GREEK FRIGATES.
On the subject of Frigates... building at New York for the Greeks... Washington Gazette contains the following communication:
"We understand that a gentleman... in rank, in the service of the Greek Government, is now building... Frigate, in New York, for the... these ships are to be built... delay and of the common timber of that state... Rumour says the construction of these ships are to be superintended by an officer, high in rank, in our service... Greeks have our ardent wishes for their success, and we could have hoped that they might have had our best wish in their ships similar to that of our Navy... We fear the credit of our ships may suffer abroad by this course."

AN OFFICER.
It would perhaps be more useful to the Greeks that such a communication... time past that several vessels of large class had been contracted for at New York, but it does not follow that they are for the Greeks, or for warlike purposes... necessary that the builder should know for what purposes they may be ultimately intended... As to the materials, we are satisfied, from what we have heard on the subject, that in point of materials, model and workmanship, the ships alluded to, will be creditable to the country... We heard within these few days from a highly distinguished and experienced officer of the United States Navy, that, therein now in progress in New York, in the yard of Mr. Eckford, a large ship of the first model, materials, and workmanship... Fed Gazette.

FROM GREECE.
From the Boston Repository.
We published, a short time since, a letter from Mr. Miller, who is in Greece, and another from Prince Mavrocordatos, dated in December last. A letter has since been received by the Greek committee in this town, from Miller, dated the 14th of January, in which he gives some information deserving of attention, of the state of affairs in Greece. He says, that amidst the general distress, equal to what any people ever endured, it is the universal declaration of men, women and children, within the very neighbourhood of the enemy, that they will sooner die, than come again under the power of the Turks... they have a general aversion to the Greeks, which will prevent their accepting a Prince, should one be recommended by the European powers... and that the Greek government is daily gaining strength, and there is a fair prospect of a speedy settlement of internal dissensions... Mr. Miller writes, in a general and general from the departments of Western Greece, which was held at Antiochia, December 16, and sat ten days. The proceedings were conducted with much order and regularity, and all the affairs of Western Greece were amicably adjusted and settled, though the officers and soldiers who have defended the country for the last six months have received neither rations, clothes nor money... There were 2000 soldiers in the town, who came with their different commanders, yet there was not a disturbance... He considers Mavrocordatos the first man in Greece, in point of talents and influence... He has defended the province the last year without money, yet his officers are attached to him... Mr. Miller expected to march on the next day a volunteer under Col. Jovic, in an expedition against Lepanto... Paras was to be attacked at the same time by troops from Napoli... He repeats his advice that no American should embark in the Greek cause, unless they have resources to provide the means of support... He says, he has already perished in Greece, and has done little or nothing for the cause of liberty or Greece.

REMARKABLE ANIMAL.
A gentleman, (Mr. J. O. Hyde,) direct from Oxford, called on us last week, and informed that two brothers, one about 18, the other only 12 years of age, went into the woods about 5 miles below Oxford, on Thursday the 12th inst., with two rifles, and discovered a strange animal about 20 yards distant from them... The oldest boy fired, and wounded him in the breast and shoulder... He turned, and made a furious charge towards the one who shot him... The oldest then called for his brother's rifle, who was about 100 yards distant... The younger brother started with his rifle towards him, but finding the animal would be too quick for him, he levelled his rifle himself, and brought him to the ground with a bill through his head... He was found to be 8 feet in length from the end of the nose to the root of his tail, which was 3 feet long, making 11 feet in the whole... He was 3 feet 6 inches high when standing; his body was about the size of a man's body, was of a dusky colour; had a face like a monkey, and a tail like a wolf... Mr. Hyde saw the animal himself.

OUR FIRST NAVAL VICTORY.
A Macedonian privateer schooner, Merga, of the British armed schooner, Merga, in Whellan Bay, during the Revolutionary War, was unquestionably the first naval trophy, which was obtained by the arms of 1775, and from Great Britain... The schooner was captured by the British... A person, concerned in the capture, was employed by the British authority in Boston, to procure a quantity of lumber designed for the erection of works for the Defence of Boston... The contractor protection in the establishment of his engagement, a British schooner and schooner of 6 carrying guns; 12 cannon and other warlike implements... to accompany the schooner... were employed to convey the requisite articles to Boston... The schooner was captured at Machias, the news of the capture of Lexington was received by the schooner... The object of the voyage was to transport the schooner to Boston... The schooner were to carry to Boston articles which would be applied to the defence of the city... A consultation was held by the friends of the country's rights, and measures were adopted to prevent the departure of the schooner... It was agreed, on all hands, that Jer O'Brien should take the command of the expedition... The schooner was in possession of the tender, called the Margaretta, commanded by a British officer, named Moss, soon overtaken by the schooner, commanded by Jer O'Brien, with a coasting vessel in company, and after a severe conflict, the schooner was killed, one mortally and several severely wounded on board... and three men killed, with Moore, the commander, and several badly wounded on board... the schooner yielded to an American vessel, and the captured vessel was brought to port... This action took place on the 12th of May, 1775... —Machias Star.

