A LAWYER.
Extract from a sketch of the character of the late Archibald Henderson, Esquire, an eminent Lawyer of North Carolina, published in the Hillsborough Recorder:
"There was one trait in Mr. Henderson's manner of conducting a cause in court, which I greatly admired; it was his manner of examining witnesses.
He was as polite and decorous to them as he was to the court. He asked no unnecessary questions; and every witness that came into court, felt a confidence that from him he should receive no insolent or impertinent treatment.
He disliked excessively the never-ending interrogatories that are put to witnesses; and he disliked still more the noisy and boisterous manner in which those interrogatories are sometimes put.
He said this manner was not only un-dignified, and had a tendency to lessen the respect of the people for their courts, but it often prevented the course of justice, by intimidating witnesses, and thereby either suppressing material facts, or giving them an improper colouring.

"As he advanced in life, he seemed more and more anxious that laws should be interpreted and administered by the rules of common sense. He, in a great degree, lost his reverence for artificial rules. He said, the laws were made for the people, and they should be interpreted and administered by rules which they understood, wherever it was practicable; that common sense belonged to the people in a higher degree than to learned men, and that to interpret laws by rules, which were of vicious and common sense, necessarily lessened the respect of the people, inducing them to believe that courts and lawyers contrived unintelligible mysteries in the science merely for the purpose of supporting the profession of lawyers. He said the rules of pedantry did not suit this country nor age, that common sense had acquired a dominion in politics and religion, and was fast acquiring an absolute dominion in the law; that judges and lawyers should have the independence and magnanimity to strip off the veil of mystery from every branch of the law, and root out all the remains of a ridiculous pedantry; simplify the science, and make it intelligible, as far as possible, to the understandings of the common people."

EIGHTEENTH REPORT of the drawing of the Grand State Lottery

No. 13676 a prize of $100 4685 a prize of 50
And 198 prizes of 12 each When it is recollected that out of the stupendous amount of $187,826 contained in this splendid scheme, only $2526 escaped at this drawing, it may be considered as an insignificant one indeed. The peculiar attractions of this magnificent lottery would seem to increase geometrically as the drawings progress.
Only two more drawings now remain to complete the distribution of the following brilliant prizes, all of which are now waiting and of course liable to be drawn at any time, viz.
1 prize of $100,000
1 do 20,000
2 do 10,000
1 do 5,000
7 do 1,000
Besides a multitude of 100s, 50s, & 12s, Amounting in the aggregate to the overwhelming sum of $185,300! Beside the unparalleled inducements which this magnificent lottery presents to adventurers, the fact that the payment of all its prizes is guaranteed by the state of Maryland, is a circumstance which entitles it to superior consideration.
For tickets and shares, of which a few remain still unsold, warranted undrawn; apply or send forthwith to

Halves 10 | Eighths $3
TAKE NOTICE
That the next drawing takes place on Thursday the 13th of May, and the remaining one it is expected will be in a few days after.
Orders for tickets or shares from all parts of the United States will receive at Conine's the same prompt and faithful attention as if personal applications were made. Address W. C. CONINE, Baltimore.
Information of the sale of tickets furnished at the close of the drawing or whenever requested.

MR. GREEN.
I have lately observed several publications respecting gold having been found in different parts of North-Carolina. These publications have induced me to make inquiry, through your paper, of the President and Directors of the North-Carolina Gold Mine Company, whether any thing has ever been done with regard to securing the land on which the stockholders have paid so much money? without having received the slightest satisfaction for their cash; or, whether it has been altogether a hoax on the public? If it be a hoax, I should like to know who holds the money which has been paid by stockholders.
The former President of the Company, was Daniel Carroll, of Duddington, esquire, a gentleman of standing and integrity. If it be in his power to give any information concerning the transactions of the Directors, he will oblige one of the stockholders by publishing a brief account of them. I know that some of the stockholders have paid the full amount of all the instalments, and others as much as $75 on each share. This is no trifling sum.
Any information on the subject, whether from the above named gentleman, or any other person, will be gratifying to

