

ANAPOLIS, Thursday, Nov 19, 1839

For the Maryland Gazette. Mr. Printer, In your paper of week before last, there was a piece addressed to "Mira," which you please insert the following answer:

MIRA, TO

When evening's shade o'er spreads the sky, And thro' the air streams the fire fly; When twinkling stars their pallid beam Upon the silent river gleam; Whenephyrs cease to caress a sigh, And night-birds sad are heard on high; 'Tis then, O Mira, that I breathe a sigh, O'er the green turf where rest thy lead. Then let thy spirit hover near, And witness that my love's sincere.

For the Maryland Gazette.

The elections have terminated against the Crawford ticket in the City of New York, by about 400 majority."

Mr. Editor, The Maryland Republican of Tuesday last contains the above paragraph, the design of which, is to make readers, who are not acquainted with New-York politics, believe that the election in New York has terminated in the discomfiture of Mr. Crawford's friends. However hostile the editor of the Republican may be to Mr. Crawford's election to the presidency, it is entirely unbecoming him thus disingenuously to attempt to discourage the friends of the Crawford ticket in your city. The representation, to say the least, is not founded in fact. The result of the election in New York affords no criterion by which it is possible to judge of the popularity of Mr. Crawford in that city. The parties there are precisely such as arrayed themselves in your county and city at the October election—a Caucus and an Anti-Caucus party. In New-York the Caucus party, or party which is in favour of nominating candidates for the people, is called the Tammany party, and the party which is in favour of candidates announcing themselves independent of the Caucus, the "People's Party."

When the Caucus Party succeeded in your city in October last, you had as good ground for saying that it was a proof of Mr. Crawford's popularity, as the editor of the Republican had for saying that the election terminated against the Crawford ticket in New York, because the Caucus party was defeated in that city.

COURT OF APPEALS, June Term, 1823.

Henry Wesley, et al vs John R. Thomas, and wife, adm's of Aquila Pumprey. Appeal from the Court of Chancery. [Argued by Brice and Boyle for the appellants, and Ridout for the appellees.] The opinion of the Court was delivered by DOXEY, J. The appellants John R. Thomas, and Catharine his wife, filed their bill in the court of chancery, against Henry Wesley, and others, claiming that Wesley, the former husband of Catharine, the female complainant, being indebted to several persons for the amount of one hundred dollars, the defendants obtained against him on the 21st of August, 1821, a mortgage, Wesley, to justify in superseding the said judgment, and that Wesley agreed to do so on condition that Pumprey would give him an indemnity. The bill then proceeds to state, that the deed of mortgage exhibited with the bill, was executed to secure Wesley against the payment of the said judgment, and for no other purpose. It is alleged in the bill, that the judgments were discharged by Pumprey, and that the negro mentioned in the deed of mortgage remained in the possession of the said Pumprey, and the complainant, Catharine his administratrix, until three of them were released by Wesley. The bill prays that a writ of execution may issue against Wesley, and his securities in the replevin bond, and that the deed may be delivered up to be cancelled. The deed exhibited with the bill, is executed by Pumprey, and in consideration of two hundred dollars, conveyed to Wesley, and his executors, four negroes to be delivered on the payment of two hundred dollars to be paid by the defendant Wesley, to the complainant, Catharine his administratrix. The defendant Wesley, by his answer, denies that the negro was executed as an indemnity as alleged by the complainant, but affirms that it was given for the purpose of securing two hundred dollars due from Pumprey to him. A commission issued, under which evidence was taken by the complainant, proving that Wesley had in various conversations acknowledged that the deed was executed for the purpose stated in the bill, and that nothing was due to him from Pumprey. The defendant Wesley, by his answer, ordered that the deed should be cancelled, and from that time Wesley has appealed; and this court are of opinion, that the decree of the chancery must be reversed, as parcel of the same.

NEW YORK ELECTION. New York, Nov. 6. We have not yet received the actual returns from all the different wards, at the latest moment of putting our paper to press. Enough however, is known, to justify us in announcing that victory has declared itself in favour of the "People's ticket." We consider it as the triumph of the people, not of any party, and therefore, we congratulate the community on the event. So appalling was the news received from the different wards, evening, to one party of those assembled at Tammany Hall, that the Grand Staircase, they put on the chair at an early hour. But the friends of the People, who were engaged in their committee room below stairs, immediately proceeded to be re-elected.

Obituary. Departed this life on Sunday evening last, after a long and painful illness, in the 26th year of her age, Mrs. JULIA ANN FENDEL, consort of Mr. Benjamin T. Fenel, of Anne Arundel county. She has left a husband and two small children to lament her demise.

POSTSCRIPT. We learn from the National Intelligencer that the Board of Commissioners appointed under the Treaty of Ghent, to ascertain American claims for deported Slaves, (agreeably to the abolition treaty) adjourned on the 5th inst. to convene again on the 12th of January. We understand the Commissioners still had under consideration, at the period of adjournment, the 6th article of the Treaty, (the question of average value,) on which they had not been able to come to a decision.

NATCHEZ. From the New Orleans papers we learn that the fever continued to rage at Natchez on the 18th of October without any abatement, from 4 to 6 interments a day taking place.

REPORTS FROM GIBRALTAR. The brig Conveyance, which left Gibraltar on the 4th of October, arrived below at New York on Friday. The captain reports, "Nothing new at that place." This vessel is about a fortnight later than previous arrivals from Gibraltar; her letters were not up on Friday evening; but it is presumed from the above report, that no important event had occurred in Spain up to that time. One of the morning papers states, that at the time the Conveyance sailed, the Spaniards still held Cadiz, and there was no prospect of its being surrendered to the French.

COUNTER REPORT—FALL OF CADIZ. A vessel has arrived at Boston, which left Gibraltar on the same day with the Conveyance, by which we learn that a BIZ WAS SURRENDERED TO THE FRENCH ON THE 27th OF SEPTEMBER, and that the King and family had gone to St. Mary's. In corroboration of the above, the correspondent of the Bos on Gazette states, that an American vessel was to sail immediately from Gibraltar for Cadiz. But taking this news in connexion with the report of the captain of the Conveyance, it certainly wants confirmation.

Office of the N. York Gazette, Nov. 9. LATEST FROM ENGLAND. The ship Mentor, Capt Thompson, sailed from Liverpool on the 1st of October. The editors of the Gazette have received a Liverpool paper of the 1st ult. and the London papers down to the evening of the 29th of September. Their contents are not important.

The Paris papers of the 27th, give a Telegraphic Dispatch of the 26th, of the taking, at that evening, of Santa Petri. The new French Admiral Duperré, had arrived before Cadiz, where great preparations were making for an attack.

At Madrid, on the 22d of September, it was confidently believed that Cadiz would fall, and that Riego was under a French escort, and was to be delivered up to the Spanish authorities.