STRANGE EMIGRATION.
On Sunday last between twenty and thirty large boats loaded down with Emigrants and their families, passed through Geneva, on their way to the westward... Their exterior presented the appearance of wealthy and respectable farmers... Upon enquiry, they informed the Editor they were from Pennsylvania, and that they were on their way to Canada... There was no opportunity for further enquiry, as the cause of this extraordinary emigration... But what is the reason of it? Have not our government and our country... —Geneva N. Y. Palladium.

LARGE TREE.
A tree was lately cut in Horsham township, which contained 14 cords of saleable wood, and 12 cords bark, and about one cord of staves... Herald.

FROM LA GUAYRA.
Letter from Lagayra of the 18th May, 1825.
He said the people of the plains are becoming troublesome, and that several companies have taken place in the interior... The church of Petare was entered some weeks since by banditti, and the Alcaldes officers murdered; a number of young men were taken off by the robbers... Cisternas, the famous robber in the vicinity of Caracas, is still troublesome, and keeps the country in continual alarm... —American.

A GOOD PROPOSITION.
Mr. Martin of Galway, has obtained leave from the British House of Commons, to bring in a bill to enable persons prosecuted for treason to be defended by Counsel, in cases of a misdemeanor... It is remarkable feature in the administration of criminal Law in England, that a prisoner charged for a capital offence is never, except in cases of High Treason, permitted to have the benefit of Counsel, except for the examination of witnesses... to argue the point of Law, they must not address the jury... This is a remnant of barbarism which ought to be cast away.

SINGULAR FACT.
The Warrenton of the 10th ult. states, that in the house of a gentleman of that place, a hen's nest which contained an egg, was taken and kept in possession by a cat, until she brought forth her litter of young mewers; in the midst of which the egg remained, until it hatched a beautiful and fine white chicken, all of which were found nestled together by some member of the family, who accidentally discovered them.

POSSUMS FOR LAFAYETTE.
A short time ago the Editor of the American Farmer advertised for opossums for the Fair at Lexington, since that time he has received the following letters:
Arlington House, May 10, 1825.
Dear Sir,
I have read in your last number, an inquiry for opossums, to send to La Grange, and I am happy to inform you that my servant Philip Lee, has procured for General Lee, one male and two female opossums, one of the latter with young, and they are now on their way to Europe... The good General recognized Philip, and he returned to his uncle Billy, an old army acquaintance, and the body servant of the Commander in Chief, in the year of the revolution, called Philip to him and shook him heartily by the hand, and he said, in justice to the most faithful and most attached of servants for a hundred of negotiating hands... the good General did not grasp the one of an opossum, or of one more respectable than his own... Very truly, my dear Sir, your friend and servant,
GEORGE W. F. CUSTIS.

All in one Day.
To be drawn in the City of Baltimore NEXT MONTH, (JULY) BY THE IMPROVED MODE. Secured by Letters Patent under Seal of the United States.
COHEN'S OFFICE—Baltimore, June 2d, 1825.

The Improved Mode of drawing having been universally and so decidedly approved by the public, as evinced by the unprecedented sales in the late State Lottery, the Commissioners appointed by the Governor and Council have again adopted the same plan in the following scheme, which we have the pleasure now to present, viz:
GRAND STATE LOTTERY OF MARYLAND,
No. 5.
Highest Prize 40,000 Dollars.

SPLendid SCHEME.
1 prize of $40,000 is $40,000
1 prize of 10,000 is 10,000
1 prize of 5,000 is 5,000
10 prizes of 1,000 is 10,000
30 prizes of 100 is 3,000
50 prizes of 50 is 2,500
200 prizes of 20 is 4,000
250 prizes of 10 is 2,500
500 prizes of 6 is 3,000
20,000 prizes of 4 is 80,000
21,043 prizes - - - $160,000
40,000 Tickets.
More Prizes than Blanks.

