In Chancery
Agre 18, 1826.
Richard Harwood of Thos. Henry H.
Harwood, Joseph Harwood, and others, some of the heirs of Benjamin Harwood, vs.
Benjamin Harwood, Margaret Harwood, Anne Elizabeth Williams, and others, the residors of the heirs of Benjamin Harwood.
The object of the bill is to obtain a decree for the sale of the Real Estate of the late Benjamin Harwood, of the city of Annapolis. The bill states that the said Benjamin Harwood died intestate, and seized in fee sundry tracts and lots of land, Anne Arundel and Allegany counties, that he left no issue; that the complainants and defendants, are children and descendants of the said Benjamin Harwood, and the brothers and sisters of the said Benjamin Harwood (all of whom are dead,) and his heirs law. But that owing to the numerous persons entitled, and the infancy of some of them, no sale can be had without the interposition of this court. The bill further states, that the following defendants named in the bill, to wit: Benjamin Harwood, Margaret Harwood, Anne Elizabeth Williams, William Belt Harwood, Maria da G. Harwood, Maria Louisa Harwood, Samuel Middleton Harwood, Mary Eleanor Harwood, Carolina Virginia Harwood, Mary Harwood, Ellen Harwood, and Levin Harwood live out of the state of Maryland. It is thereupon ordered and adjudged, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the city of Annapolis, once in each of three successive weeks, before the 15th day of September next, give notice to the said nonresident defendants, to be and appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 15th day of January next, to show cause, if any they have, wherefore a decree should not be passed as prayed.

100 Dollars Reward
FOR JIM, NO MATTER WHERE TAKEN.
Ran away from the subscriber near the Governor's Bridge, Prince George's county, Maryland, on the 24th of March last, a Negro Man named JIM, upwards of 40 years of age, his complexion not very dark, of ordinary height, but uncommonly large and broad across the back and shoulders, very bowlegged, by which he may be known, limps a little in his right leg, has an old scar near one of his eyes, his clothing was a suit of white domestic kersey, and one of dark woollen cloth, but no doubt has a variety. Jim's father, if alive, lives with Mr. Joseph N. Stockett, near South River Church, and he has brothers and other connections belonging to Mr. Gasaway, Knighton, and I have no doubt but Jim is lurking thereabouts, or somewhere between South and Patuxent rivers, or he may possibly make for some fishing landing, or some of the waters at this season of the year, and there hire himself. All persons are hereby warned not to harbour or employ said fellow. Glaston Tye, R. S. Jim's wife is now living on the farm of the late Judge Smith, known by the name of White's Landing, on Patuxent, opposite Lower Marlborough, and it is probable Jim is lurking about there or in Calvert county.

A Valuable Farm FOR SALE.
The subscriber will sell at Private Sale, the farm whereon he now resides, containing about 400 acres of land, the soil of which is equal to any in the county. This land lies immediately on Herring Bay, in Anne Arundel county, adjoining Tracey's Landing, and possesses all the advantages of Oysters, Crabs, Fish, Wild Fowl, &c. The distance to Baltimore is about fifty miles, and to the District of Columbia 30 miles, and from Annapolis 18 miles. This farm is in high state of cultivation, well adapted to the growth of Tobacco, and of every description, Clover, and Flax, &c. acts with astonishing rapidity. The improvements are a comfortable dwelling house, four tobacco houses, and every other building necessary to the comfort and convenience of a family, with a Windmill, and a large commodious Store House, and immediately on an excellent stand for business. Few farms possess so many advantages as this. The dwelling is situated upon a hill commanding a beautiful and extensive view of the Chesapeake Bay, and is very healthy. This land will be divided, or the whole sold to suit purchasers. Terms made known on application to

A Valuable Farm FOR SALE.
The Subscriber offers at Private Sale, at a liberal credit, the following REAL ESTATE:
A Farm situated in Broad Neck, Anne Arundel county, seven miles from Annapolis, adjoining the estates of James Mackubin and Horatio Ridgely, and containing about 250 Acres,
With a sufficient proportion of wood land, the growth of which is principally oak, hickory, walnut, locust and poplar. The soil is naturally of an excellent quality, and susceptible of the easiest and rapid improvement, by manuring with sea-salt, marsh manure, &c. This estate is situated at the mouth of Magoths River, in an agreeable neighbourhood, and binds on the Bay shore, affording a convenient water conveyance to market at all seasons, and one of the most beautiful and extensive water views in the county. The buildings are small, and of an inferior description; the fences in tolerable repair. From the excellent quality of the soil, and its peculiarly advantageous situation, this farm might be a desirable object to a man of industry and enterprise.
Mr. Henry Hammond will show this property to any person who may wish to view it, and the terms, which will be liberal, and suited to the times, may be known on application to Col. Henry M. Stockett, of Annapolis, or to the subscriber, living ten miles from Baltimore, near the United States Arsenal.

