THE RHODE-ISLAND MEETING. The Providence Patriot gives the following account of the caucus in Rhodelsland, which lately made a nomination of Mr. Adams for President,

The meeting alluded to in the following proceedings was not publicly notified; pri-vate invitations were given to such as it was supposed were favourable to the object in view, who attended, with many others who had the curiosity to see what might be done. The whole number present, of all parties, was probably about sixty; and no doubt there were persons from most of the towns in the State, the General Assembly being in session. A ballot having been pro-posed, ostensibly to ascertain the sentiments of those assembled relative to the presidential candidates, forty six persons voted, the greatest portion of them for Mr Adams, but some for De Witt Clinton, Mr. Crawford, &c. A committee was then appointed, composed of federalists and republicans, who retired and produced the preamble and resolutions which were adopted by the meet-

TWELVE REASONS Why a Congressional Caucus should be held.

1 Because it is not forbidden by the con-

2. Because it goes to promote an election z. Because it goes to promote an election of president by the people, the mode to which the constitution gives the preference.

3 Because it tends to prevent the election's being thrown into the house of representatives, which the constitution only intends as an alternative expedient.

4. Because it leads to the selection of the best candidate, as an inferior one cannot thus prevail.

5. Because it lessens the number of candidates, and prevents the community from being thrown into violent agitation by numerous pretenders.

6. Because it is customary having been long practised.

The following letter was enclosed in a communication from the excellency the governor to the legislature:

Washington January 28, 1824.

Dear Sir—Colonel Mignel put into my hands this morning, your letter to him, dated "Council Chamber, Annapolis, January 26, 1824." "Will you have the goodness to ask Mr. Little if he received my letterenelosing resolutions respecting congressional caucus." I have received the resolutions alluded to in your letter, and must not be considered as wanting hat high respect at all times greatly due to the legislature of Maryland; I did not deem it necessary to respond to the wishes and opinions expressed by them on the subject opinions expressed by them on the subject of a congressional caucus, which accords with my own long since entertained, and often expressed to by fellow-citizens, and immediate constituents—to the governor and his coonest, the convention of the constituents of the constituents of the constituents of the constituents of the continuation of your health and happiness.

PETER LITTLE NINIAN PINKNEY, esq. Clerk to the Go-ernor and Council. Which was read.

considered, passed and sent to the senate.

On motion by Mr. Purnell, Leave given to bring in a bill for the relief of the collectors of the direct tax in the several counties.

Tuesday, E. 3.

Mr. Pitt delivers the Olowing statement: Inasmuch as a wide difference of opinion, and great diversity of vices exist among the members of the joint committee, appropriate by the legislature, vested with authority to examine books and interrogate witnesses, on oath, as to the situation of the Penitentiary, and as it is probable a formal Penitentiary, and as it is probable a formal report of that committee will not be made for some time, the undersigned as chairman of the former committee, and author of the report made by it, and as a member of the last committee, begs leave to sub nic the following brief statement:

The undersigned is constrained to adopt this course. (although unparismentary) because the last committee consider that their duties are entirely distinct from those of the former, and consequently any error in the report on the Penitentiary already submitted, cannot be corrected by the one, they may hereafter make.

It is not the intention of the undersigned to enter into an elaborate commentar the facts, developed by the testimony which accompanies this statement, as he deems the legislature more competent than him-self to ascertain the situation of the Peni-tentiary, by an examination of the written evidence herewith submitted, but simply to correct some errors in the report of institution, which he had the honour to submit.

In the report of the former committee, it is stated othat from the first day of December, 1822, to the 30 s. November, 1823, inclusive, 113 convicts were received into the Negative—Messrs. Gale, Hodges, Howard, Linkhicum, C. R. Stewart, Iglehart, Miller. Edelen, Rogerson, Garner, J T. H. Worthington, Loockerman, Lloyd, Martin, Spencer, Jones, Dennis, Brattan, Dashiell, Pitt, Eake, Willis, Hutson, Rerr, Hopper, Meconiken, Moffett, Nicholson, Turbutt. Fisher, Kemp, Wniteiord, Sewell, Norris, Elijah Barwick, Douglass, Ed. Barwick, Gabby, Bowles, Merrick, Kallgour, Williams, W. Duvall, Methenry—44. Determined in the negative. The clerk of the senate delice, the bill for the preservation of the breed of fish in Ahticatam creek; the bill to incorporate the Pells Point Beneficial Society; the bill authorising the levy court of Harford county to open certain roads, the Willto akerthe time of hoding the county courts in the se-sent to the Penitentiary a second time, not one had been there at his first confinement long enough to learn a trade.

As to the facts of the non-execution of the sentences of our courts, the lodging ten and twelve of the convicts in one spartment the feults mong the officers. ment, the feuds among the officers, and the other statements relative to the internai ad-ministration of the Penitentiary in the former report, the undersigned has no cause whatever to change the opinions therein in the report already made, the commit-tee state that, "gross impositions are prac-ticed upon the state in the supplies of ma-terials." After minute inquiry on the terials." After minute inquiry on this subject, the charge cannot be established. And the undersigned has no hes tation in declaring that the conduct of the directors in the management of the pententiary has been and is now honourable and disinterested. whether wise, able and judicious, he leaves whether wise, able and judicious, he leaves the legislature to judge. In conclusion the undersigned would respectfully recommend that the several alterations and modifications suggested in the former report, he carried into affect by enectments in that authorized the former report, he carried into affect by enectments in that authorized the former report, he carried into affect by enectments in that authorized the former report, he carried into affect by enectments in that authorized the former report, he carried into affect by enectments in the former report.
