THURSDAY, NOV. 10, 1825.

HYMENEAL.

Married, In Anne-Arundel county, on Tuesday evening last, Mr. Isaiah Hopkins, of the county, to Miss Hannah Barber, daughter of Capt. George Barber, of this city.

——, in Prince-George's county, on Tuesday the 1st inst. by the Rev. Mr. Watkins, Mr. Thomas Watkins, of Anne-Arundel county, to Miss Anne P. Wheeler, of the former county.

——, On the evening of the same day, in George-Town, (D. C.) by the Rev. Mr. Addison, Mr. George G. Brewer, of this city, to Miss Susan Ann Harwood, of that town.

——, On the 27th ult. in Harford county, by the Rev. Mr. Tyng, Mr. John M. Nelson, to Miss Ann Jane Fullerton, all of that county.

In this day's Gazette, we insert the proceedings which took place at a meeting of the citizens of Frederick county, recommending to the several cities and counties of this state, the appointment of delegates to meet in convention in the city of Baltimore on the second Wednesday of December next, for the purpose of "devising and submitting to the legislature a plan for effecting a general system of internal improvement." We are realy gratified that this proposition has been made to the people of Maryland; not only because it may ultimately lead to her improvement and advantage, but because, should a convention be held, it may tend to her immediate benefit, by the disclosure of means, hitherto overlooked, of providing a state revenue.

THE JOHN ADAMS.

United States ship John Adams, (one of the squadron of Com. Warrington,) J. J. Nicholson, Esq. Commander, arrived on Tuesday last 4th inst. four days from Havana. Left there the U. S. brig Spark, Lt. Com. Newton, officers and crew in good health. The Terrier remains off Matanzas to give convoy, and the Fox is cruising between Newevitas and Matanzas; the officers and crews of both these vessels were well.

The general health of the crew of the John Adams is good, considering the circumstances to which she has been exposed through the last season, she may be deemed a fortunate vessel, having lost but four persons, viz:

Midshipmen Lloyd A. Buchanan, and Theodorick Bland, of fever.

Theodore Myer, Sergeant of Marines, of fever.

William Colton, Steward—Maria a potu.

For the last ninety four days, with the exception of one night in Havana, the John Adams has kept at sea. Her object in visiting Pensacola is to take possession of the Barrancas and other public property to be surrendered by the army for the use of the navy on this station, and to refresh her crew. Arrangements have been made for the partial transportation of the stores from Thompson's Island to Pensacola, and for the entire removal of the sick from the former place.

On the 30th October, (says the Boston Patriot) the venerable John Adams completed his ninetieth year. He has outlived most of his cotemporaries of Revolutionary memory. He is the only survivor of the patriots who constituted the first American Congress.

A meeting has been held in New York to raise money for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire at New Brunswick.

GENERAL JACKSON.

And his lady, recently visited Jackson, Tennessee, where he was cordially received, and respectfully addressed by the Masonic fraternity, to whom he gave a reply, from which the following is extracted:

"If in my march through life, it has been my good fortune to be an actor in scenes which eventuated beneficially, my greatest satisfaction is in knowing, that at this day they are considered, as they were intended, for the benefit and advancement of our common country. The last spot of our globe where liberty has found a resting place, will not, I hope, want defenders, and sincere ones, whenever an assault may come. The world cannot remain at peace. Human nature is restless, and man, as he ever has been, is ambitious. Because our government is formed upon new principles, we must not trust alone to that; but mark with care and caution the secret and silent inroads which intrigue, ambition and cunning, from time to time, may originate. In selecting at any time, any agent to discharge those important functions, which under our form of government, must necessarily be confided to him who represents us, let mind be one great consideration; but above all, let it be ascertained that virtue and purity have, with him, taken up their abode, dwelling with him, and ye with them. By this means, & only this can our government go down unimpaired to posterity. Mere form and ceremony in the guidance of our affairs can avail but little. We must be careful and vigilant to adhere to those great principles, which characterize and mark the government we possess."

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT.

