A CARD.

The Manager of the Grand University Lottery

Respectfully informs his friends and patrons and the public, that upon canvassing the sales in the 8th class up to this period, he finds that it will not altogether be prudent or safe for him to proceed with the drawing on the 30th instant, as anticipated. He therefore solicits a little further indulgence and delay. But he would beg leave also to state with respect to the scheme of the 8th class that, although it is one of great magnitude, still it is within the limits of the general demand, since it does not contain more than about three tickets for each post office town in the United States, and that no exertions will be spared to effect the sale of the greater part of the tickets in said lottery by a very early period in the fall, upon which the drawing will assuredly take place, and that several new arrangements are also on foot to facilitate the sales of the tickets, some of which, if not all, must prove very successful; beside the distribution of several millions of dollars soon to be made by the general government, will, it is hoped, put a new aspect upon almost every kind of business, and allow a more liberal patronage to this lottery than has been for some time past in the power of the public to bestow. He therefore confidently relies on a continuance of the approbation of a postponement, for the reasons assigned, of those who have embarked in this class in preference to all minor schemes. In the mean time, however, he will offer his friends and patrons a scheme or two similar to the 6th and 7th classes of same series of Lottery which were extremely popular; and those if any, who, having purchased tickets in the eight class, may dislike to wait a short period, and rather than hold on and retain their chance for some of the large capitals therein, would wish to exchange the same for other chances, can at any time have the privilege of doing this at either of the Manager's offices, for tickets or shares in the 9th class, which will positively be drawn at the time mentioned.

It would be but a reiteration of former statements to speak of the brilliancy and richness of the 8th class, which has no parallel in this country, and will not have its equal for many years; and adventurers will find no reason to regret a continuance of investments in said lottery on the score of advantageous speculation.

One half the profits of the sales of tickets or advance above the scheme price, made at either of the Manager's offices, in this lottery, from and after the 30th instant until further notice, will be equally divided and appropriated as follows, viz.—One portion will be appropriated to the JEFFERSON FUND, and the other to the benefit of the heirs of ROBERT FULTON; thus giving our citizens an opportunity of contributing a substantial testimony of their regard to the venerable Thomas Jefferson, who shared in the production of that charter so dear to Americans, is an enduring claim upon their gratitude. There is another case to which the public may with just self approbation turn its beneficence that of Robert Fulton's descendants—it is true that the great genius himself is not here to enjoy the tribute, but certainly there are none who can deny the incalculable importance of his inventions and of the celebrity and care, the facility and certainty of conveyance and communication by steam navigation; there are few who could refuse a slight effort of liberality to his orphans to express their high sense of the benefit he has conferred on the community.

P. C. has the pleasure of offering the scheme of the 9th class to his friends and patrons, which will positively be drawn at the time now announced, if not sooner.

100 Dollars Reward

FOR JIM, NO MATTER WHERE TAKEN.

Ran away from the subscriber near the Governor's Bridge, Prince George's county, Maryland, on the 21st of March last, a Negro Man named JIM, upwards of 40 years of age, his complexion not very dark, of ordinary height, but uncommonly large and broad across the back and shoulders, very bowlegged, by which he may be known, limps a little in his walk, has an old scar near one of his eyes, his clothing was a suit of white domestic kersey, and one of dark woollen cloth, but no doubt has a variety. Jim's father, if alive, lives with Mr. Joseph N. Stockett, near South River Church, and he has brothers and other connections belonging to Mr. Gasaway Knighton, and I have no doubt but Jim is lurking thereabouts, or some where between South and Patuxent rivers, or he may possibly make for some fishing landing, or some of the waters at this season of the year, and there hire himself. All persons are hereby warned not to harbour or employ said fellow. Grafton Tyler.

Legacy to Mechanics.

Among the charities to Philadelphia, may be enumerated the bequest of Dr. Franklin, to the corporation of the city, for the purpose of lending small sums to such young unmarried artificers, under the age of 25, as have served an apprenticeship in the city and faithfully fulfilled the duties required in the indentures; the legacy amounted to $1000. No loan to one person to exceed $60. The interest paid by the borrower is 5 per centum, and he is to give bond with two securities for the repayment of the money.

The present amount of the sum, including interest due is $17,596, being an increase of $15,152. Dr. Franklin calculated that at the end of 100 years, it would amount to $151,000, or 580,000 dollars; of which he directed, that $100,000 should be applied to public purposes, and the balance of $51,000 left to accumulate for another century, at the end of which period it will amount to 4 millions of pounds sterling—which sum is to be divided between the inhabitants of Philadelphia and the size of Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir—An opportunity in the departure of the brig, Sylph, which will sail from this port, for Baltimore, enables me to forward to you a few seeds, and of a kind which I have no doubt will take kindly in our soil.

The wheat, you will perceive, is of a hard flinty kind, and I am informed is never subject to smut or to the visitation of the fly. The bean is in flavour prodigiously fine, and yields a most abundant crop to the portion placed in the earth; the seed of a highly flavoured pumpkin, which in flavour, is very little inferior to your yellow musk melon—all of which I send to you for such distribution as in your own judgment may seem fit, should they prove acceptable.

To the Independent Voters of Anne Arundel County.

I offer myself to your consideration as a Candidate for the office of Senatorial Elector, in our county, at the approaching election. It is unnecessary to say much on the occasion. I have been long known to those of you, who like myself, are well stricken in years, and those who have become Voters since my head has whitened, can ask their Patrons who ask, what I am. But I pledge my word and honour, which I trust have never yet been doubted, that, if elected, no party bias shall influence my vote. The only inquiry will be, as to any Person who may be put in nomination, will he be as to his integrity, capacity, and devotedness to our free and happy government. I will only further remark, that I am brought forward by no Caucus or secret association, my propositions are submitted entirely to the judgment of my Fellow-Citizens. Should they favour me, I shall feel grateful for the honour done me; otherwise, no one can reproach me of the consoling reflection, that Anne Arundel county has men better qualified to serve her on so important an occasion.

As witness my hand,
