

From the New-York Spectator.
The Bostonians and the Cadets.
We really wish we knew the day on which the Cadets would positively leave Boston, as we would not open a Boston paper until that important event should have taken place.— When the President visited that place, the good people behaved as though they were half crazy. The arrival of Kean, revived the disorder, which raged with increased fury, until that great personage broke the spell by his insulting petulance; and now that the West-Point military school has arrived among them, the whole city appears to be again in a state of hallucination; and there is danger that if the youths do not explode with vanity, they will be killed by kindness. Do not our Boston friends know that they are cheapening civic honours, as well as military, by bestowing them so profusely on all occasions? We really think that their cavalcades, dinners, escorts, &c. &c. ad infinitum, might better have been dispensed with. It is incomprehensible, says the National Gazette, how a people of so much general sobriety and solidity of judgment as mark the citizens of Boston, should permit young gentlemen, who have not yet passed through their scholastic training, with forms of honours and distinction, due only to patriotic services, or official dignity of the highest order.

From the Albany Daily Advertiser.
CHOLERA MORBUS.
Messrs. Printers.—Knowing this to be the season in which many youth, as well as adults, are dying with the above dreadful malady, and having through the blessing of Almighty God, saved the life of one of my children, by the use of the carbon of cork, I deem it a duty that the public be once more informed of the manner of preparing and using it. And to the anxious mother, I would direct, that she take a common small beer or porter bottle cork, lay it upon a clean hearth, so high a hot fire that it will burn to a coal; put the coal into a tea-cup, or any convenient vessel, and add thereto a common tea-spoon full of the best cogniac brandy, and then with a spoon reduce the cork to a fine powder; after which add two thirds of a tea-cup full of peppermint tea, make the whole quite sweet with loaf sugar; add thereto a little grated nutmeg, and give to the patient (a child two years old) from three to four tea-spoons full at a time, which you may repeat once in every two hours, if necessary, and it will afford a speedy and perfect relief in the very worst stages of the disease.

Land For Sale.
Will be sold on Thursday the 15th of September, at 12 o'clock if fair, if not the next fair day thereafter, (Sunday excepted), the very valuable tract of land I now reside on, lying in Anne Arundel county, near the Swamp Bridge, containing one hundred and seventy nine acres more or less. The soil is very productive, and well adapted to the growth of corn, tobacco, and all kinds of small grain. The land is well watered, has sufficient timber for its use, and near Trucon's Landing, affording an easy conveyance of its produce to market. Should the land be sold, the subscriber will offer for sale, for cash, stock of every description, household and kitchen furniture, and farming utensils. Persons desirous of purchasing will be shown the premises at any time previous to the day of sale.— Terms of Sale, the purchaser to pay one third on the day of sale, one third in twelve months, and the residue in eighteen months, bonds with approved security being given, bearing interest from the day of sale.
