Dr. Hull's Truss
For the relief and cure of Hernia, or Rupture.

Dr. AMOS G. HULL, having witnessed, during twenty five years practice in Surgery, the distress and misery attending the disease of Rupture and the fatal consequences frequently incident to it, and being convinced that the unhappy effects were generally the result of badly constructed Trusses, or the neglect to use any, was prompted from feelings of professional duty, and an anxious desire to witness a more effectual remedy, to devote a share of his time to the construction of an instrument for that purpose. He is now satisfied that he has brought into successful operation a Truss, constructed on a new principle and adapted to all cases of Rupture in both sexes; always, with out an exception, fulfilling the indication of confining or keeping up the bowel, and often, especially in young persons and recent cases, effecting a permanent cure.

Let it be observed that the pad of this truss, instead of being convex like that of all other Trusses, is slightly concave, like the open palm of the hand. This pad being placed over the rupture and the spring of the truss exerting its power upon the centre of it, the strong pressure is made by its circular margin, around the rupture opening and a diminished pressure by its centre. It thereby not only prevents the escape of the contents of the ruptured part so as to effect a radical cure of the complaint.

The following testimonials in its favour, are submitted to the public.
Extract from the second edition of "The Doctor's Modern Practice of Physic," Boston 1826.
"A great variety of Trusses, formed on different principles, have been from time to time, introduced to public notice; but with one exception it may be asserted, that they have been found altogether deficient in those just principles upon which such instruments ought to be formed. It is within a few years that a Truss has been invented by Dr. A. G. Hull, a respectable Physician and Surgeon of New York, and late President of the Oculic Medical Society, which is incomparably superior in its principles and properties to any of those previously in use. Dr. Hull is exclusively entitled to the credit of first adapting the true surgical principle for the radical cure of Hernia. He happily conceived the idea that the pad of the Truss should be so constructed as simply to support the muscular fibres around the ring or aperture as much as possible, in the state in which they are maintained in perfect health. Unless this be attained the parts can never recover their natural tone, whatever may be the degree of pressure applied."

Valentine Mott, M. D. Professor of Surgery in the University of New York deposes:
"The great and signal benefits which are produced by this Truss result from its strict subservance to and accordance with Scientific and surgical principles. Its mechanical adaptation to the parts, the simplicity of its construction, the limited motion nicely graduated by experiment, to the different attitudes of the body and to the action of the muscles; the permanency of its location on the body, and its pressure on the circumference, the tendency of which is to strengthen and restore the weakened parts, to contract the aperture, and ultimately to accomplish a cure of the disease."
The operation and effects of this Truss is therefore directly the reverse of all Trusses heretofore in use; which being convex tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture opening. "I have adopted it in my own practice to the exclusion of all others, and am of opinion that the union of physical design and mechanical structure in this instrument render it what has long been the desideratum of practical surgeons in Europe and America."

T. W. Hunter, M. D. of New York deposes as follows, "In two very interesting cases of Scrotal Hernia (which is the worst and most difficult kind) that came under my care, it was worn with perfect comfort, and effected a complete cure of both in less than twelve months. This Truss is approved of by the most eminent Surgeons in the United States and Europe particularly by the celebrated Sir Astley Cooper, of London.
Joseph Evans, late of Philadelphia, Leather Merchant deposes as follows, "Having been ruptured about seven years ago, I applied to Dr. Hull, in person, who furnished me with one of his Trusses, and after wearing it a month six months, I found myself entirely cured so much so that I can walk about with safety, without wearing the Truss; and in my opinion it is one of the greatest improvements and blessings to mankind that is known."

Extract from the Medical Review and Journal, conducted by Professors Etieble and M. Clellan, Philadelphia, "We have applied Dr. Hull's Trusses upon eight different patients, two of which were affected with Double Scrotal Hernia, and the results of our experience have been so satisfactory that we cannot avoid offering our testimony in favour of the new Truss, which we consider as altogether the best that we have as yet been made acquainted with."

N. B. Dr. Hull's Trusses adapted to the different species of rupture, to which males, females and children are subject, are kept at the office of Dr. Knapp, No. 37 East Fayette street, opposite the First Presbyterian Church, who will attend to their application, &c. and where those labouring under this disease are invited to call. Persons residing at a distance can be fitted by sending a measure of the body near the hip. Orders from Country Physicians and Druggists, will be duly attended to.

PROPOSAL

FOR PRINTING
The Journals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland,
Held in the City of Annapolis, in the years 1774, 1773 and 1776.

