck.—On the 6th of November last, about 6 o'clock in the evening the schooner Julie, belonging to Mr. Joseph Therieu, merchant, of Montreal, commanded by Captain D. Mathias was lost near Mont Louis. When the vessel struck, the crew and passengers hurried upon deck, only partly dressed, and remained in that state until midnight exposed to the inclemency of a snow storm, and to the violence of the waves which broke over every part of the vessel. Some of the persons having got to the shore, were persuaded by the captain to attempt to reach the houses which they thought were at no great distance—after having walked until three o'clock of the following day, during the whole of which time they bore the greatest fatigues, and finding their object unattainable, they determined to return to the wreck, in expectation of obtaining provisions and cloths. On this march, two of them, one named Edward Acoul, native of Jersey, and Jacques Marcheterre, of Three Rivers, fell, unable to proceed any further and died; the others reached the wreck on the following day, where they found one of the sailors, Burke, dead, and almost buried in sand, washed over him by the sea; another person of the name of Daniel Bichare, was missing and has not yet been heard of. Those who escaped from these dangers, viz. Messrs. Therieu, Frs. X. Derome, Capt. D. Mathias, Jean Rene, and Robert Daynes, were forced to remain on the shore for eleven days, with few clothes and no fire, suffering the utmost pain from the loss of their extremities by cold; so much had they been injured that they could not move but upon their knees and hands—the more hardy of them succeeded in the above period in mending the boat into which they embarked, and arrived in three days at Ste. Anne du Cap Chat, and with the greatest efforts succeeded in reaching Matane, where they met with the most humane treatment from the Seigneiress, Mrs. McGibbons. Rene remained here—those who continued have to bear testimony to the attention which they received from the settlers established at Metis by Mr. McNider.

The loss of the schooner and cargo, is estimated at $2000, no part of which was insured.
Mr. Therieu, Capt. Mathias, and Frs. X. Derome, arrived in town on the 6th inst.

LANDS FOR SALE.
OF GOOD QUALITY
In the neighbourhood of Annapolis, consisting of the RISING SUN FARM
Formerly a Tavern, the land being formerly held by Edward Brown, and also adjoining a body of land, known by the name of THE HILLS, containing together upwards of 500 acres. These lands have been all been enclosed by a good fence, much improved by plaster and which operate with very great efficacy. The soil is generally of a red sand is susceptible of great fertility by cultivation—best of tobacco is raised in the neighbourhood especially in this quality. There has been several improvements added to the house, many other conveniences erected, and it has been in the hands of the present possessors.
A credit of one, two and three years will be given to the purchasers, or may be paid in four equal parts, the purchase money being paid down, and annual interest on the unpaid portions.
Also for sale the Land formerly held by Henry H. Brown, called "Prosper Plains" containing about 270 acres, which Mr. Welch now resides, under certain covenants. This land is very advantageously situated on the bank of the Severn, with a most commodious landing on Plum Creek, is adapted to Plaster, and yields Tobacco of superior quality. This tract will be sold on the same terms of payment as the above, but private contract before the 1st Monday in October next, they will be sold on the 10th day of October next, at public Vendue at the Rising Sun Tavern. Apply for particulars to Mr. James Pollard, on the premises, to Mr. James Sands in Annapolis, or to the Subscribers in Baltimore.

BODKIN NECK,
on the river Patuxent and the banks containing upwards of 1100 acres. This land is held by tenants under certain covenants, yielding $700 a year. A part of it has commodious dwellings on it, and is in a high state of improvement—The supply of manure by plantations from the Bay, is beyond the wants of the land. There is an abundance of deer and wild turkey on the land, and a great portion of it is within vicinity to Baltimore; its fisheries, and other circumstances independent of value as a farm, give it great advantages.
I will also sell all the lands that I know by the name of 'The Connection and Howard's Fancy,' lately held by Major T. Dorsey and Mr. Yeakel, adjoining the Blackhorse tavern, six miles from Annapolis. They contain together, about 600 acres, and constitute one of the first positions for a fine of any location in that section of the country.
The quality of the soil is a red loam similar to the best lands on West River. Plaster and clover will in one year produce great fertility, and wheat may be raised on it, yielding a great crop, may be seen by the crops within the neighbourhood on lands of similar soil. There are the best natural springs of water on this farm, of any in the neighbourhood. A long credit will be given to the purchaser for the greatest part of the money. Apply to Mr. James Sands in Annapolis, or the subscribers in Baltimore.

HOUSE OF LORDS.
Wednesday, Nov. 8.
The House was called over at usual, and Lord Berzford took the oath and his seat.
Lords Holland, Minto, Darnley, and Bolingbroke, as well as the Duke of Devonshire, being absent yesterday, applied for permission to add their names to the Protest, the consideration of which was postponed till to-morrow.
The Archbishop of Tuam observed that their Lordships might find many texts in Scripture which denounced severe punishments and Divine wrath upon the man who should put away his wife. The Rt. Rev. Prelate then proceeded to argue strongly against the divorce case, and to declare, that if this cause was retained, he could not vote for the third reading of the bill.
The Bishop of Peterborough proposed that a clause should be introduced which should go to deprive the Queen of her civil rights, but have her all her religious rights entire. Such a clause should have his support.
The Bishop of Chester and Lord Malesherbes opposed the clause.
The Lord Chancellor said, his opinion was in favour of the clause; but for the religious prejudices of others, he was content to give it up. Lord Lansdown protested against the doctrine that there could be a man existing in this country, the wife of the King, and yet not be the Queen Consort.
Lord Ellenborough could not vote to reject this clause—by doing so they would do no less than declare, that though the Queen was so bad for the State, she was still good enough for the King. To pass such a Bill would be a gross and serious libel.
Lord King said there had been a great confusion of opinions upon a subject—there had been confusion amongst the ministers, confusion amongst the lawyers, & confusion amongst the prelates, [a laugh.] The scruples of the Bishops no doubt arose from religious considerations, and it was to be regretted that amongst the fathers of the Church of England there was not that conformity of opinion upon which that Church so much prided itself. His Lordship said his mind had been somewhat prejudiced against her Majesty, as he feared their Lordships were, by reports of conduct long since passed. At the period to which he alluded it was his opinion that the Queen had been guilty of the greatest indecencies, not withstanding, but with other persons—her Majesty, at Blackheath, been guilty of indecorum with Lord Liverpool [loud laughter.]—that she had played at blind-buff with the Chancellor of the Exchequer! [continued laughter.] He [Lord King] could not refer to the exact period at which these extraordinary and indecent proceedings took place.
The Earl of Liverpool—"They never took place!" [Hear.]
Lord King—"I cannot, I assure your Lordships, refer to the exact date, but it must have been, I think, when the Noble Earl was out of office, and looking for means to get into office, before the Regency." [laughter.]
The Earl of Liverpool—"Never, upon my honour!" [Hear, hear.]
Lord King said, it was, then, an offence to the Noble Earl how much reliance was to be placed upon the reports. [Much laughter.]
