

PROPOSALS

FOR PUBLISHING THE MARYLAND GAZETTE AND STATE REGISTER.

Upon a new and improved Plan. The Editor of the Maryland Gazette, designs making a considerable change in the plan and character of his paper.

The Maryland Gazette was established in the year 1755, by one of the ancestors of the present editor. It was preceded in its publication, but by three other papers on this Continent, all of which it has survived.

It is therefore at present the oldest paper in America. From the period of its establishment, until the year 1813, it preserved the same character, and the same title; and its general intelligence, it was not devoted to the views and objects of any particular party, but its columns were accessible to all.

At the commencement of the year (a most momentous period in the history of our country,) it was deemed necessary to give it a new character; and the better to designate its course, an additional title also; it was henceforward called the Maryland Gazette and Political Intelligence.

At this period great political excitement prevailed, and party spirit ranged with uncontrolled violence—our country men were divided into two great parties—the one approving, the other condemning the measures of the general government.

Being forced by this state of things to take a part in the political contests of the day, the editor, after the maturest deliberation, and with the fullest conviction of his understanding, resolved to advocate, exclusively, that policy which was recommended by the federal party.

If he differed from a majority of his countrymen, he differed honestly; and whether his views and sentiments were erroneous or not, they were the dictates of the purest patriotism, and proceeded from an ardent desire to promote, what he conceived to be, the best interests of his country.

But these scenes have passed away—times have changed—and the situation of our country is now very different. We are in the full enjoyment of almost every national blessing—we are not only exempt from the horrors of war, but we are every where blessed with plenty and abundance.