If sufficient encouragement be offered, the Subscriber proposes to publish, in one volume octavo, the Journals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland in the years 1774, '75 and '76. It is believed that there are not more than two copies of these Journals now extant, and from the circumstance that they were printed in pamphlet form, and unbound, it may be fairly concluded that they, too, must in a few years be destroyed by the mere decay of time. These Journals are the only authentic evidence of the Political History of Maryland, during that interesting and unquiet period. Although we have, in abundance, histories of Maryland, as connected with the association of Provinces and Colonies, at that time formed, for mutual protection against the improper assumption of power on the part of the Mother Country, yet none of these works embrace what may be termed its Domestic and Internal Political History.
This part of the history of Maryland it should be her pride to hand down to posterity, not only on account of its deep interest, but as a public State Record of the voluntary sacrifices, daring spirit, and determined resolution, of her citizens, during this period of doubt and dismay.
In the confident expectation that the citizens of Maryland will consider the proposed publication of sufficient importance to entitle it to their patronage, the Subscriber is induced to issue these proposals.
The Price per Copy, not to exceed $2 00.

DECISIONS

OF THE
Court of Appeals of Maryland.
PUBLISHED
By Subscription.

THE DECISIONS

OF THE
COURT OF APPEALS OF MARYLAND,

To be Reported by Thomas Harris, Esquire, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and Beverly Johnson, Esquire, Attorney at Law.

These Decisions will form a continuation of the first volume of Reports already published by Messrs. Harris and Johnson which closes with the year 1805. It is proposed to publish the Decisions in a Series of Numbers, each to contain not less than one hundred and twenty five pages, and four numbers to constitute a volume. The last number of each volume will contain a full and complete Index. This mode of publication, it is conceived, possesses advantages which give it a decided preference to that of publishing the Reports in bulky volumes. It ensures the earlier publication of the Reports, and as not more than four numbers will be published in a year, the expense will not be so sensibly felt.

TERMS

The price of each number of the Reports will be $1 25, payable on delivery.
Subscriptions to the above work are received at GEO SHAW'S Store, the Maryland Gazette Office, and the respective Offices of the County Clerks of this State.

To the Public.

From the very generous support I received from my friends and fellow citizens, at the last election for Sheriff of Anne Arundel County, I am induced to offer myself a Candidate at the ensuing election, and solicit the suffrage of those friends, and the public, who so zealously and actively, used their exertions towards me. Should I be the choice of the people, nothing shall be wanting on my part to give general satisfaction.

THE STRANGER'S GRAVE.

In the South, where wild winds toss
The summer wave,
The pious hand has rear'd a Cross,
To mark the Stranger's Grave.
On an all-spectral mound,
Softly gleams the deep,
The grass hillocks swell the ground,
The Spanish soldiers sleep,
Who do no turn or marble tomb,
The winter seasons brave;
The simple bow'ers o'erspread bloom,
To deck the Stranger's Grave,
Who else reigns, and noiseless falls
The weary's lonely tread,
For St. Mark's, whose ancient walls
Are crumbling 'mong the dead.
There I've met! an evening's tide
The moon with light did never Gave a living light beside
The Stranger's Grave:
That perchance a wand'ring bee,
From its orange nest,
Found a blossom on the lea,
And humm'd itself to rest.
The lute of minstrel there,
Went of music gait;
Each had turn'd to shed a tear
O'er the Stranger's Grave.
I shall farewell! that tear, that hour,
By virtues will embalm,
As that on some moonlight bow'r,
So tenderly and calm,
I'm, on Memby's shore shall sweep
The forgetful waves;
Have the Broken Heart to weep,
O'er the Stranger's Grave.

Mount Vesuvius.

Naples, June, 1826.
Our visit to Vesuvius occupied greater part of the day. Wish to see the sun rise from the top of the mountain, we left Naples at 6 o'clock in the morning, taking care as far as the village of Portici nearly half the distance of the mountain or eight miles. At the hour of departure, the skies were free from clouds, but suffused with redness, giving to the moon and stars a fiery aspect. The city was once found in a state of perfect silence, and the lazzaroni, who had no business, snored quietly in their basili-
There was something peculiarly solemn in the hollow murmurs of the waves, at this witching time of night. Not a person was seen along the road, who permitted us to pass without molestation.
On arriving at Portici, or, more correctly, at Resina, a small contingent of us, roused up Salva-Madonna, the famous guide for Vesuvius, who rose with some reluctance, before he and his mules were sufficiently refreshed by the fruits of the labour of the preceding day. After rubbing open eyes, and taking an observation of the heathens, like old Palinurus, I had had come too early, and selected an unfortunate day, as the moon was blowing, and the mountain would be covered with clouds, would, however, accompany us, as our pleasure. Making due provision for his wish to finish his night's nap, and fearing that circumstances might be equally unfavorable on another morning, we decided to persevere in the excursion, and not for both.
The donkeys were saddled with all possible dispatch, and our caravan took up the line of march, to total darkness, as the day was not yet dawned, and the moon was down. But Salvatore probably performed the route without having been trained to such a feat, he led through a maze of the village, stringing along some distance up the acclivity,
