

Change of friendly feeling, which become freemen on such occasions. Before their return to town, every precaution was used by the commanding officer, to have all the pistols discharged; and we have no doubt that each man calculated that his pistol had been fired; but in consequence of the fault of some of their flints, many retained their cartridges, among them one of Mr. Richard B. Brashears, a young gentleman who had but lately associated himself with the troop, but whose uniform rectitude of conduct, and the philanthropy and benevolence of his disposition, not only endeared him to his brother soldiers, but made him appreciated by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The tears of the troop mingle in condolence with those of his nearest relatives at the truly afflictive bereavement. After he had returned to town, he was observed by several of his friends entering the tavern, with one of his pistols in his hand, and when he had advanced about midway the room, he stopped, and commenced a conversation with several persons who were standing by, and attempted to return his pistol to his sword belt, in which he had been wearing it, when it was seen to take fire and discharge itself, and Mr. Brashears fell immediately. The surgeon of the cavalry district being on the ground, was called to examine the wound, assisted by three other surgical gentlemen, but his death was so instantaneous that no medical aid could avail. The corpse was opened to ascertain whether the pistol had been charged with any thing but powder, and the surgeons pronounced that the wound had been inflicted by a blank cartridge, and from the direction of it, they were convinced it came from his own pistol. What we have said, Sir, are facts that have been authenticated by the testimony of all who were present; we presume a liberal public will believe them; the invidious dare not doubt them.

Respectfully,
Your humble servants,
John Brookes,
Richard

Maryland, Prince George's County, in wit:
An inquisition taken at Upper Marlborough, in the county and state aforesaid, on the third day of July, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and twenty-four, before me, John Carter, one of the coroners of the said state for the county aforesaid, upon viewing the body of Richard B. Brashears then and there lying dead, upon the oaths of Horatio C. Scott, James Davis, John B. Mulliken, James Lamar, John J. Sasser, Samuel Belt, Richard C. Hall, William J. Belt, William Harvey, John Rantin, George W. Carroll, Edward Taylor, Richard A. C. Magruder, and William D. Bowie, good and lawful men of the county aforesaid, who being sworn upon the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, except Horatio C. Scott, who solemnly and sincerely affirmed, and charged to enquire how and after what manner the said Richard B. Brashears came to his death, do say, upon their oaths, that they are fully satisfied from the appearance of the body, and from the evidence given before them, that his death was caused by the infliction of a wound, in a mortal part, by an accidental discharge (by himself) of his own Pistol, loaded with a blank cartridge.

In witness whereof, as well the aforesaid Coroner, as the Jurors aforesaid, have to this inquisition put their hands and seals, on the day and year aforesaid, and at the place aforesaid:

Horatio C. Scott, (Seal)
John B. Mulliken, (Seal)
James Lamar, (Seal)

Dr. J. S. BRISCOE, is a candidate for elector of President and Vice President of the United States, in the 1st District, composed of St Mary's, Charles, and part of Prince George's county, in favour of the National Candidates.

A very pleasant bread is made in France by a mixture of apples and flour, in the proportion of one pound of the former to two of the latter. The usual quantity of yeast is employed as in making common bread, and is beat with flour and warm pulp of the apples after they have boiled, and the dough is then considered as set; it is then put up in a proper vessel, is allowed to rise for twelve or twelve hours, then baked into long loaves. Very little water is requisite; none generally, if the apples are very fresh.

FROM PORTUGAL.
The ship Coral, at Boston, has brought Gibraltar papers to the 25th May, containing accounts from Portugal to the 10th of the same month. On the 7th, the King of Portugal left Lisbon and retired on board the British ship Winsor Castle, accompanied by the foreign ambassadors, where he issued a Decree, taking the command of the army from his son Don Miguel. He also addressed a proclamation to the Portuguese, relating his son's arbitrary proceedings, and has liberated the individuals imprisoned by his son's direction. Subsequent news from Lisbon states that the King had landed, and that tranquillity was completely restored. Don Miguel had sailed from Lisbon, in a British frigate, supposed for London, whence he would travel through Europe.

A letter from Cadiz, received at Gibraltar on the 22d says, "it is mentioned with a good deal of certainty, that 2500 more French troops are to enter Spain immediately; that two regiments are ordered from Carthagea to Cadiz, at which place preparations are making to lodge them. These movements in Spain, with the recent events in Portugal, lead many to believe all is not well, and that war is brewing."
[The New York Commercial, in publishing it, says:—We have seen four copies of this letter, two of which state that 25,000 additional French troops are about to enter Spain, instead of 2500, as mentioned above. If the number was stated at 25,000 in the Cadiz letter, we do not believe it. If it was 2500, the importance of the intelligence is very inconsiderable.]
Extract from a private letter.
Tarida, (Portugal) May 14.—His Majesty, highly displeased with the Infant's conduct since the 30th of April, came to the determination of manifesting his sentiments; and that he might do so with the less risk of compromising the public tranquillity, he, on the 9th inst. went on board a British ship of war in the Tagus, whither he was followed by the Foreign Ambassadors, and there, issued a Decree by which he took the command of the army from the Infante, and strictly enjoined the Authorities to disregard his orders, or any that might be given in his name. At the same time he caused a Proclamation to the Portuguese to be circulated in which he related his son's arbitrary proceedings and their origin, and pointed out the result they might be attended with. He also ordered the individuals to be set at liberty who had been confined since the 30th of last month, and lastly, wrote a letter to his son, desiring him to come on board. H. R. He immediately obeyed the summons, and was subsequently removed to a frigate, it is said as a prisoner. These are, in substance, the news bro't by this day's mail, which you will read at greater length when you receive the newspapers. In this place, some individuals had already been arrested, and vindictive men were improving the opportunity; but thanks be given to his Majesty, who has put an end to this tragedy!