67 Days after the drawing—subject to a deduction of fifteen per cent.
MODE OF DRAWING.—The Numbers will be put into one wheel as usual—and in the other wheel will be put the prizes above the denomination of Four dollars, and the drawing to progress in the usual manner. The 20,000 prizes of $4 will be awarded to the odd or even Numbers of the Lottery (as the case may be) dependent on the drawing of the capital prize of Forty Thousand Dollars—that is to say, if the 40,000 dollar prize should come out to an Odd number, then every Odd Number in the Scheme will be entitled to a $4 prize. If the 40,000 dollar prize should come out to an Even number, then all the Even Numbers in the Scheme will be each entitled to a prize of $1.
Odd Numbers are those ending with 1, 3, 5, 7, or 9.
Even Numbers are those ending with 2, 4, 6, 8, or 0.

This mode of drawing not only enables the Commissioners to complete the whole Lottery in One Drawing, but has the great advantage of distributing the small prizes regularly to every alternate number in the scheme, so that the holder of two tickets or two shares of tickets (one odd and one even number) will be certain of obtaining at least one prize, and in the same ratio for any greater quantity.
A ticket drawing a superior prize in this scheme, is not restricted from drawing an inferior one also; (many tickets therefore will necessarily obtain Two Prizes Each.)
The Drawing will take place in the City of Baltimore on Wednesday the 27th July, and will finish on the same day.
The Brilliance of this scheme is altogether Unprecedented. Adventurers will remark the low rate of tickets—the very trifling risk incurred, (there not being one blank to a prize) and that the capital prize of FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS, is of a magnitude hitherto unprecedented for so small a sum invested; above all, however, is the Certainty of Obtaining At Least One Prize by the purchase of two tickets or two shares—(one odd and one even number) and in the same ratio or certainty in the purchase of a greater number of tickets and shares.

W. C. Conine.
Tenders to his friends, patrons, and the public generally, his sincere acknowledgments for the munificent patronage extended to him in the Fourth Class of the Maryland State Lottery, and does himself the pleasure now of presenting the Fifth Class of said lotteries, wherein he calculates, with liberal support, to have the satisfaction of distributing among the adventurers, as he did in the last class, a number of valuable prizes.
The scheme is expected will elicit general approbation, from the brilliancy of its capital; the great number of valuable prizes contained in it; and the comparatively low rate of tickets, and the very superior mode of drawing, combining expedition, connected with an object the last, by far not of the least importance, which is the simplicity of the principle of drawing; being such, as that it is presumed, there is no one who can read this, but will fully comprehend it, by the explanation given in the scheme below. This advantage (by the observations of many) it seems is not apparent to the generality of people in some of the recent devised lotteries, however otherwise correct they may be in their principles of drawing. In short it is believed, and it need not be conceded on all sides, that the present State Lottery of Maryland, is possessed of all the great essentials of a lottery, viz: A large proportion of prizes in the scheme, according to the number and price of tickets, with simplicity in plan, and despatch in drawing, from which it is presumed, that its extensive patronage will be in a proportionate degree.
The certain and punctual payment of prizes is as in preceding Maryland State Lotteries; guaranteed by the State.

BY AUTHORITY OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND.

MODE OF DRAWING.
The numbers will be put into one wheel as usual; and in the other wheel will be put the prizes above the denomination of four dollars, and the drawing to progress in the usual manner. The 20,000 prizes of four dollars will be awarded to the odd or even numbers of the lottery, (as the case may be) dependent on the drawing of the capital prize of Forty thousand dollars; that is to say, if the Forty Thousand Dollar prize should come out to an Odd Number, then every Odd Number in the Scheme will be entitled to a four dollar prize. If the forty thousand dollar prize should come out to an Even Number, then all the Even Numbers in the scheme will each be entitled to a prize of Four Dollars.
The Odd Numbers are those ending with 1, 3, 5, 7, or 9.
The Even Numbers are those ending with 2, 4, 6, 8, or 0.

This mode of drawing not only enables the Commissioners to complete the whole Lottery in ONE DRAWING; but has the great advantage of distributing the small prizes regularly to every alternate number in the scheme, so that the holder of two tickets or two shares of tickets, (one Odd and one Even Number) will be certain of obtaining at least one prize, and in the same ratio for any greater quantity.
A ticket drawing a superior prize in this scheme, is not restricted from drawing an inferior one also; many tickets therefore, will necessarily obtain two prizes each.
Whole Tickets $5 | Quarters 1 25
Halves 2 50 | Eighths, 62
To be had Odd and Even, in the greatest variety of numbers, at