EXTRAORDINARY SIMILARITY.
A Mr. Smart, who keeps the Wynstay Arms Inn, at Ruthin, Denbighshire, has two daughters, twins—they are so surprisingly alike, that not only strangers but even their own parents find it difficult to name them when apart.
They seem almost to possess but one mind; are very uneasy if not dressed exactly alike to the smallest minutiae; have each one particular tooth that stands forward more than the rest, and a few years back, one had a tooth extracted, & on examination the other was found to have the same tooth in about the same state of decay. If a question is asked one of them, they generally both answer, their friendships and dislikes are always the same; if one is struck the other seems to feel it equally by the distress the evinces; if either of them is unwell, the other sickens in a day or two afterwards; they are inseparable companions—eat alike—think alike—act alike; in short the sympathy existing between these children has been the astonishment of the whole neighbourhood.—Evening Paper.—After this, the Comedy of Errors will seem quite natural.—London Examiner.

COM. PORTER.

The Antiquary Register of the 16th all states that the U. S. ship John Adams, of 24 guns, Captain Dallas, bearing Commodore Porter's pendant, arrived off the port of Antigua on that day, accompanied by the steam brig Sea-Gull, of 10 guns, Captain Voorhees. A calm prevailing, the John Adams did not come into the road, but the Sea-Gull, propelled by her internal power, manoeuvred, within the shipping, in a style, no less pleasing than novel to a great many of the spectators. The Commodore, with Mrs. Porter and sister, landed, and were conducted by the Captain-General to the government house, where they remained a short time. Both vessels subsequently departed for St. Thomas.

HAIL.
Taylorsville, Hanover County, Va.

We had yesterday the most tremendous rain and hail storm that has been in this neighbourhood for 40 years.— Some of the hail stones were as large as hen's eggs, and broke the glass in windows, killed a number of pigs, fowls, &c.

The National Gazette states that the royal government of Spain has appointed the Duke De Alcedia Ambassador to the United States of America.
This nobleman is, we believe, the Duke of San Fernando, who has been prime minister of Spain and a moderate Constitutionalist.

One of the last acts of the Legislature of New-York, was virtually to abolish imprisonment for debt in the city of New-York, by extending the prison limits to all that part embraced in the lamp district.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS.
From a statement laid before Congress, by the Postmaster General, of the receipts for each post office in the United States, for letters and newspaper postage for the year 1822, we have, rather as a matter of curiosity, than useful information, made the following extracts. We have named every office where the receipts exceed $5000. The sum total of the receipts was $1,108,309.—Many of the post offices did not return two dollars for their receipts.

SIGNS OF RAIN.

- An excellent receipt for accepting the Invitation him.

- 1 The yellow winds begin to blow;
 - 2 The clouds look black, the grass is low;
 - 3 The soot falls down, the spangles sleep;
 - 4 And spiders from their cobwebs creep.
 - 5 Last night the sun went pale to bed;
 - 6 The moon in holes hid her head;
 - 7 The hoding bird heaves a sigh;
 - 8 For see no rain spans the sky;
 - 9 The walls are round the ditches smell;
 - 10 Cloud's in the pinney'd pimpernell;
 - 11 Hark! how the chairs and tables crack;
 - 12 Old Betty's joints are on the rack;
 - 13 Loud quack the ducks, the peacocks cry;
 - 14 The distant hills are looking nigh;
 - 15 How restless are the snorting swine;
 - 16 The busy flies disturb the kine;
 - 17 Low o'er the grass the swallow wings;
 - 18 The cricket toot, how sharp he sings;
 - 19 Pass on the hearth with velvet paw;
 - 20 Sit, wiping off her eye with her paw;
 - 21 Through the clear stream the fishes rise;
 - 22 And nibble o'er the incautions flies.
 - 23 The glow-worms, numerous and bright,

SPAIN.

A letter from Gibraltar, says, "The people in Spain are by no means satisfied with the present government, and unless it minds what it is about, we should not be surprised to see a change attempted. The French only keep peace; but as they are now heartily sick of ever having interfered, I think they will be induced to leave their neighbours to their fate, as nothing can be done with or got from them."