ABDUCTION.
Castlebar, May 10.
The following flagitious outrage was perpetrated on Wednesday last, in the town of Ballina: A young lady (as our correspondent informs,) of much personal attraction, respectable connexions, and good fortune, was with a female friend on a visit to that town. When on the night previous to her intended departure from thence at the hour of eleven o'clock, and after she had been undressed, three men forcibly entered her bed room, laid hold of her and dragged her out of the house, where a large party were waiting, who, regardless alike of tears, prayers, or entreaties, hurried her undressed as she was to a considerable distance where the author of this infamous transaction was in waiting to receive her. Next morning, Capt. Goodwin and the Chief Constable of that district, Mr. Weldon, on hearing the circumstance, proceeded to the place of her confinement, a wretched hovel, and succeeded in releasing her. Here the matter rests for the present—but what greatly aggravates the circumstance is, that the person guilty of this crime is son of the gentleman in whose house the young lady was on a visit, and though the family, we are informed, were all up, not one of them came to the assistance of her, whom they were by every tie of hospitality and good feeling bound to protect."

SLAVE TRADE.
A London Paper says:—"We recommend the following to our readers' notice:—The Propagator Haytyn contains the ensuing copy of a letter from a M. Delluc to M. Gaza Major, a merchant at Cuba. It was discovered on board the Marie Josephine, a vessel fitted out by the merchants of Cuba and Martinique to purchase goods from pirates, and was seized and condemned by the Court of Admiralty in Port au Prince. The vessel was furnished with fabricated American papers."
"St. Pierre, Martinique, April 20, 1824.
"To M. Gaza-Major, St. Jago de Cuba.
"The English has arrived safe, as I reported to you in my last, with 320 Negroes; but the Captain having put them ashore without our order, we have found it impossible to get them on board again. The Custom House officers and Police have worried (harcelé) these wretches for 15 days, and we have been obliged to make them fly into the woods. This has occasioned us a loss of sixty dead or missing."
(Signed) "Delluc."

David and Robert Shields have been tried at Paris, Ky., for the murder of M'Connell. Contrary to all expectation they were pronounced not guilty! The trial lasted 9 days. The Maysville Eagle, speaking of this result, says, "our respect for the great palladium of personal liberty, (the trial by jury) induces us to forbear comment. Such, however, is the strength of public feeling in Bourbon, that on Friday night last, the jurors were buried in effigy, and the rogue's March beat over the grave."

Pension Office, June 10. 1824.
Additional regulations in regard to the payment of pensioners by the agents.
No payment will in future be made to any pensioner, either in person or by attorney, who has not applied for his pension for one year or more, without the production of his identity; the proof will consist of the certificate of a magistrate in the county in which the pensioner resides, setting forth, either he knows the applicant to be the identical pensioner named in the original pension certificate, which he must exhibit to the magistrate, or that it has been satisfactorily proved before him, that he is such pensioner. The signature of the magistrate to be certified, under seal, by the clerk of the court of the county.

NINIAN EDWARDS.
From the National Journal of Saturday.
Anniversary Dinner.—We understand that Gen. John P. Van Ness, acting in the name of the Committee, appointed by the citizens to make arrangements for the celebration of our independence, has called at the bookstores of Messrs. Davis and Force, and Pifhey Thompson, where subscription papers were left, and has given directions that Mr. Ninian Edwards should not be permitted to subscribe to the dinner."

From the Washington Republic of Saturday evening.
We are requested to publish the following:
To Messrs. T. Carbery and Jos. Gales, Jr.
Washington, 3d July, 1824.
Gentlemen: Upon a printed invitation, signed by you, we have subscribed our names for attendance at a dinner, at Mr. Williamson's Hotel, on the 5th inst. in celebration of the anniversary of our national independence. We find it stated in one of our public journals this morning, that one of the members of the committee of arrangements has called at the places where the subscription papers for the dinner had been deposited, and in the name of the committee, has directed that if Mr. Ninian Edwards should apply there to join in the celebration of the festival, his subscription should not be admitted. Our attendance at the dinner, after this notice, would justly be considered as equivalent to an assent, on our part, to this exclusion. The character and conduct of Mr. Edwards being before the nation, up in the report of a committee of the House of Representatives yet to be acted upon by the House, we should consider it incompatible with our duties as public servants, as well as with the principles of common justice, to participate in an act which we think would, in no event, be justifiable before a final decision upon the investigation. We request you, therefore, to consider this as notice that we have withdrawn our subscriptions for attendance at the dinner. We are, very respectfully, gentlemen, your obdt' servants,
JOHN QUINCY ADAMS,
J. C. CALHOUN,
JOHN M'LEAN.