The correspondence which has taken place between the Governors of Georgia and Tennessee on the subject of a Canal communication between the Tennessee river and the Atlantic, has excited some attention, not without a mixture of natural anxiety for its success in a neighbouring State of Alabama. The union of the Tennessee and Alabama rivers has been for some time past, a favourite object of this State; and an application, we believe, has been made to Congress, on the recommendation of the Legislature of Alabama, for aid to carry it into effect. It is probable that this application will be renewed at the next session. Whether, however, the individual application of States will be successful; or whether, by the enactment of the general bill which was introduced by Mr. Hemphill at the close of the last session, measure will be adopted, authorizing and providing for a grand system of internal improvement, is yet doubtful. Could we, from what we have seen of the recent disposition of Congress, on subjects of this character, and which every mail conveys to us of the growing zeal of the people in every part of the Union, to facilitate the intercourse between States and sections of the Union, form any probable conjecture, it would be in favour of the latter supposition.—Nat. Journal.

THE THAMES TUNNEL.

The following is an extract from one of the letters written by Mr. Carter, one of the editors of the N. York Statesman, who is making the tour of Europe:

London, August 15, 1825.

On our way back from Greenwich to town, we visited the Tunnel of the Thames, on its right bank, half a mile below London bridge. The work is now in progress; but, in my opinion, it is among the wildest projects of a speculating age and will never succeed, although an unshaken confidence in the undertaking is expressed by the company and their agents, who have already expended a large sum of money.—I would as soon think of digging for Captain Kidd's pots of gold, as of excavating a road for carriages under the bed of the Thames; and indeed there is a strong resemblance between these visionary adventures. The first intimation of our approach to the scene of operations was a torrent of muddy water sufficient to turn a mill, pouring from the bank into the river. After threading half a dozen dirty alleys, and of course paying a shilling each for a sight, we were, by special favour, permitted to mount the scaffolding, where a large steam engine is at work in raising mud and water, and to descend by a ladder into the abyss below. The circular and perpendicular well is fifty feet in diameter, and seventy feet deep, with its sides walled up with brick. Its shaft has already been sunk to the depth that was contemplated, which is thirty-five or forty feet below the bed of the river. The workmen are next to grope their way into a horizontal direction, securing the passage as they proceed by arches, models of which were pointed out to us. This subterranean road, should it ever be completed, is to be splendidly lightly with gas. It would excite Sir Jas. Thornhill's River Gods and Nereides, should they see lights flashing, and hear the rumbling of carriages over pavements so far beneath their green abodes.

Wool is now carried over land from Ohio, and sold in Philadelphia.

THE WEST.

We noticed in our last, a statement made, that Mr. Plumer, a Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, and only about 60 years of age, was believed to be the oldest person living that was born West of the Allegany mountains. We have since received a letter from a very respectable gentleman, dated in Kentucky, the 15th ult. from which we dervie the following curious facts. The informant, in the winter of 1784—5, was at Clarkeville, on the north bank of the Ohio river, at the lower end of the Falls, and fired a salute in honour of the first white child born, whose mother was an American, within the district of country that now (1825, only 40 years) contains a million of persons. There were, previous to this, some French settlers on the Wabash and at Kaskaskia, who had been subjected to the United States by Gen. Clarke; and there may have been children born among them previous to the one now alluded to, who was the daughter of the wife of a soldier named Vaughan, a sergeant in Gen. Clarke's corps. The swivel with which the salute was fired, was used as well for defence against the Indians as to alarm the fort at Louisville; and when it was fired, Captain Thomas and Lieut. Wm. Clarke hurried down and hailed to know the cause of the firing.—It was a dark drizzling night, and when they heard the reason of it, Captain Thomas said that he would not have cared for the disturbance had the child been a boy—but the party from Louisville returned to their lodgings in a good humour. We have chiefly used the words of our correspondent; and he adds, that the facts may be relied on.—Niles.

MASSACHUSETTS.—From a recent table it appears that there is in this state 523,287 inhabitants; 61,803 houses; 6,845 square miles; and that Suffolk county, including Boston, has 3,820 inhabitants to a square mile; Essex, 175; Norfolk, 104; Nantucket, 151; Franklin, which is the least populous in the state, 41; Middlesex, 83; Bristol, 85; Plymouth, 70; Barnstable, 60; Worcester, 55; Hampden, 54; Hampshire, 52; Berkshire, 44; and Duke's county, 71. The population is distributed in the following proportions:—Essex has 8,343 houses, and 74,500 inhabitants to 425 square miles; Middlesex 7,427 houses, and 61,497 inhabitants to 740 square miles; Norfolk, 2,589 houses, & 36,471 inhabitants to 364 square miles; Bristol, 4,969 houses, and 40 908 inhabitants to 544 square miles; Plymouth, 5,262 houses, and 38,136 inhabitants to 478 square miles; Barnstable, 2,973 houses, & 24,026 inhabitants to 400 square miles; Worcester, 8,312 houses, and 73,625 inhabitants to 1,350 square miles; Franklin, 3,513 houses, and 29,268 inhabitants to 614 square miles; Hampden, 3,425 houses, and 28,021 inhabitants to 516 square miles; Hampshire, 3,418 houses, and 26,487 inhabitants to 509 square miles; Berkshire, 6,225 houses, and 35,720 inhabitants to 800 square miles; Suffolk, 4,070 houses, and 43,940 inhabitants to 11¼ sqnare miles; Nantucket, 329 houses, and 2,266 inhabitants to 48 square miles; and Duke's county, 460 houses, and 3,492 inhabitants to 46 square miles.—Bost. Statesman.