COMMUNICATED.
Died, in this city, on Saturday morning last, after a long indisposition, Mr.
JOHN MILLER, senior, in the 63th year of his age. In his death the community have to regret the loss of an honest and industrious citizen, and a numerous train of relatives a sincere and affectionate friend. For a number of years previous to his dissolution he was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"What is't to die? What but to rest In soft and sweetly seal'd repose?
What is the grave? but nature's breast Maternal, where she luthes our woes."

POSTSCRIPT.

The ship Orbit sailed from Liverpool on the 2d March for New-York, having on board the Rev. Mr. Sumnerfield.

COLOMBIAN NAVAL VICTORY.
A proof slip from our attentive correspondents of the New-York Mercantile Advertiser says, that captain Osborn, of the sloop David, in 7 days took place off the bay of Matanzas on the 3d or 4th inst, between a Columbian squadron of two corvettes and a brig, and the Spanish sloop of war Ceres, of 23 guns, having a fleet of merchant vessels all from Havana under convoy. The action lasted an hour, and resulted in the capture of the Ceres, three heavy ships, and eight dro-gers, and the victors immediately bore away with their prizes. It was supposed they would stop at Key West.

The Ceres was built in New-York.
She lost between 30 and 40 killed and wounded. The captain was killed at the first broadside. A number of the crew jumped overboard; those who succeeded in reaching the shore, were sent to the Moro.
An embargo was immediately laid at Havana, which lasted till the 9th, when an expedition, consisting of a frigate, a sloop of war, a brig and a schooner, sailed in pursuit of the Colombian, which by that time it was believed had got out of their reach.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.
From our correspondents of the Boston Palladium, Daily Advertiser and Patriot, we have received proof slips containing intelligence from London to the 6th March, received by the brig Duxbury in 40 days from London. Extracts follow.
A letter received at Lloyd's Coffee House, London, states that Vice Admiral Neale had sailed from Malta for Africa, taking with him the vessel and leaving orders for all other ships of war to follow. The Consul had embarked with the Admiral. The Algerine force now at sea was no correct account, but it is said to consist of two frigates, two corvettes, and several small vessels, and about the 8th inst, they were cruising off the coast of Spain having captured a Spanish fishing vessel near Benedomi. All the British vessels at Gibraltar, bound up the Mediterranean, were waiting there for convoy.

On Friday the 5th of March, the Marquis of Lansdown gave notice, that on Monday next he would move an address to his Majesty to recognize the independence of the Spanish Colonies in South America. The Traveller, adds, it is probable, that the repeated meetings of Cabinet Ministers for several days past, related to this subject.
GREECE.
Advices from Zante of 1st February state that Patras remained under close blockade by sea and land. Lord Byron and Cols. Stanhope and Delamoy, were concerting measures with Maurocorato for besieging Lepanto. Some Algerine vessels which had taken shelter under the guns of that fortress, were blockaded by six Hydriote vessels. It is mentioned, in letters from Smyrna, that the Turks in Crete had received reinforcements from Egypt.

TURKEY.
Letters from Constantinople, dated January 27, speak positively of the disastrous situation of the Turks. It seems certain that the fire which broke out in the arsenal on the night of the 25th of January, was caused by incendiaries, and that the damage done was very great, although the Turks pretend that it was completely subdued without any considerable loss. It is also confirmed that the Persians in the neighbourhood of Bagdad have made hostile movements. These letters state that Lord Strangford had given great offence to the majority of the Turkish ministry, by the positive tone in which he demanded, on the 24th of January, the immediate evacuation of Wallachia and Moldavia, but that he is in favour with the Sultan and Grand Vizier, who are both disposed to a pacific policy.

Mr. Bowdich, the African traveller died on the river Gambia, Jan. 10, of a fever, occasioned by exposing himself to the chill of the evening, in making astronomical observations, after being exposed to the heat of the sun during the day.

ant of the 19th ult. says.—As Mr.
