Gen. Bernard, Capt. Pousin, and Lieut. Thompson of the U. States' Topographica. Corps of Engineers, came passengers as the stage to this place, direct from Wathington on Monday last, and on Tuesday morning proceeded up the valley of Will's creek, with view to a further reconnaisance of the contemplated route of the Will's creek and Cast tleman's river, as connected with the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. This further examination is made, in order the better than able the Board of Internal Improvement estimate the probable cost of the canaly this route, compared with the Deep creek route.

The proposition of M. de Nozilles, which at our last accounts was pending before the Chamber of Deputies, for an allowance to the French Consuls in the Levant of a way of money to redeem Greek Captires, was rejected by a great majority. Out of 30 present, not more than 50 rose in its favor. In the course of the discussion (which was curiovs.) M. de Villele, in opposing the proposition, said, in relation to the Greek "diplomacy will soon put an end to the evils that are deplored, and will obtain that pacification which seems so much desired the Cabinets of Europe have not been so is different to the interests of the Greeks as orators have proclaimed. Napoli and Athens are both menaced by the Turks and Egyptians. There is reason to hope a portion of the garrison of Misson longhi escaped. This hope is founded upon the solicitude of Ibrahim to prevent any communication with the coast. Ibrahim had according to the Journal des Debats, given orders to kill all his prisoners, and eveauarmed peasants, in order to complete the number of six thousand heads and pairs of ears, that the Sultan had ordered him to send to Constantinople. It are pars he could not make up his number at Missolonghi.

A private letter of the 18th May from Madrid, states that the Duke de Hantade had again sent in his resignation, upon the pretext of visiting his estates in Italy, Germany and the Netherlands; but it was beliered that it would not be accepted by the king. A hope was entertained that the decree of banishment, issued against a number of the inhabitants of Madrid, would be reveled; contrary to which, however, when least expected, orders were given to the Commissives of Police of the capital, to expel from Madrid all the persons comprehended in the decree issued at Port Santa Maria on the 1a of October, 1823, whose residence in the capital has not been authorised by the king. SWEETSER'S BRIDGE
On the Post Road to the city of Baltimore, was completed this week, and offers every facility to travellers, as the delay and vexation of a ferry is entirely done away. The Bridge is about 1200 feet long, and of sufficient width to allow the passage of two coaches at the same time. The advertisement of the proprietor can be found in a succeeding column found in a succeeding column.

THE PENTIARY.
The committee appointed by Baltimore City Court, to examine into the state of the Maryland Penitentiary, made their report on the 28th uft. From their representation it appears, that the manufacturing operations of the institution are actively conducted, and that the accommodations of the prisoners are kept in the most cleanly condition. It likewise appears that at the time of making the report, there were 316 convicts in confinement, 48 of whom were females.

KIDNAPPING.—Three men, calling themselves John W. Watson, Elijah Moore, and Isaac Dickerson, befonging to the schr. Sukey, of Vienna, on the Eastern Shore of this state, were arrested at Norfolk last week for kidnapping. Watson the captain, and Moore, offered two coloured women and a child for sale, but it being suspected they had no legal right to them, warrants were issued by a magistrate directing all the parties to be brought before him. On examination it came out that the women had been enticed on board the vessel by Moore, a few days before, while at Baltimore. The mother of the child is a free woman now living in Baltimore, who had entrusted it to the care of one of the women entrapped. A number of peo-ple in Baltimore know the two women to be free. Moore says his residence is in Somerset county. Application, it said, has been made to the Governor, requesting him to demand the offenders of the Executive of Virginia, that they may be brought to punishment.

This is the second instance of kidnapping which has come to our knowledge within a few weeks. It has been but a short time since a waterman from the eastern shore was committed to the gaol of Alexandria. for actually selling a free coloured boy, who he had de-coyed on board his boat at another place. These occurrences should operate as salutary cautions to all free blacks, and prevent their carelessly placing themselves in the power of strangers, however fair the professions they may make.

RUSSIA.

By the ship Triton, at Boston, a letter from St Petersburg of 21st May has been received which says:- "The serious affair of the 22d December has caused very many of the officers of the army (of the first families in the or the army (or the first families in the Empire) to be arrested, and it is said more than a thousand are not confined in the castle of this city: their fate is very uncertain. The first battallion of the regiment of guards, amounting to more than 20,000, and commanded by a Colonel, set off a fear days since by a Colonel, set off a few days since for Moscow. After a forced march of two days the commander ordered the men to be drilled, which they refused. He then attempted to force them, up-on which they shot him dead upon the spot, and afterwards cut him to pieces with their swords.—Affairs at present are in a very unsettled state, and well informed men predict something serious before a great while."

LATEST FROM ENGLAND. The packet ship Algonquin, Dixey, has arrived at Philadelphia bringing Liverpool papers to the 8th and London to the arrived for the state of the st

It is said that trade and may factures had revived in a degree, but the improvement was not considerable .-The Dandon Courier of the 5th after observing that it does not share in the gloomy anticipations of some editors. who think that the reverses which the commerce and manufactures of the country have recently experienced, are the signal and the commencement of decline in the national walth and power,"—adds.—"yet it cannot be denied that those interests are in a state of creek depression, that the payingstion of great depression, that the navigation of the country excites lively alarm among those most interested in its support; that large classes of people are in a state of destitution; and that circulation and credit are undergoing hanges, the effects of which few person even protess clearly to foresee."

LA DILIGENCE.

From Earter's Letters.

At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 28th of November, we took seats in the Diligence for Paris, a distance of 173 English miles from Calais, by the new route through Abbeville and Beauvais Our vehicle and its equipments looked more like a caravan, destined to Mecca or the Holy Land, than like a stage coach for the metropolis of France. Its construction is in all respects unique and amusing. The bo-dy is fifteen or twenty feet long, and divided into three compartments, and separated from one another by partitions, which cut off all intercourse betions, which cut on all intercourse petween the passengers. Of these sections, the one in the tenth which is before the wheels, is called the Cabriolet, formed like the top on chaise, and sufficiently wide to hold three or four persons. Behind this and between the wheels, is the body of the Diligence, called the interiur, fashioned with protuberant sides, like a stage coach, and capacious enough to accommodate six passengers. The rear division, behind the wheels is termed the derriere, resembling the body of one of our hacks, and large enugh for half a dozen persons. In addition to these grand divisions, there are places for a few odd passengers aloft, among the bagguge. The wheels of the vehicle are massive and strong in proportion to the other parts, exceeding in clumsiness the heaviest of the Pennsylvania wagons. Behind each of them a scraper is placed. to clear off the mud at every rotation, and to keep the tire clean. The team is as odd as the carriage. It consists of five, six, seven, and sometimes eight horses, harnessed to-gether in the most curious manner — Two of them are fastened to the tongue and the remaining three travel abreast in front, with traces so long as frequently to drag upon the ground. The animals bear upon their shoulders a kind of a pack saddle, covered with a blue shaggy cloth, and armed with tall horns of wood branching out on each side, to hold the reins. Their heads are ornamented with blue and ad tassels, with other finery and a sing of bells, giving them a most fantastic ap-pearance. The harness generally is of the cheaper and most ordinary kind, made more of hemp than leather, and presenting a striking contrast to the burnished equipments of an Buglish coach. A postilion, clad in his long boots frequently made of wood, and reaching above the knee, rides the near horse behind, guiding the team more by