NEXT PRESIDENCY.
From the Petersburg (Va.) Rep.
Some of our ablest journals entertain the opinion, that it is too soon to enter upon the merits of the next Presidential election, and consequently urge the impropriety of an early canvass. We are of a different opinion, and will in a few words state our reasons for occasionally noticing this subject. The first reason we shall give is, that we are resolved, with what little abilities we possess, to endeavour to supplant Mr. Adams at the next election, and the second reason we shall give is, that there is no possibility of effecting this object, unless we can keep the election out of the House of Representatives; and to do this, there must be only two candidates—Jackson and Adams.
We are well assured, that the friends of Mr. Adams feel perfectly satisfied, that with the people, his chance is hopeless. The friends of Jackson feel equally well assured, that under the present organization of the House of Representatives, unless the people will it, he cannot succeed Mr. Adams. He may receive 130 electoral votes, but if the election goes to the House of Representatives, there he will be stopped, and the people again robbed of their choice. We want the people to decide who shall be President for the next four years; for we are old fashioned enough to believe, that the people are able to manage their affairs in their own way, if they are not distracted by a plurality of candidates, got up for the special purpose of producing this very distraction.
We have said, that some of our most respectable journals are opposed to an early discussion of the next Presidency. Others again, equally respectable, think "now is the time," to canvass the merits of the candidates. We are speaking of the papers generally opposed to the administration. Those that are paid by it, and are pledged to it, never cease to labour in their vocation, by emblazoning the merits of the powers that be, and, at the same time, decrying every conspicuous man that is opposed to it. We should meet them on their own ground, and oppose them with their own weapons. We must keep the public mind awake to the wrongs they are sustaining, and will yet sustain, by continuing the present men in power. They have already robbed the people of their birthright, by disregarding their choice at the last election. Chains, and Slavery will be their portion, if they do not in time resist the threatened encroachments of the anomalous coalition of the 'puritan and the black-leg.'

From the Cincinnati National Republican
MR. MAXCY OF MARYLAND.
The reason given by this eloquent friend of the people, for relinquishing his former support of Mr. Adams, and determining now to vote for Gen. Jackson, unanswerable by facts, have been attempted to be answered by fabrications. When the press is prostituted to misrepresent the number of votes given to a Presidential candidate, in order to support the tottering cause of the administration, the alarm should be sounded.
These remarks are occasioned by observing in the Cincinnati Gazette, an editorial article in answer to Mr. Maxcy, stating the votes of the people of Illinois to have been, for Jackson 1272, Adams 1542, Clay 1047, Crawford 219. The real vote of the state was Jackson 1901, Adams 1542, Clay 1047, Crawford 219. General Jackson received two of the three electoral votes of Illinois.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.
The panders of corruption in this city are in high spirits at the event of the Louisiana election.— Now it is only necessary to state a few facts to show that in this as well as in many other cases they reckon without the host.
In the state there has been but 6,200 votes given at all the polls. Mr. Livingston's majority was 903 out of 2,200 given in; Mr. Gurley's majority was 30 out of 2,400 given in; consequently in these two districts the majority against the administration was 823; of 1295 given in Brent's district, he had only 680, his majority was 75; therefore the majority in Louisiana against the administration candidates was 748 in 6,200 votes.

It appears that all the American Perils gave Mr. Hamilton, opponent to Mr. Gurley, majorities, and that the majority of 200 given the latter in the county of Hurville, which is nearly all French, elected him, and yet that same county elected to the legislature Mr. Hiram one of the electors who voted for General Jackson in 1824; Gurley's majority, therefore, must have depended merely on personal favour in this one county.
Brent's success, it appears, was owing to the defection of one of the candidates, Flauije, declining the poll the evening before the election. In the county in which Brent resided, (he being now a resident in Maryland) and in which his opponent Brownson resides, the majority over Brent was 120 votes. Before Gurley was put in nomination he pledged himself to vote for General Jackson.

JEFFERSON REMINISCENCES.
From the Cincinnati National Republican.
The following remarkable language of Mr. Jefferson, bearing so directly on the proposed amendment of the Constitution, will be found in his notes on Virginia, page 195:
"All the powers of government, legislative, executive, and judiciary, result to the legislative body. The concentrating these in the same hands, is precisely the definition of a despotic government. It will be no alleviation, that these powers will be exercised by a plurality of hands and not by a single one.— One hundred and seventy three despots would surely be as oppressive as one; let those who doubt it, turn their eyes on the republic of Venice. As little will it avail us that they are chosen by ourselves. An elective despotism was not the government we fought for."
Now if congress are permitted periodically to elect the President, the executive and legislative branches are absorbed in one, and the President instead of voting as the separate and independent organ of the people, has become the mere creature of Congress, and dependent on them for his office, the King of a Polish Diet, and not the President of a free people. When one branch of government is rendered dependent on another, it is the first step towards tyranny, it is the concentration of two branches of government to destroy the third. Let this also be accomplished, and despotism is complete. And if the people surrender to Congress the periodical election of the President, our government is in fact an elective despotism. The people cease to be the fountain of authority, and become the mere passive agents of their own servants; and, in the opinion of Mr. Jefferson, "as little will it avail us that they are chosen by ourselves."
