THOMAS CULBRETHE Esquire, of Caroline county, was on Tuesday last appointed Clerk of the Bxecutive Council of this State,

> CONNUNICATED. STATE BANK

PISCAL INSTITUTION.

An important plan of finance has been reported by a committee of the House of Delegates, appointed to de-vise a system to "Alleviate the pressure of pecuniary distress, and to provide for the amdioration and progressive improvement of this state," which is now pending in the general assembly.

Its organization will comprize a financial board at the seat of government. to prepare the medium, and control the branches, or sub-departments-A law officer, five managers, and a treasurer for every county, and every city, to pass on titles, and disburse loans, which shall not exceed in any event one half of the value of the property pledg-

The plan proposes a limited emission of public currency, founded upon and represented by the real estate or productive property, to be apportioned athe several counties, and in due degree.

For the purpose of assuring the circulation and the beneficial effects of the STATE CURRENCY, it is provided that "the notes of this emission shall be received in all public payments, and all pensions, donations, saluries, compensations, fees, and other claims claims allowed by law"-its redemption je also made the condition of all process.

For the recordity of money, and it may be funded in 3 per cents, at the rate of 80 for 100, redeemable at the pleasure of the state. The system provides for INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS, on a liberal scale, and especial means for effectuating the DESIRED OBJECTS OF INLAND NAVIGATION. It creates a variety of valuable offices, to give employment to "law characters, numerous cierks and practical men, to manage and conduct ts operations." The bill seems to have been deliberately concocted, and cautiously guarded in all its clauses.

The vast resources, and increasing prosperity of Great Britain, have been ascribed to the application of this principle of SYMBOLICAL MONEY OF PUBLIC RIGHT.

The friends of the measure anticipate abundant means to support the government, to extend Relief To EVERY CLASS AND GRADE OF PEOPLE; to PROMOTE IMPROVEMENTS IN EVERY INTEREST - and to SUPPLY REVE-NUES FOR THE EDUCATION of ALL THE YOUTH THROUGH-GUT THE STATE. We are prone to admit a considerable change in the public opinion upon this question, and shall expect to witness a free discussion and a fair decision upon the merits of this system, in both branches of the legislature

To the Editor of the Marvland Gazette.

Sir, I am very far from being a friend to innovation, nor do I like to see laws unnecessarily repealed. But it cannot be denied that there are in our statute book, some laws which ought never to have been passed, and the continuance of which is worse than useless-some of which is worse than useless—some of these, indeed, are highly mischievous Among them may be mentioned, An act. entitled, A supplement to an act to prevent the issuing of small bank notes, passed January 31, 1821. The object of this act, as its title implies, is to prevent the circulation of small bank notes, that is of notes under five dollars. And in what manner is this object to be effected? Why this law declares, that after its passage, it shall not be lawful for any bank in the state to issue any note under five dollars; this may indeed serve to injure the banks, without benefitting the public, but it is utterly inconceivable, that it can have any beneficial effect. But this is not the worst part of this most injurious law—It imposes a penalty of five dollars upon any person who offers to pass, or to receive, any note of a less denomination than five dollars, of any bank or company not chartered by the state. And what has been the effect of this provision? Why just that which any man of common sense might have anticipated. Our own banks have withdrawn from circulation their small notes, and their place is supplied by an inundation of small notes from other places, from New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, and the District of Columbia -And how is the circulation of these small foreign notes to be counteracted? Certainly not by the pro-visions of this law, for it imposes a like penalty upon him who passes, and him who receives one of these small bills. And who will prosecute his neighbour for the violation of a law, when he is at the same-time equally guilty, and as much in the power of his. peighbour, as his neighbour is in his power? The only possible, operation; that this law can have, as experience has proved, is to provent the circulation at small notes of our own banks, to en-
