Cambridge, June 17. THE CROPS.

Harvest has commenced in this neighbourhood, and we are pleased to state that the crops of small grain will turn out much better than was anticipated, and as far as our information extends through the county, the prospects are equally flattering; with the exception of some fields that were sown early and suffered by the fly. Corn, notwithstanding the long continued drought, has a remarkably healthy appearance. Grass and vegetables continue to suffer much for want of rain.

LATEST FROM GREECE.-Our correspondent of the New York Mercantile Advertiser have received Paris papers to the 5th of May inclusive by the Isabella Henderson.

They contain letters from Missolonghi to the 6th of April, which confirm the accounts of the repulse of the Turks on the 24th of March, but it does not appear to have been known with how much loss-One of the letters is from a Greek General, who names two under Pachas that were killed. The place was still invested by the Turks. The Turkish fleet had also been repulsed in an attempt to take possession of a small Island and fortress in the neighbourhood of Missolonghi.
