The clerk of the senata returns the bill to exempt the rifle company commanded by Captain Ignatius. Brown, from regimental and battation mosters, endorsed counting the powers of the poor in the several counties of this state, endorsed counties of this proposed amendments;" which amendments were read, assected to, and the bill ordered to be engrossed. And delivers the following message:

BY THE SENATE, February 9, 1825.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

The senate received your message with the bill, entitled, A supplement to an act, entitled, An act to favour and make public two roads therein mentioned in Cecil county, passed at December session 1821, chap 127. The amendment to which, proposed by the senate, has been rejected by your house. How the amendment swould entirely defeat the bill," the senate are at a loss to conceive. The right of appeal is given by the amendment to the parties under the direction of the levy court of the county. The commissioners, from whose judgment of damages appeal may now be made, were named in the original law. This provision of the low differs from the law afterwards passed in 1821, chap. 162, which empowers the levy court to name the commissioners in the first instance. The senate are of opinion, that the levy court composed of several idicious ment taken from different parts of the county, are more softable and proper to select an impartial and competent jury to ascertain the damages in this case, than a sheeff. And the senate cannot suppose that the object of the bill to be other than to obtain an impartial tribunal to assess the damages. The law, to which this is a supplement, though considered advactageous to the public, was particularly so to the individuals through whose lands these roads pass, by making null and market more convenient and accessible, and no tribunal of appear, from the judgment of one commissioners, was provided, because it was beine elitial little or no damage would be required whose such giest advantages were obtained. These considerations alone are sufficient to shew, that the legislature could have had no intention by these two laws, to deprive the parties of othat instice? To which they are entitled, but on the contrary to secure to them advantages not before enjoyed.

Which was read. Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,