THE FRENCH NAVY.

The Navy of France, according to the Etoile of August 28, contained in 1823, the following number and descriptions of ships: 14 of 120 guns; 23 of 80; 26 of 74; 46 carrying from 60 to 44; and corvettes, brigs, &c. 110; making 218 armed vessels, of which 62 are of the line, and 46 frigates.

NINE WIVES!—A man in Silesia was lately arraigned for the crime of bigamy. On the trial it appeared that he had successively married nine wives, all of whom were in court. The Judges decreed that the best punishment would be, to make him live hereafter with the whole nine. The unhappy prisoner pleaded the capital punishment (hanging) on hearing their decision, but without effect.—The Court was inexorable.—N. Y. Nat. Adv.

A VALUABLE COW.

The Governor of Massachusetts offered for exhibition at the Worcester cattle show, three half Devon Cows, one of which deserves to be honourably mentioned. She has often given from 24 to 27 quarts of milk per day, of excellent quality. The smallest quantity given by her in one day, during the summer drought, on grass feed only, was 18 quarts. The committee considered this the most valuable milch cow ever exhibited in Massachusetts.

THE CHURCH.

The fee simple of the established church in England is said to be equal to 200,000,000 pounds sterling. With the income of this enormous fund, what chance has opposition to prosper, or other religionists to prevail.

GEN. JACKSON.

On the 6th ultimo, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Senate of Tennessee:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, That Gen. Andrew Jackson, of this state, be recommended to the freemen of the United States, as a fellow-citizen, who by his numerous and faithful public services in the cabinet and in the field, his energy and decision, his political qualifications, and strict adherence to the principles of republicanism, merits to be elected to the office of Chief Magistrate of this Union, at the next Presidential election.

A similar resolution was adopted by the House of Representatives.

From a late French paper.

The ministerial journals tell us to be gay; and the phrase is very opportune! Be gay when insurrection, executions and proscriptions overspread wretched Spain.—Be gay, when the frigid and illiberal policy of the European cabinets abandons the cradle of civilization to all the fury of the Barbarians.—Be gay, when the different powers of Europe are pursuing opposite systems and must one day, in coming into collision, drag the whole world after them into strife.—Be gay, when you have at the head of the government, a ministry that violates all opinions and interests, destroys public confidence and the security of private property, and has lost all public confidence, &c.'

A Trick.—A person confined in jail in Providence, offered to point out the place where certain stolen money was concealed, provided they would give him $140. He received his price, but refused to perform his promise.—On searching his person and his cell, the $140 could not be found.

N. M. Rothschild, of London, the great loan contractor with the European and Brazillian governments, and his four brothers, are said to be worth more than $40,000,000 sterling equal to nearly fifty millions of dollars!

OBITUARY.

Died, in this city, on Sunday evening last, after a painful illness, Mr. James Munroe, Post-Master. Many excellent traits adorned his character.

COMMUNICATED.

Another soldier of the Revolution gone! On Wednesday, the 26th ultimo, Colonel WILLIAM BRUCE, departed this life, at his residence in Charles county. He was in the 73d year of his age, and, during his long and varied life, there was no one action, the remembrance of which could embitter his parting hour, or stain the cheek of his surviving family with shame. He entered the Army of the Revolution in the spring of the year '76, as a private, fought through the whole war, and finally came out a Captain in the 1st Maryland regiment From these trying scenes of hardship, hunger, and bloodshed, he returned to the quietude and duties of private life, and, as he had been a brave soldier, so he became an excellent citizen In his domestic relations, as husband, father, and master, he was affectionate, indulgent, and humane; as a neighbour, urbane and friendly; as a citizen, frank and patriotic, and as a man, strictly and sternly honest.

