STATUE OF WASHINGTON.

We stated a few days ago, that the statue of Washington, executed at Rome by Canova, for the state of North Carolina, was put on board the Columbus, which ship is probably now on her passage to the United States. Having promised to give a more particular notice of that superb piece of sculpture, we now proceed to the task. It is intended to represent the immortal hero in the act of writing his farewell address: he is seated in an ancient Roman chair, his right leg drawn up in the usual sitting posture, the left carelessly extended along. In his right hand he holds a pen, and in the left a scroll—at his feet the baton of a field marshal, and a sword, of the shape of the old Roman falchion, turned at the point. He is clad in the Roman costume, the head and neck bare, a close vest and braccas, with a girdle round the waist, upon which is displayed Medusa's snaky head, and other emblems of Roman taste. The toga, or cloak, is drawn close round the neck, and descends in luxuriant folds to the floor. The legs are bare to the knee, and the feet covered with sandals. The statue is of white marble, of the finest kind. It rests upon a pedestal of the same kind of marble, upon the sides of which are represented in emblematic figures of the richest workmanship, the four principal events of Washington's life: his taking the command of the American armies—the capture of the British army at York Town—resigning all his public trusts, and lastly, his retiring to private life in the tranquil occupation of a farmer. It is said the artist has exercised his own taste entirely in the position and costume of the statue. It was represented to him that it was intended to be placed in the Hall of the Legislature of North Carolina, the dimensions of which were sent to him, and it was stated to have been wished that the likeness should be taken at full length, as in the act of delivering an address. But the proportions of the monument, with the apartment it was to occupy a place in, were of primary importance to a just exhibition of it, and he found that they could not be preserved in any other way than by reducing the statue to a sitting posture. With regard to the dress, it is said he could not hazard his reputation by attempting any other than that which was most familiar with him, and which is best adapted to his taste and genius. In the opinion of amateurs, this is Canova's happiest effort—So he has been heard to declare himself, and the Pope & Cardinal Gonsalvi have expressed the same opinion. It is related of this accomplished artist, that he expressed the most heartfelt satisfaction at having an opportunity of executing a statue of Washington, and he is said to have wrought more upon it with his own hand, than he was ever known to do upon any similar work—he generally reserving to himself in such works, only the finishing stroke, or coup de grace. As an example of the estimation in which this statue was held in Rome, many English and other travellers of taste and fortune, would have given four times the contract price to have possessed it. The likeness, we understand, was taken from a portrait of the General in the possession of the American Consul at Leghorn, esteemed an excellent resemblance.

A Valuable Tract of Land For Sale.

Four hundred acres of land is offered for sale adjoining to Friendship in Anne Arundel county, the greater part of this tract is covered with wood of various kinds: such as Locust, Oak, Hickory, Poplar, Cedar, and a large quantity of very fine Chestnut. The soil is very fine, adapted to Flax and Clover, and equal to any in that part of the country for the cultivation of Tobacco, Corn and small Grain. This land is about a mile from Chew's Cove, on Herring Bay, which gives it many advantages. A packet runs regularly once a week to Baltimore, from the Cove, which affords great facility in sending the produce of the soil to the Baltimore Market. Friendship and the neighbouring country being bare of wood, principally depend for their supply from this tract of land.—It would be divided into smaller parcels to suit purchasers, and the terms liberal. The improvements now erected on this land will cure 20 hogsheads of tobacco with the necessary out-houses for Overseer and Servants.—This land abounds with fine springs of water, and in a good neighbourhood.—For further particulars, apply to Nicholas Brewer, Esq. of Annapolis, or of WILLIAM T. GRAHAM, at Chew's Cove, Herring Bay. June 28.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY JONAS GREEN, BUCH-STREET, ANNAPOLIS. Price—Three Dollars per Annum.

At the late District Court holden at Talbot County, in May last, there were two trials for violations of the Election Law of the State. The first case was that of a certain Aquilla Cummins, who was indicted for voting twice at the last October election.

Some few days after this came on the case of a certain John W. Sherwood, who was indicted for the offence of voting twice at the October Election. Mr. Sherwood, is an active, enterprising mechanic of Easton. It was intimated by the court whether Sherwood was a busy man at elections—were informed, yes, that he was a busy man at elections. The case was set up by Sherwood was that he was delirious from a fever and did not know what he was about. It was in evidence that Sherwood voted early after the polls were closed, and that soon after, time exactly specified, he came up and voted again—when in the act voting, one of the Judges acceded to him of voting twice, and attempted to arrest the vote. Sherwood denied it, and the other Judge of the ballot in the box. From the vote to this time is supposed to be more than half an hour at the least. The sheriff of the county, who met Sherwood at the hustings just after the polls were closed, and according to him, friend Sherwood, they say you voted twice—to which Sherwood directly replied, aye, they say so. The sheriff said, he looked unwell, and that there was something unusual in his eye.

The attending physician was called, who deposed, that he had the morning of the election seen Sherwood, and rather dissuaded him from going out, as Sherwood was unwell, and had been unwell some time—the day was threatening. The physician said Sherwood by no means delirious when he saw him in the morning, and that he never knew him to be delirious any time whilst he was sick. He said of having voted twice was fact, because it could not be denied. The court adjudged that Sherwood was delirious on the election day, and ought not to be fined. Sherwood and Cummins voted democratic ticket.]

From the Federal Republican. MR. EDITOR.—The deliberate solemn attention of every honest prudent man in the state, whether he be federalist or democrat, is called to the statement given in your paper, taken from the Eastern Gazette, on the subject of the votes cast by John W. Sherwood, at Easton, on the eastern shore of Maryland, at last October election. It is a FOUL IMPOSITION ON THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE. A BLOT ON THE character of the court, stain on the ermine of justice, indelible and fixed, and one which all waters of the ocean cannot wash out. Let us see the oath taken by the judges of elections: Oath of the Judges of Elections. I do swear and affirm that I will permit all persons to vote, who will offer to poll at the election to be held for the county of _____ city, who in my judgment shall according to the directions contained in this law, and the institution and form of government, be entitled to poll at the same election; and that I will not permit any person to poll at the same election who is not in my judgment qualified to vote as aforesaid; and will in all things execute the office of judge of said elections, according to the best of my knowledge, without FAVOUR OR PARTIALITY, SO HELP ME GOD.

Read this oath people of Maryland, and remember, that it was in proof before the court, before whom Sherwood was tried, that when he presented himself to vote the se-
