day, 10 o'clock, was saigned for their consideration:

4. It being at all times the right, and in times of peculiar excitement, the duty of the Representatives of the people, freely to express their opinion of public men and their measures, and the present posture of our national affairs requiring the expression of such opinion:

Be it therefore resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of New Hampshire, in General Court to roovened, That the Legislature of this State entertains the highest confidence in the talents, integrity, and public services of John Quincy Administration of the United States, and gives its cordial approbation of the general policy adopted, and the enlightened measures pursued in the Administration of the national government."

After a long and animated debate, the question, on the passage of the Preamble and Resolution, was indefinitely postponed, by a vote of 137 to 70. The question on postpone grace and slaughter; who rescued our country women from a fate as horrible as that which befel the fair daughters of Scio, and protected them too, in a manner which, while it secured the lasting gratitude of the virtue and beauty of the land, ended the war in a blaze of glory—can never betray them. And we firmly believe that, when the verdict of the people passes between Andrew Jackson and his traducers, which will be at no distant day, the defamers of this illustrious hero will be consigned to the depth of infamy, to which the base caluminators of Washington were hurled.
