GREEK FRIGATES.

On the subject of Frigates hid to be building at New York for the Greeks, the Washington Gazette contains the follows: ing communication:

FROM GREECE

From the Boston Repettory.
We published, a short time since, a letter from Mr. Miller, who is in Greece, and another from Prince Majorocordatos, dated in December last. A letter has since her received by the Greek committee in the town, from Miller, dated the 14th of Jassary, in which he gives some information deserving of attention, of the state of alfairs in Greece. He says, that amidst tageneral distress, equal to what any people ever endured, it is the universal declaration of men, women and children, within the very neighbourhood of the enemy, that they will sooner all die, than come agus under the power of the Turks—that they have a general aversion to the franks, From the Boston Repedery. under the power of the Turks—that they have a general aversion to the Erants, which will prevent their accepting a Priets, should one be recommended by the European powers—and that the Greek government is daily gaining strength, and there is a tair prospect of a speedy fettlement of internal dissentions. Mr. Miller waspressent at a congress of the principal limbbitants and generals from the department of Western Greece, which was tield at Anto-Western Greece, which was held at Antolico, December 16, and sat tee days. The proceedings were conducted with much order and regularity, and all the affirm of Western Greece were amicably discussed and settled, though the officers and soldier who have defended the number for the and settled, though the officers and soldiers who have defended the tountry for the last six months have received heither rations, clothes nor money. There were 2000 soldiers in the town, who came with their different commanders, yet there was nor in to nor disturbance. He considers Mayrocordatos the first man in Greece, in point of talents and influence. He has defended the province the last year without most, yet his officers are attached to him. Mr. Miller expected to march on the nest day a volunteer under Col. Jawis, in an expedition against Lepanto. Fairss was to be attacked at the same time by, troops from Napoli. He repeats his advice that no American should, embark in the Greek cause, unless they have resources to previde the means of support.
