FEMALE ACADEMY

At the request of the Misses Marcilwe attended on Monday last the public examination of the pupils in their Female Academy, and were much gratified with the result. The several classes underwent a strict and careful examination—calculated by its manner nor merely for a public exhibition but to try effectually the extent of their knowledge-It would be useless to name the classes or the individual young lalies who distinguished themselves in this examination. All of the classes gave the most satisfactory proof of their own industry, attention and improve-ment, and of the care and skill of the adies by whom they have been instructed.