This tribute is paid by one who had been early taught to reverence Col. Bruce, and the sentiments it expresses will find an echo in the bosom of all who knew him.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY
SAMUEL STEVENS,
GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND,

A Proclamation.

WHEREAS, authentic information has been lodged in the Executive department of this State, that a most atrocious burglary and robbery was committed on the night of the 13th day of September last, by two men, breaking into the house of Adam Swigart, of Frederick county, an infirm old man with only his wife and a small grand child, and robbing him of one hundred and fifty dollars in specie, and sundry articles of clothing, after tying the said Swigart and his wife together. And whereas a certain Henry Schnebly lately discharged from the Penitentiary, being strongly suspected of being one of said robbers, was arrested at his residence in Washington county, on the 21st September last, by Jacob Glazier a constable, by virtue of a state warrant for that purpose, after a severe and dangerous struggle between the said constable and an assistant who accompanied him and the said Henry Schnebly, his wife, two daughters and a son-in-law; the said Schnebly's clothes being torn to rags in the scuffle he begged permission to change them; that whilst in the chamber for that purpose with the said constable, and after the prisoner had put on a shirt and pair of shoes, a double barrel gun was thrust through a small glass window, by some one of the family, and was seized by the prisoner, cocked and presented at the said constable, so suddenly that he had not the power to prevent it; at which crisis the whole family rallied, and with the advantages thus obtained effected his rescue, and forced the said constable and his assistant to retire; that the character of the said Schnebly is so desperate, no assistance of any kind to retake him could be procured in the immediate neighbourhood, on account of fear of the said Schnebly and his family. And whereas, it is of the first importance to the peace and well being of society, that such offenders should be brought to justice.

Now therefore, I, Samuel Stevens, Governor of Maryland, have thought proper to issue this my PROCLAMATION and do, by and with the advice and consent of the Council offer a reward of

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

To any person or persons who shall apprehend the said Henry Schnebly, and cause him to be committed and delivered to the custody of the Sheriff of Frederick County.

Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State of Maryland, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and twenty five, and of the Independence of the United States the fiftieth.

SAMUEL STEVENS.

By the Governor,
THO: CULBRETH, Clk.
Of the Council.

Decription of the said
HENRY SCHNEBLY,

Taken from the Records of the Penitentiary.

He is about fifty-one years of age, five feet ten inches high, sallow, pock pitted and swarthy complexion, dark hair intermixed with grey; large and clumsy frame, and speaks with a strong German accent.

Ordered That the aforegoing be published once a week for four weeks, in the Maryland Republican and Gazette Annapolis; the Patriot Baltimore; the Examiner, Frederick town, and the Maryland Herald at Hagerstown.

Thomas King, jun.

Respectfully informs the Citizens of Annapolis and its vicinity, that he carries on the manufacture of

In Chancery,

September Term, 1825.

Mary Hesselius,
vs.
James Black.

The object of the bill in this case is to obtain a decree for the sale of a house and lot in Old-Town, Allegany county, for the payment of the balance of the purchase money due for said property.

The bill states that the General Assembly of Maryland, at December session 1813, passed an act authorising the complainant to sell the Real Estate in Allegany county, whereof John Hesselius died possessed; that the complainant, having complied with all previous requisites of said act, on the twelfth day of April 1817, sold at public auction, to the defendant, who was the highest bidder, for the sum of eight hundred dollars, a house and lot situate in Old-Town, Allegany county, the same being part of the real estate which she was authorised by the aforesaid act to dispose of; that by the terms of sale the defendant was to pay the purchase money in three equal annual instalments, with interest from the day of sale; that he was put into immediate possession of said property, and has ever since occupied it, or received the rents, issues, and profits thereof, and the whole amount of the purchase money, and the interest thereon, still remains due and unpaid, except the the sum of fifty-two dollars and thirty cents, which was paid in part of the interest due on said purchase money.

It has been further represented by the petition of the complainant, that the defendant has, since the filing the aforesaid bill, removed from the state of Maryland, and is at this time a resident of the state of Ohio.

It is thereupon this third day of November 1825, adjudged, ordered and decreed, that the complainant give notice, to the said absent defendant, by publication in some newspaper published in this state, once a week for four weeks, before the third day of December next, to appear in this court either in person or by a solicitor, and file an answer to said bill on or before third day of March next, otherwise the said bill be taken pro confesso.
