John P. Kennedy, John Barney, and James Tongue, esquires, were likewise put in nomination and voted for. Mr. Kenne-dy, received 27 votes, Mr. Tongue 25, and Mr. Barney 5.

INTERESTING RESOLUTIONS. Every day gives new interest to the approaching Presidential Election. On Tuesday, Mr. R. Bowie, from Prince George's, submitted the following resolutions relative to a Congressional Caucus at Washington, to the consideration of the Senate of this state. They were made the order of the day for Tuesday next: when, it is expect. day for Tuesday next; when, it is expected, they will be discussed with much spi-concern the attempt now making at Washington, to controul the election of President means of a congressional caucus.

The constitution of the United States has assigned to congress certain rights and du-ties in regard to that election, concerning the performance of which, at the proper time and in the proper place, it is unwise and injudicious for members of congress previously to pledge or commit themselves. To the people the same instrument has assigned other rights and duties which the Legislature of Maryland believe they are perfectly competent to perform without the corrective interposition of any other tribunal, and more especially of that one which

Therefore, Be it resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland. That they disapprove of, and will discountenance any congressional cau-cus nomination at this time of President and Vice President of the United States, and that the senators and representatives of this state in congress be requested to use their influence to prevent the same.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be forthwith transmitted by his excellency the Governor to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress."

PEDLERS' LICENSES. ** Mr. Printer, ... It is the opinion of many that the revenue of this state could be considerably increased by a modification of the law requiribg forty dollars for a pedler's license. As this law now stands no person can take out a license for a less term than one year. The inclemency of the weather during four months of this meriod, makes it impossible. months of this period, makes it impossible months of this period, makes it impossible for persone licensed to exercise the business of pedding, to follow the same. During one third, then, of the time for which a man pays for his license, he cannot derive the least advantage from it. This inconvenience and the high price of the license, lead to numerous infractions of the law, by persons who are not strictly, honest, or by those who are unable to purchase a license for the full term of one year. There can be but little doubt that the same causes prevent many men whose sound honesty restrain them from evasions and violations of the law, from pursuing peddling for a livelihood. These opinions are formed after some reflection, and are founded in a know ledge of the provisions of the law in questi-on, having, in many instances been entire-ly disregarded by hawkers and pedlers. To this fact, may with truth be ascribed the unproductiveness of this branch of our revenue; and no man will be disposed to doubt it, who will take the trouble to acquaint himself with the exact profite which have accrued to the state from litemass ince the hard here has relied to forty dollars. quaint himself with the exact profits which have accrued to the state from licemes since alled all nis accred in conformity with resolution, the Emission resolution, the Emission resolution, the Emission resolution is nation, against the is. AN INDIVIDUAL.

For the Maryland Gazette, THE PER DIEM BILL.

I was much pleased to hear that a bill had been introduced into our house of defegates, by Mr. Worthington of Baltimore county, to reduce the per diem of the members of the legislature; and had encouraged a hope, that the pressure of the times with the reduced condition of the transmit and the reduced condition of the treasury. would have insured the measure, the sup-port of a majority of the members of that body. This hope has proved fallacious, for on Tuesday, that bill was called up for consideration, and rejected by a small majority. What arguments were used to de-fest it I know not; but feel quite certain, that its opponents will not venture to deny, that the treasury is in a low state, and re quires all the frugality and financial skill comprehended in the legislature to reple ish it. The whole number of states in the union is now twenty four. Of these there are only is now twenty four. Of these there are only six which allow to the members of their respective legislatures more than three dol lars per days and ten of the number have not even placed the per diem ro high as three dolars. In ithode Island, Connecticutt, and Virmolt, a delegate receives only $1.50 per day. Does not this account in some measure for the shortness of the seesions of the legislative bodies of these last mentioned states, and the lacility and dementioned states, and the facility and despatch with which business is transacted in them? For my own part I will not hesitate in saying, I think it does.

in saying, I think it does.

Knowing that many were sincerely anxious that Mr. Worthington's proposition should succeed, I hope he will troom but yery laudable effort to effect the object of
