A Farm for Sale,
The subscriber will sell the Farm on which he resides, containing three hundred and twenty-nine and a half acres of land. The whole is in a high state of improvement, the soil is well suited to Tobacco, Wheat, Corn, &c. and every part of it has been improved with Clover—Plaster acts powerfully on it, and has been used liberally. The buildings of every description are such as to accommodate a family with comfort and convenience.

Valuable Tract of Land For Sale.

Four hundred acres of land is offered for sale adjoining to Friendship in Anne Arundel county, the greater part of this tract is covered with wood of various kinds: such as Locust, Oak, Hickory, Poplar, Cedar, and a large quantity of very fine Chesnut. The soil is very fine, adapted to Plaster and Clover, and equal to any in that part of the country for the cultivation of Tobacco, Corn and small Grain. This land is about a mile from Ghew's Cove, on Herring Bay, which gives it many advantages. A packet runs regularly once a week to Baltimore, from the Cove, which affords great facility in sending the produce of the soil to the Baltimore Market. Friendship and the neighbouring country being bare of wood, principally depend for their supply from this tract of land.—It would be divided into smaller parcels to suit purchasers, and the terms liberal. The improvements now erected on this land will cure 20 hogheads of tobacco with the necessary out houses for Overseer and Servants.—This land abounds with fine springs of water, and in a good neighbourhood.—For further particulars, apply to Nicholas Brewer, Esq. of Annapolis, or of WILLIAM T. GRAHAM, at Chew's Cove, Herring Bay.

100 Dollars Reward.
Ran away from the subscriber, living near Friendship, Anne Arundel County, on Whitsunday morning last, the 10th inst two negroes, one a man by the name of JAMES HILL, about 25 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches in height, of a dark brown complexion, very humble when spoken to, but when irritated, daring and insolent. He has a scar on the left side of his mouth one on his upper lip, and another over one of his eyes, occasioned by a bite. His clothing, when he left the neighbourhood, was a blue coat, dark pantaloons, a light waistcoat, and an old fur hat, the top of the crown somewhat broke. The other a likely boy about 15 or 16 years of age, named DANIEL HILL, a brother to the above mentioned James, belonging to the estate of the late John Whittington, about the same complexion. Has no particular marks. They will, no doubt, remain together. His clothing not recollected. They have two brothers belonging to Mr. John Pumpfrey near Upper Marlborough, Prince George's County.
The above reward will be given for apprehending and securing said negroes, so that I get them again, or $50 for either of them, with all reasonable charges paid if brought home.
Henry Childs.
N. B. All owners of vessels and others are forewarned from receiving, harboring or trying off said negroes at their peril, as they will be dealt with according to law.

New Arrangement of Days.
MARYLAND,
will continue to run as heretofore until the last day of the present month.—But afterwards she will take her routes as follows: On Sunday the first of April, she leaves Easton at 8 o'clock, and will proceed to Annapolis, leaving there at half past 2 o'clock, for Baltimore, and arrive at 6 o'clock the same day; leaves Commerce street wharf, Baltimore, on Wednesday at 8 o'clock, and returns by Annapolis to Easton at 6 o'clock, the same evening; And so leaves Easton at the same hour, and by the same route, every Sunday and Thursday, and leaving Baltimore in like manner, every Wednesday and Saturday. In every route she will touch at Todd's Point, the Mills and at Oxford, if hailed, to take and land passengers. On Monday of every week she will leave Baltimore at nine o'clock for Chestertown, and arrive there in the afternoon; and on Tuesday morning leaves at 9 o'clock Chestertown and returns to Baltimore, touching in both routes at Queen's town, to take and land passengers. She will take freights from and to the respective places above mentioned, so as not to incommode the passengers, their Horses or Carriages. Passengers wishing to go to Philadelphia will find it the most convenient and expeditious route, as she meets the Union line of steam boats, when they can be put on board, and arrive in Philadelphia the next morning by 9 o'clock.
All baggage, of which due care will be taken, will nevertheless be at the risk of the owners as heretofore.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
JONAS GREEN,
ROBINSON-STREET, ANNAPOLIS.
Price—Three Dollars per Annum.

For the Maryland Gazette,
Aboriginal Manufactures of Savanah.

Extracted from "Lewis and Clark Expedition to the Pacific Ocean down the Great Columbia."
If it were not so well authenticated could it be believed that the origin of the late Dandy Hat is manufacture of the savage aborigines of the Columbia river, on the western coast of North America? The Journal, speaking of the Chippewa Indians,—"we gave a fish hat in exchange for one of their hats. These are made of cedar bark and bear-grass, interwoven together in the form of an European hat with a small brim of about two inches, and a high crown widening towards the top. They are light, ornamented with various colours and figures, and being nearly water proof, much more durable than either cork or straw hats. These hats for small article of traffic with whites, and the manufacture is of the best exertions of Indian industry.
They are however very dexterous in making a variety of domestic utensils, among which are bowls, spoons, skewers, spits and baskets. The bowl or trough is of different shapes, sometimes round, semi-circular in the form of a canoe, cubic, and generally dug out of a single piece of wood; the larger vessels having holes in the sides by way of handles, and all executed with great neatness. In these they boil their food, by throwing hot stones into the water, and extract oil from different animals the same way. Spoons are not abundant, nor is there any thing remarkable in their shape; except they are large and the bowl or Meats is roasted on one end on a sharp skewer, placed erect before the fire, with the other fixed in the ground. The spit for fish is at top into two parts, between which the fish is placed cut open, with sides extended by means of splinters. The usual plate is a small mat of rushes or flags, which every thing is served, instrument with which they dig roots, is a strong stick about two feet and a half long, sharpened, a little curved at the lower end, while the upper is inserted in a die standing transversely, and one of a part of an elk or buck horn.

*The tea-tray of Europe, and meat-tray made by our blacks in state, appear to have their origin among the savages of North America. What is very remarkable however, is, that the savages of the Copper Mine River, among the Dog Ribbed Indians, approaching the north pole, have those culinary vessels made of a species of stone, with ears or handles of the same—but always cubes of various sizes, and bear the fire remarkably well. As this tract of country without wood, stone is necessarily resorted to, so that necessity is the mother of invention. And that different mode of living, implements, &c. are no proof of a different nation or race of people.
It must be confessed, that considering the privations and wars those people, they are very neat and expert cooks. They appear to have taught the French the method of barbecuing. This is the method we use in splintering the very old pigs and muttens. We cook them in that way, at electioneering feasts.

HYDROPHOBIA.
By a reference to the bill of mortality published in this day's Sentinel, it will be observed that one person is reported to have died of hydrophobia—upon inquiry we find that this person was a native of England, had landed and served his apprenticeship in this city on Thursday, the 18th instant; was admitted into the Alms-House on the 24th, having been bitten by a dog previous to his arrival in Philadelphia, and expired on Friday.
